Section 807. Employee Discipline

(a) Employment with the Seminole Nation and each case involving discipline will be handled on a case-by-case basis. All Directors/Supervisors are required to consult with the HR Director prior to imposing discipline. All staff receiving discipline shall be afforded due process.

(b) Types of discipline may include:

(1) Suspension.

(A) Under no circumstances will a suspension exceed ten (10) working days.

These circumstances usually involve potential danger to the assets of the Nation, the employee, co-workers or the public, or the employee's inability to discharge assigned duties satisfactorily. In these situations, the issue is to be evaluated on a case-by-case basis and the following procedure is to be followed:

(i) Prior to an employee being suspended, the supervisor taking the action to suspend an employee will immediately notify the HR Director and prepare a written statement of action taken and the reasons for such action.

(ii) The Supervisor will prepare, together with the HR Director, the statement of charges and document any supporting evidence.

(ii) As soon as possible after the initial action, the HR Director will prepare written notification to the affected employee.

Section 809. Internal Dispute Resolution Policy

(a) An appropriate issue for internal dispute resolution is defined as an employee's expressed dissatisfaction concerning any interpretation or application of a work-related policy by management, supervisors, or other employees. Examples of issues which may be considered appropriate under this policy include but are not limited to:

(b) In an effort to provide employees with a method to resolve conflict within the workplace, the Seminole Nation has elected to implement this dispute resolution prior to and, in some cases, in lieu of the grievance process. It is the policy of the Seminole Nation to afford all eligible employees who have been subject to discrimination or harassment a means of having the circumstances of such action reviewed by an impartial and objective mediator. The HR Director will take all reasonable steps to investigate all complaints. The HR Director will conduct mediations by facilitating discussions between parties requesting the assistance of the HR Director in resolving their disputes in accordance with the HR Department's rules and procedures for mediation.

Section 810. Grievances

(a) Employees may seek administrative review only for alleged discrimination, work related issues and harassment. The Seminole Nation Personnel Board's purpose is to hear employment related issues, known as grievances, in order to efficiently resolve such actions.

(b) The HR Director will take all reasonable steps to investigate any incident, which has resulted in disciplinary action. As Seminole Nation is an employer, all eligible employees who have been subject to suspension or termination cannot grieve their termination.

(c) Initial probationary or temporary employees may not grieve on any matters, save those listed in paragraph (a), above.

(d) Performance Evaluations may not be grieved, and may not be reviewed under the administrative review process.

(e) Employees are entitled to grieve all matters, except termination, to the Personnel Board, if not resolved in the internal dispute resolution process.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2015-06, July 25, 2015; amended by TO 2019-01 until a Personnel Board is nominated and constitutes a quorum, January 26, 2019.]

Section 811. Notification of Disciplinary Action

(a) At the time an employee is notified of disciplinary action, the employee shall be advised of his or her right to a hearing before the Seminole Nation Personnel Board.

(b) Request for a Hearing. An employee must request a hearing within five (5) business days of the date the disciplinary action was taken. At the time the employee requests a hearing, he or she must inform the HR Department if he or she is to be represented by an attorney. If so, the attorney must also file for an appearance with Department of Human Resources within five (5) days of the date the employee requested a hearing. Failure to request the hearing within this time frame will result in the forfeiture of a hearing by the Board.

(c) Any reference to improper or overturned disciplinary action may be removed from the employee's personnel file, or notice that such disciplinary action was overturned will be clearly noted on the record of such action such that it cannot be used in progressive discipline or be otherwise held against the employee for future references.

Section 812. Smoking Policy

(a) It is the policy of the Nation to voluntarily comply with all applicable federal and local regulations regarding smoking in the workplace and to provide a work environment that promotes productivity and the well-being of all its employees.

(b) The employer recognizes that smoking in the work place can adversely affect employees. Accordingly, smoking is restricted at all of its facilities, except where designated as a smoking area within 50 feet of any entrance.

(c) The Human Resources Department is responsible for implementing smoking regulations, and supervisors are expected to monitor and enforce such regulations.

(d) Employees are expected to exercise common courtesy and to respect the needs and sensitivities of co-workers. Smokers have a special obligation to keep designated smoking areas litter-free and not to abuse break and work rules. Complaints about smoking issues should be resolved at the lowest level possible, but may be processed through the employer's grievance procedures. Employees who violate the policy will be subject to disciplinary action.

(e) The employer, however, will not discriminate against individuals on the basis of their use of legal products, such as tobacco.

Section 813. Participation in Community Affairs

(a) It is the policy of the employer to encourage employees to participate in the community service affairs of charitable, educational, religious, fraternal, and civic organizations.

(b) Employee participation in community activities must not adversely affect the employee's job performance, be detrimental to the employer's interests, or place the employee in the position of serving conflicting interests.

(c) Time spent on community affairs, when not undertaken at the request of management, should normally be outside of the employee's regular working hours and, therefore, will not be considered hours of work for pay purposes.

(d) The employer may identify certain community activities in which it wants to be represented, and then designate the employees it will sponsor for participation or membership in such organizations. Employees so designated will represent the employer in the organization and will be expected to promote the employer's interests. Under these circumstances, time spent on the community activity will be considered hours worked for pay purposes.

(e) Employee-initiated participation in community affairs that involves an extended period of time away from the job should be handled in accordance with the provisions contained in the "Leaves of Absence" section(s).

(f) Employees have a responsibility, when expressing opinions in a public forum, to make clear whether the opinion is a personal one or one representing the employer. The Principal Chief or authorized designee must approve, in advance, any public communication that might be considered as representing the employer's position on an issue. Employees are not to engage in discussions concerning band meetings, or any other political topics or to discuss internal confidential affairs in any public forum.

(g) Employees planning to campaign for, seek, or accept appointment to public office must give prior notice of their intentions to their immediate Supervisor and the Human Resources Department. The Human Resources Department will review with the employee the employer's continuing requirements to avoid conflicts of interest and to maintain satisfactory attendance, effort, and performance standards. Employees engaging in political activities must do so as individuals on their own time, not as representatives of the employer, and may make no representations otherwise.

Section 904. Roles and Responsibilities

- (a) Chief of Staff, Program Directors, supervisory staff, and Program Managers are responsible for carrying out the requirements of this policy within their areas of responsibility.
- (b) Managers, supervisors, and Program Directors must:
  - (1) Carefully consider whether duties and responsibilities assigned to an employee require the operation of a Nation owned or leased motor vehicle, commercial motor vehicle, rental motor vehicle, or privately owned or privately leased motor vehicle in the performance of official or contractual duties, responsibilities or activities, including duties of record and other duties assigned or historically assigned to such positions or activities.
  - (2) Ensure that each Tribal motor vehicle operator under their supervision possesses a valid driver's license that indicates State authorization to operate the class of vehicle required in the performance of duties. This responsibility is met by ensuring each employee completes the annual authorization process described in section 906 of this Policy, which includes a requirement to conduct an annual review of the employee's current license and a current motor vehicle driving record. If at any time the supervisor has a concern with an employee's driving record, he or she will initiate a review of the employee's driving record. Failure to meet this responsibility may result in disciplinary action against the supervisor.

- (3) Ensure that all term contracts and commercial contracts under their administration, at the time of contract renewal, include certification from the contractors certifying that they will self-administer and ensure compliance with the requirements of this policy.
- (4) Based on available information, ensure no authorization is given to individuals with restricted driving privileges (i.e., home to work licenses).
- (5) Ensure that no motor vehicle operator is permitted to operate a Nation owned or leased motor vehicle, commercial motor vehicle, rental motor vehicle and/or privately owned or leased motor vehicle in the performance of official duties while:
  - (A) Intoxicated by ingesting controlled substances or consuming intoxicating beverages, including any impairment resulting from the use of prescription or over-the-counter drugs;

  - (2) Take appropriate actions to investigate allegations of employee's alcohol or drug abuse problem or a history of unsafe driving, regardless of whether or not the employee has ever been charged with an offense. Supervisors may at their discretion, consider a pattern of unsafe driving acts as a factor in determining whether an employee meets driver qualifications. (For example, an employee is convicted of DWI or other unsafe driving practices over a 10-year period, with DWI arrest longer than three-years preceding their submittal of a Seminole Nation Driving Request Form, Motor Vehicle Operator's License and Driving Record).

(e) Employees, generally, have responsibility to inform supervisors of operator incidences or behaviors that would be considered covered by this policy or represent unsafe driving behavior. All employees share an affirmative duty to ensure our vehicles are used properly by responsible individuals who have a high regard for both personal and public safety while operating a Tribal vehicle.

(b) All employees and term contract employees must annually submit to their supervisor a Seminole Nation Driving Request Form, Motor Vehicle Operator's License and Driving Record to renewal. In completing the form, individuals will provide a response to all questions (Section II) and certify that their statements are true and correct to the best of their knowledge (Section III).

(c) Supervisors will review the Driving Request Form for accuracy and completeness, complete and sign Section IV – Supervisory Review, and forward to the appropriate safety office for the receipt of application.

(d) The appropriate safety office will review the submitted forms and request a copy of the applicant's driving record from the appropriate State motor vehicle office(s) and if appropriate and where feasible, the tribal court where employees primarily operate motor vehicles within that tribal jurisdiction.

(e) Upon a receipt of a favorable review of the driving record, the safety officer will complete Section V – Certification of Eligibility and Authorization, sign and date, certifying that the individual meets Tribal driver qualifications.

(f) Supervisors are reminded that they may be personally liable if they authorized an employee to operate a motor vehicle on Tribal business if an employee is determined not to be qualified by virtue of failing to meet qualification standards.

[HISTORY: Enacted by Ordinance TO 2008-08, April 8, 2008; renumbered by TO 2015-06, July 25, 2015; renumbered from Section 820 to Section 907 on August 26, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 908. Motor Vehicle Operation Policy Guidance

(a) All positions must include a determination, in consultation with the appropriate Human Resources Office, of whether the incumbent of the position will be required to have a valid driver's license, possibly with endorsements, because of the requirement that they regularly operate Tribal vehicles or equipment to perform the duties of the position they encumber. Alternately, certain positions that may require occasional driving, but not regular driving must be designated as such. The following conditions apply to positions that require regular driving and the position descriptions for these positions must incorporate these requirements:

- (1) Applicants for such positions cannot be officially hired until it is determined that their driving record would not preclude their driving of Tribal vehicles. This shall be based on a review of an applicant's driving record; the applicant will provide an original abstract or document evidencing their current driving record from their state of residence for which the applicant is responsible for the cost.
- (2) Incumbents of such positions who cannot be authorized to drive because of a conviction for an offense listed in section 904(b)(6) of the Policy, cannot remain in the position they encumber and necessary corrective action must be taken to resolve the employee's inability to drive. The determination of the appropriate corrective action shall be made in consultation with the Human Resources Office.
- (3) The driving privileges of incumbents of such positions arrested for an offense listed in section 904(b)(6) shall have their driving privileges immediately terminated.

(b) Reckless driving convictions or arrests resulting from a drug or alcohol related offense require compliance with the wording of the Policy in section 904(b)(6). Reckless driving offenses unrelated to drugs or alcohol will be considered as not requiring mandatory termination of driving privileges, but under the standard of whether or not the supervisor determines the employee is an unsafe driver based upon the employee's driving or criminal record for the 10 years preceding submittal of the Driving Request Form, that would cause a supervisor to question the employee's ability for safe and prudent driving while on Tribal business.

(c) If a motor vehicle operator's driving privileges are terminated upon a DUI charge pending conviction and if the Operator cannot perform required job duties without driving, the employee may be temporarily accommodated, if practical, through:

- (1) Temporary revision of job duties. A revision of job duties will be deemed practical if the employee can perform the majority of job duties without driving.
- (2) A temporary re-assignment to an available position that does not require driving. A determination of practicability for re-assignment will be whether or not the employee meets minimum qualifications for re- assignment to an available position.
- (3) Administrative leave only if a revision of job duties or a re-assignment is not practical due to a concern that the employee would potentially cause harm to Tribal equipment, records or other individuals.
- (4) An indefinite suspension of the employee if the charge could result in the employee facing incarceration in a State, Federal or Tribal facility for any length of time.

(d) A reasonable time frame for a temporary revision of duties, re-assignment, administrative leave or suspension period is 120 days. If the charge causing the termination of driving privileges is not resolved within 120 days, the employee's supervisor will consult with the Human Resources Office to initiate corrective action.

(e) Upon a final conviction of an employee that must drive to perform job duties and therefore no longer meets the requirements of the position the employee permanently encumbers, the supervisor will commence taking corrective action by contacting their servicing Human Resources Office.

(f) If the charge is defeated, the employee will be reinstated to original position with driving privileges restored, provided the employee does not have other arrests or convictions that would preclude them from being authorized to drive. If the employee had been on an indefinite suspension, the employee will not be compensated for wages lost.

(g) No supervisor may authorize/allow an employee to drive/operate any Tribal vehicle without the written concurrence of the appropriate Safety Officer.

(h) The Policy requires managers and supervisors to ensure that all term contracts and commercial contracts under their administration, at the time of contract renewal, include certification from the contractors certifying that they will self-administer and ensure compliance with the requirements of this policy. For P.L. 638 Contacts and Self-governance compacts, the Policy does not apply unless the contract includes a provision mandating compliance with the Policy.

(i) While a Tribal Court has no ability to revoke a State issued driver's license, all employees are required to report all driving related charges and/or convictions in Tribal Courts on the Driving Request Form. The appropriate safety office will review the submitted forms and request the applicant's driving record from the appropriate State motor vehicle office and appropriate Tribal Court. If the Tribal court refuses to provide the applicant's driving record to the safety office, the safety office will request that the employee/applicant submit a written request to the appropriate Tribal court within 10 days of the safety office's request. The employee/applicant must provide a copy of the written request to the safety office also within 10 days. A failure or inability to obtain actual court records will not preclude taking corrective action for an arrest or conviction, an employee's report of such an offense is sufficient to proceed with corrective action.

(j) The Policy mandates that managers and supervisor must:

- (1) Carefully consider whether driving is necessary for all positions and amend position descriptions accordingly.
- (2) Ensure that each tribal motor vehicle operator meets requirements for authorization while on Tribal business.
- (3) Conduct annual review of the employee's current license and current motor vehicle driving record.
- (4) Enforce the Policy.

(k) Any manager or supervisor who fails to comply with the requirements and enforcement provisions of this Policy will be subject to disciplinary action or adverse action.

(l) The following reporting requirement for all supervisors is immediately imposed: supervisors will report within one business day, through their chain of command, any and all arrests or convictions of a subordinate employee that impacts their ability to operate a Tribal vehicle. Each Program Director will maintain an active listing of affected employees, which shall be readily available, with a current updated status.

The Commission's decision shall be in writing, shall be served on the charged party by registered mail or in person no later than thirty (30) days after the close of the hearing provided in § 121(e). Where the party's failure to comply immediately with the Commission's orders may cause irreparable harm, the Commission may move the Nation's District Court for, and the District Court shall grant, such injunctive relief as necessary to preserve the rights of the beneficiaries of this Act, pending the party's appeal or expiration of the time for appeal.

For example, such additional pollutants may include:

Chemical oxygen demand

Total organic carbon

Phosphorus and phosphorus compounds

Nitrogen and nitrogen compounds

Fats, oils and greases of animal or vegetable origin except those prohibited below

- (a) Pollutants and wastes which create a fire or explosion hazard in the works;
- (b) Pollutants or wastes which will cause corrosive structural damage to the treatment works, however, in no case, pollutants or wastes with a pH lower than 5.0, unless the works can accommodate such pollutants and wastes as determined and certified by the designing engineers or other duly qualified official person or agency authorized by the Seminole Nation of Oklahoma;
- (c) Solid or viscous wastes or pollutants in amounts which would cause obstruction to the flow in sewers, or other interference with the proper operation of the treatment works;

(d) Wastes at a flow rate and/or pollutant discharge rate which is excessive over relatively short time periods such that there is a treatment process upset and subsequent loss of treatment efficiency; and

(e) Antimony, Arsenic, Barium, Beryllium, Bismuth, Boron, Cadmium, Chromium, Chromium (Tri), Cobalt, Copper, Iron, Lead, Manganese, Mercury, Molybdenum, Nickel, Rhenium, Selenium, Silver, Strontium Tellurium Tin, Uranyl ion and Zinc.

TITLE 13
EVIDENCE CODE
CHAPTER ONE
GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 101. Title

This Title may be known and cited as the Rules of Evidence, or the Evidence Code of the Seminole Nation of Oklahoma.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 102. Scope

This Title governs evidentiary questions in all proceedings in the Courts of the Seminole Nation of Oklahoma, whether civil, criminal, juvenile, or otherwise, except as may be otherwise specifically provided by applicable law.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 103. Purpose and Construction

This Title shall be construed to secure fairness in administration, elimination of unjustifiable expense and delay, and promotion of growth and development of the law of evidence to the end that the truth may be ascertained and proceedings justly determined.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 104. Definitions

This Title incorporates all terms defined in section 2 of Title 5 unless indicated otherwise.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 105. Rulings on Evidence

(a) Effect of Erroneous Ruling. Error may not be predicated, nor a judgment reversed or modified, upon a ruling which admits or excludes evidence unless a substantial right of the party is affected, and:

- (1) Objection. In case the ruling is one admitting evidence, a timely objection or motion to strike appears of record, stating the specific ground of objection, if the specific ground was not apparent from the context; or

(2) Offer of Proof. In case the ruling is one excluding evidence, the substance of the evidence was made known to the court by offer of proof, or was apparent from the context within which questions were asked.

(b) Record of Offer and Ruling. The court may add any other or further statement which shows the character of the evidence, the form in which it was offered, the objection made, and the ruling thereon. It may direct the making of an offer in question and answer form.

(c) Hearing of Jury. In jury cases, proceedings shall be conducted, to the extent practicable, so as to prevent inadmissible evidence from being suggested to the jury by any means, such as making statements or offers of proof or asking questions in the hearing of the jury. Questions on evidentiary matters known to be in issue prior to trial may be determined by a hearing prior to trial, and the matter does not have to be raised at the trial by the party whose evidence is ruled inadmissible in order to preserve the error so long as the error is apparent from the transcript of the hearing. Questions which arise concerning the admissibility of evidence during the trial may be resolved in open Court, if practicable, at a hearing at the bench out of the hearing of the jury, or a recess may be taken and a hearing held upon the admissibility of the evidence at issue.

(d) Plain Error. Nothing in this section precludes taking notice of plain errors affecting substantial rights although they were not brought to the attention of the court.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 106. Preliminary Questions

(a) Questions of Admissibility Generally. Preliminary questions concerning the qualification of a person to be a witness, the existence of a privilege, or the admissibility of evidence shall be determined by the court, subject to the provisions of subdivision (b). In making its determination it is not bound by this Title except those provisions with respect to privileges.

(b) Relevancy Conditioned on Fact. When the relevancy of evidence depends upon the fulfillment of a condition of fact, the court shall admit it upon, or may admit it subject to, the introduction of evidence sufficient to support a finding of the fulfillment of the condition.

(c) Hearing of Jury. Hearings on the admissibility of confession in a criminal case shall in all cases be conducted out of the hearing of the jury. Hearing on other preliminary matters shall be so conducted when the interests of justice require or, when an accused in a criminal case is a witness, if he so requests.

(d) Testimony by Accused. The accused in a criminal case does not, by testifying upon a preliminary matter, or other matter which would be heard outside the hearing of the jury, if any, subject himself to cross-examination as to other issues in the case. The accused in a criminal case waives his right against self-incrimination as to all issues in the case by testifying upon any fact pertaining to any element of the charge against him during the actual trial of the case before the jury or other finder of fact.

(e) Weight and Credibility. This section does not limit the right of a party to introduce before the jury evidence relevant to weight or credibility.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 107. Limited Admissibility

When evidence which is admissible as to one party or for one purpose but not admissible as to another party or for another purpose is admitted, the court, upon request, shall restrict the evidence to its proper scope and instruct the jury accordingly.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 108. Remainder or Related Writings or Recorded Statements

When a writing or recorded statement or part thereof is introduced by a party, an adverse party may require him at that time to introduce any other part or any other writing or recorded statement which ought in fairness to be considered contemporaneously with it.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

CHAPTER TWO JUDICIAL NOTICE

Section 201. Judicial Notice of Adjudicative Facts

- (a) Scope of Chapter. This Chapter governs only judicial notice of adjudicative facts.
- (b) Kinds of Facts. A judicially noticed fact must be one not subject to reasonable dispute in that it is either
  - (1) generally known within the territorial jurisdiction of the court; or,
  - (2) capable of accurate and ready determination by resort to sources whose accuracy cannot reasonably be questioned.
- (c) When Discretionary. The court may take judicial notice of a fact, whether requested or not.
- (d) When Mandatory. The court shall take judicial notice if requested by a party and supplied with the necessary information, or when required to do so by applicable law.
- (e) Opportunity to be Heard. A party is entitled upon timely request to an opportunity to be heard as to the propriety of taking judicial notice and the tenor of the matter noticed. In the absence of prior notification, the request may be made after judicial notice has been taken.
- (f) Time of taking notice. Judicial notice may be taken at any stage of the proceeding.
- (g) Instructing jury. In a civil action or proceeding, the court shall instruct the jury to accept as conclusive any fact judicially noticed. In a criminal case, the court shall instruct the jury that it may, but is not required to, accept as conclusive any fact judicially noticed.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

CHAPTER THREE PRESUMPTIONS

Section 301. Presumptions in General

In all civil and criminal actions and proceedings, a presumption imposes upon the party against whom it is directed the burden of going forward with evidence to rebut or meet the presumption, but does not shift the risk of non-persuasion, which remains upon the party on whom it was originally cast.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

CHAPTER FOUR RELEVANCY AND ITS LIMITS

Section 401. Definition of Relevant Evidence

“Relevant evidence” means evidence having any tendency to make the existence of any fact that is of consequence to the determination of the action more probable or less probable than it would be without the evidence.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 402. Relevant Evidence Generally Admissible. Irrelevant Evidence Inadmissible

All relevant evidence is admissible, except as otherwise provided by applicable law or court rule. Evidence which is not relevant is not admissible.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 403. Exclusion of Relevant Evidence on Grounds of Prejudice, Confusion, or Waste of Time

Although relevant, evidence may be excluded if its probative value is substantially outweighed by the danger of unfair prejudice, confusion of the issues, or misleading the jury, or by considerations of undue delay, waste of time, or needless presentation of cumulative evidence, or if it is inadmissible pursuant to some section of this Title.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 404. Character Evidence Not Admissible to Prove Conduct; Exceptions: Other Crimes

(a) Character Evidence Generally. Evidence of a person’s character or a trait of his character is not admissible for the purpose of proving that he acted in conformity therewith on a particular occasion, except;

- (1) Character of Accused. Evidence of a pertinent trait of his character offered by an accused, or by the prosecution to rebut the same after the accused has offered such character evidence;
- (2) Character of Victim. Evidence of a pertinent trait of character of the victim of the crime offered by an accused, or by the prosecution to rebut the same after the accused has offered such character evidence, or evidence of a character trait of peacefulness of the victim offered by the prosecution in a homicide case to rebut evidence that the victim was the first aggressor;

- (3) Character of Witness. Evidence of the character of a witness, as provided in sections 607, 608, and 609 of this Title.
- (4) Other Crimes, Wrongs, or Acts. Evidence of other crimes, wrongs, or acts is not admissible to prove the character of a person in order to show that he acted in conformity therewith. It may, however, be admissible for other purposes, such as proof of motive, opportunity, intent, preparation, plan, knowledge, identity, or absence of mistake or accident.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 405. Methods of Proving Character

(a) Reputation or Opinion. In all cases in which evidence of character or a trait of character of a person is admissible, proof may be made by testimony as to reputation or by testimony in the form of an opinion. On cross-examination, inquiry is allowable into relevant specific instances of conduct.

(b) Specific Instances of Conduct. In cases in which character or a trait of character of a person is an essential element of a charge, claim or defense, proof may be offered of specific instances of the person's conduct.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 406. Habit, Routine Practice

Evidence of the habit of a person or of the routine practice of an organization, whether corroborated or not and regardless of the presence of eyewitnesses, is relevant to prove that the conduct of the person or organization on a particular occasion was in conformity with the habit or routine practice.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 407. Subsequent Remedial Measure

When after an event, measures are taken which, if taken previously, would have made the event less likely to occur, evidence of the subsequent measures is not admissible to prove negligence or culpable conduct in connection with the event, in order to encourage additional safety measures to be taken for the protection of the public whether or not the previous measures were sufficient to prevent a finding of negligent or culpable conduct. This section does not require the exclusion of evidence of subsequent measures when offered for another purpose, such as proving ownership, control, or feasibility of precautionary measures, if these matters are a matter of controversy or impeached by either party.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 408. Compromise and Offers to Compromise

(a) In order to encourage the non-judicial settlement of disputes, evidence is not admissible to prove liability for or invalidity of the claim or its amount if valuable consideration in compromising or attempting to compromise a claim which was disputed as to either validity or amount is offered in the following ways:

- (1) furnishing or offering or promising to furnish, or
- (2) accepting or offering or promising to accept.

(b) Evidence of conduct or statements made in compromise negotiations is likewise not admissible.

(c) This section does not require the exclusion of any evidence otherwise discoverable merely because it is presented in the course of compromise negotiations.

(d) This section also does not require exclusion when the evidence is offered for another purpose, such as proving bias or prejudice of a witness, negating a contention of undue delay, or proving an effort to obstruct a criminal investigation or prosecution.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 409. Payment of Medical and Similar Expenses

In order to encourage non-judicial settlement of disputes and to encourage persons to assist one another for their joint benefit, evidence of furnishing or offering or promising to pay, or the payment of medical, hospital, or similar expenses occasioned by an injury is not admissible to prove liability for the injury. Evidence of payment of such charges may be introduced by the person making such payment for the purpose of reducing a judgment for damages.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 410. Inadmissibility of Plea Offers, of Pleas, and Related Statements

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, evidence of a plea of guilty later withdrawn, or a plea of nolo contendere, or of any offer to plead guilty or nolo contendere to the crime charged or any other crime, or of statements made in connection with, and relevant to, any of the foregoing pleas or offers, is not admissible in any civil or criminal proceeding against the person who made the plea or offer.

(b) However, evidence of a statement made in connection with, and relevant to, a plea of guilty later withdrawn, a plea of nolo contendere, or an offer to plead guilty or nolo contendere to the crime charged or any other crime, is admissible in a criminal proceeding for perjury or false statement if the statement was made by the defendant under oath, on the record, and in the presence of counsel.

(c) A plea of guilty which has not been withdrawn, and statements made in connection with the plea are admissible if relevant in any criminal or civil proceeding.

Section 507. Trade Secrets

A person has a privilege, which may be claimed by him or his agent or employee, to refuse to disclose and to prevent other persons from disclosing a trade secret owned by him, if the allowance of the privilege will not tend to conceal fraud or otherwise work injustice. If disclosure is directed, the court shall take such protective measures as the interest of the holder of the privilege and of the parties and the interests of justice require.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 508. Secrets of the Nation and Other Official Information: Governmental Privileges

(a) If the law of the United States creates a governmental privilege that the courts of this Nation must recognize under the Constitution and statutes of the United States, the privilege may be claimed as provided by the law of the United States.

- (1) No other special governmental privilege is recognized except as created by applicable law.
- (2) Privileges Recognized. The following governmental privileges are recognized:

- (A) Elected members of the General Council have a privilege against disclosure of their mental processes and reasoning in the casting of any vote by them at a duly constituted meeting of that body, except in cases where it is alleged that unlawful influence or bribery or attempted bribery was involved in that vote. This privilege may be claimed only by the member and is waived if the member testifies as to such matters.
  - (B) Justices, judges and similar judicial officers have a privilege against disclosure of their mental processes and reasoning in the determination of any matter before them in any proceeding collateral to that matter, except in a collateral proceeding where it is alleged that unlawful influence or bribery or attempted bribery was involved in the underlying matter. The explanation and reasons for the decision of judicial officers which should appear on the record shall be sufficient. This section shall not preclude the Supreme Court from remanding an action to a judge for further findings of fact or conclusions of law in order to obtain an adequate record for review or to determine all issues necessary to a decision in a case.
  - (C) Governmental officers charged with the institution of legal proceedings before any agency of the Nation or the Courts to enforce the Nation's laws have a privilege against disclosure of their mental processes and reasoning in the determination of any matter brought before them for a decision as to whether or not to institute such legal proceedings.
- (3) Effect of Sustaining Claim. If a claim of governmental privilege is sustained and it appears that a party is thereby deprived of material evidence, the court shall make any further order the interests of justice require, including striking the testimony of a witness, declaring a mistrial, finding against the Government upon an issue as to which the evidence is relevant, or dismissing the action.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012; subsection numbering scheme modified on August 26, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 509. Identity of Informer

(a) Rule of Privilege. The Nation, the United States, or a state, or a subdivision thereof having police powers has a privilege to refuse to disclose the identity of a person who has furnished information relating to or assisting in an investigation of a possible violation of a law to a law enforcement officer or member of a legislative committee or its staff conducting an investigation.

- (1) Who May Claim. The privilege may be claimed by an appropriate representative of the public entity to which the information was furnished.
- (2) Exceptions:
  - (A) Voluntary Disclosure; Informer a Witness. No privilege exists under this section if the identity of the informer or his interest in the subject matter of his communication has been disclosed to those who would have cause to resent or be adversely affected by the communication by a holder of the privilege or by the informer's own action, or if the informer appears as a witness for the government.
  - (B) Testimony on Relevant Issue. If it appears in the case that an informer may be able to give testimony relevant to any issue in a criminal case or to a fair determination of a material issue on the merits in a civil case to which a public entity is a party, and the informed public entity invokes the privilege, the court shall give the public entity an opportunity to show in camera facts relevant to determining whether the informer can, in fact, supply that testimony. The showing will ordinarily be in the form of affidavits, but the court may direct that testimony be taken if it finds that the matter cannot be resolved satisfactorily upon affidavit. If the court finds that there is a reasonable probability that the informer can give the testimony, and the public entity elects not to disclose his identity, in criminal cases the court on motion of the defendant or on its own motion shall grant appropriate relief, which may include one or more of the following:
    - (i) requiring the prosecuting attorney to comply with a defense request for relevant information;
    - (ii) granting the defendant additional time or a continuance;
    - (iii) relieving the defendant from making disclosures otherwise required of him;
    - (iv) prohibiting the prosecuting attorney from introducing specific evidence; or
    - (v) dismissing the charges against the defendant.

In civil cases, the court may make any order the interests of justice require. Evidence submitted to the court in camera shall be sealed and preserved to be made available to the Supreme Court in the event of an appeal, and the contents shall not otherwise be revealed without the consent of the informed public entity.

- (3) All counsel and parties are permitted to be present at every stage of proceedings under this subdivision except a showing in camera at which no counsel or party shall be permitted to be present.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012; subsection numbering scheme modified on August 26, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 510. Waiver of Privilege by Voluntary Disclosure

A person upon whom this Chapter confers a privilege against disclosure waives the privileges if he or his predecessor, while holder of the privilege, voluntarily discloses or consents to disclosure of any significant part of the privileged matter. This section does not apply if the disclosure itself is privileged.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 512. Comment Upon and Inference from Claim of Privilege: Instruction

(a) Comment or Inference not Permitted. The claim of a privilege, whether in the present proceeding or upon a prior occasion, is not a proper subject of comment by judge or counsel. No inference may be drawn from the claim of privilege.

(b) Claiming Privilege without Knowledge of Jury. In jury cases, proceedings shall be conducted, to the extent practicable, so as to facilitate the making of claims of privilege without the knowledge of the jury.

(c) Jury Instruction. Upon request, any party against whom the jury might draw an adverse inference from a claim of privilege is entitled to an instruction that no inference may be drawn from the claim.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

This section is subject to provisions of section 703 of this Title, relating to opinion testimony by expert witnesses.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 603. Oath or Affirmation

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 604. Interpreters

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 605. Competency of Judge as Witness

The judge presiding at the trial may not testify in that trial as a witness. No objection need be made in order to preserve the point.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 606. Competency of Juror as Witness

(a) At the Trial. A member of the jury may not testify as a witness before that jury in the trial of the case in which he is sitting as a juror. If he is called to testify, the opposing party shall be afforded an opportunity to object out of the presence of the jury.

(b) Inquiry into Validity of Verdict or Indictment. Upon an inquiry into the validity of a verdict or indictment, a juror may not testify as to any matter or statement occurring during the course of the jury's deliberations or to the effect of anything upon his or any other juror's mind or emotions as influencing him to assent to or dissent from the verdict or concerning his mental processes in connection therewith, except that a juror may testify on the question whether extraneous prejudicial information was improperly brought to the jury's attention, whether the jury determined the verdict, amount of damages, sentence or other matter relevant to a determination of the issues in the case by flipping a coin, or other method determined by chance, or whether any outside influence was improperly brought to bear upon any juror. Nor may his affidavit or evidence of any statement by him concerning a matter about which he would be precluded from testifying be received for these purposes.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012; subsection numbering scheme modified on August 26, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 607. Who May Impeach

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 608. Evidence of Character and Conduct of Witness

(a) Opinion and Reputation Evidence of Character. The credibility of a witness may be attacked or supported by evidence in the form of opinion or reputation, but subject to these limitations:

- (1) the evidence may refer only to character for truthfulness or untruthfulness, and
- (2) evidence of truthful character is admissible only after the character of the witness for truthfulness has been attacked by opinion or reputation evidence or otherwise.

(b) Special Instances of Conduct. Specific instances of the conduct of a witness, for the purpose of attacking or supporting his credibility, other than conviction of crime as provided in section 609, may not be proved by extrinsic evidence. Specific instances of conduct may, however, in the discretion of the Court, if probative of truthfulness or untruthfulness, be inquired into on cross-examination of the witness such as the following:

- (1) concerning the character of the witness for truthfulness or untruthfulness;
or
- (2) concerning the character for truthfulness or untruthfulness of another witness as to which character the witness being cross-examined has testified.

(c) Special Rule for Criminal Cases. The giving of testimony, whether by an accused or by any other witness, does not operate as a waiver of his privilege against self-incrimination when examined with respect to matters which relate only to credibility.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 609. Impeachment by Evidence of Conviction of Crime

(a) General Rule. For the purpose of attacking the credibility of a witness, evidence that he has been convicted of a crime shall be admitted if elicited from him or established by public record during cross-examination but only if the crime met one of the following criteria:

- (1) was punishable by death or imprisonment in excess of one (1) year under a federal or state law, under which he was convicted, and the court determines that the probative value of admitting this evidence outweighs its prejudicial effect to the defendant (if it is the defendant in a criminal case whose credibility is being questioned); or
- (2) involved dishonesty or false statement, regardless of the punishment or jurisdiction involved; or
- (3) was punishable by banishment or imprisonment for six (6) months or more, or is otherwise classified as a serious offense under the laws of an Indian Tribe in whose courts the conviction was obtained.

(b) Time Limit. Evidence of a conviction under this section is not admissible if a period of more than ten (10) years has lapsed since the date of the conviction or of the release of the witness from the confinement or other punishment imposed for that conviction, whichever is the later date, unless the court determines, in the interests of justice, that the probative value of the conviction supported by specific facts and circumstances substantially outweighs its prejudicial effect. However, evidence of a conviction more than ten (10) years old as calculated herein, is not admissible unless the proponent gives the adverse party sufficient advance written notice of intent to use such evidence to provide the adverse party with a fair opportunity to contest the use of such evidence. Subject to subsection (c) of this section and the discretion of the court, such convictions are admissible if other admissible convictions not ten (10) years old as calculated herein have occurred since the conviction in question.

(c) Effect of Pardon, Annulment, or Certificate of Rehabilitation. Evidence of a conviction is not admissible under this section if one of the following has occurred:

- (1) the conviction has been the subject of a pardon, annulment, certificate of rehabilitation, or other equivalent procedure based on a finding of the rehabilitation of the person convicted, and that person has not been convicted of a subsequent crime which would be admissible under subparagraph (a) above; or
- (2) the conviction has been the subject of a pardon, annulment, or other equivalent procedure based on a finding of innocence.

(d) Juvenile Adjudications. Evidence of juvenile adjudications is generally not admissible under this section. The court may, however, in a criminal case allow evidence of a juvenile adjudication of a witness, other than the accused, if conviction of the offense would be admissible to attack the credibility of an adult and the court is satisfied that admission in evidence is necessary for a fair determination of the issue of guilt or innocence of the accused.

(e) Pendency of Appeal. The pendency of an appeal does not render evidence of a conviction inadmissible. Evidence of the pendency of an appeal is admissible when evidence of the underlying convictions in the case, has been introduced.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 610. Religious Beliefs or Opinions

Evidence of the beliefs or opinions of a witness on matters of religion is not admissible for the purpose of showing that by reasons of their nature his credibility is impaired or enhanced.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 611. Mode and Order of Interrogation and Presentation

(a) Control by Court. The court shall exercise reasonable control over the mode and order of interrogating witnesses and presenting evidence so as to:

- (1) make the interrogation and presentation effective for the ascertainment of the truth;
- (2) avoid needless consumption of time; and
- (3) protect witnesses from unnecessary harassment or undue embarrassment.

(b) Scope of Cross-Examination. Cross-examination should be limited to the subject matter of the direct examination and matters affecting the credibility of the witness. The court may, in the exercise of discretion, permit inquiry into additional matters as if on direct examination.

(c) Leading Questions. A leading question is ordinarily a question which calls for a yes or no answer. Leading questions should not be used on the direct examination of a witness except as may be necessary to develop his testimony. Ordinarily leading questions should be permitted on cross-examination. When a party calls a child of young age, or other person who may have significant trouble understanding questions due to age, infirmity, lack of understanding of the English language, or other cause, a hostile witness, an adverse party, or a witness identified with an adverse party, interrogation may be by leading questions.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 612. Writing Used to Refresh Memory

(a) If a witness uses a writing to refresh his memory either while testifying or before testifying, an adverse party is entitled to have the writing produced at the hearing, to inspect it, to cross-examine the witness thereon, and to introduce in evidence those portions which relate to the testimony of the witness.

(b) If it is claimed that the writing contains matters not related to the subject matter of the testimony the court shall examine the writing in camera, exercise any portions not so related and order delivery of the remainder to the party entitled thereto. Any portion withheld over objections shall be preserved and made available to the Supreme Court in the event of an appeal.

(c) If a writing is not produced or delivered pursuant to order of the court under this section, the court shall make any order justice requires, except that in criminal cases when the prosecution elects not to comply, the court may declare a mistrial.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 613. Prior Statements of Witnesses

(a) Examining Witness Concerning Prior Statements. In examining a witness concerning a prior statement made by him, whether written or not, the statement need not be shown nor its contents disclosed to him at that time, but on request the same shall be shown or disclosed to opposing counsel.

(b) Extrinsic Evidence of Prior Inconsistent Statements of Witness. Extrinsic evidence of a prior inconsistent statement by a witness is not admissible unless the witness is afforded an opportunity to explain or deny the same and the opposing party is afforded an opportunity to interrogate him thereon, or the interests of justice otherwise require. This provision does not apply to admissions of a party opponent as defined in section 801(d)(2) of this Title.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 614. Calling and Interrogation of Witnesses by Court

(a) Calling by Court. The court may, on its own motion or at the suggestion of a party, call witnesses, and all parties are entitled to cross-examine witnesses so called.

- (1) Interrogation by Court. The court may interrogate witnesses, whether called by itself or by a party.
- (2) Objections. Objections to the calling of witnesses by the court or to interrogation by it may be made at the time or at the next available opportunity when the jury is not present. Ordinarily, the court should exercise its authority to call or question witnesses with great restraint in jury trial.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 615. Exclusion of Witness

At the request of a party, the court shall order witnesses excluded so that they cannot hear the testimony of other witnesses, and it may make the order of its own motion. The request to exclude witnesses may be made by a party by requesting that the court “invoke the rule” or words of similar import. This rule does not authorize exclusion of the following:

- (a) a party who is a natural person, or
- (b) an officer or employee of a party, designated as its representative by its attorney, when the party is not a natural person, or
- (c) a person whose presence is shown by a party to be essential to the presentation of the cause.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

CHAPTER SEVEN

OPINIONS AND EXPERT TESTIMONY

Section 701. Opinion Testimony by Lay Witnesses

If the witness is not testifying as an expert, his testimony in the form of opinion or inferences is limited to those opinions or inferences which are found to be the following:

- (a) rationally based on the perception of the witness;
- (b) helpful to a clear understanding of his testimony or the determination of a fact in issue; and
- (c) upon a subject which it is presumed that the general public has sufficient knowledge to reach a reasonable opinion, conclusion, or inference.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 702. Testimony by Experts

If scientific, technical, or other specialized knowledge will assist the court to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue, a witness qualified as an expert by knowledge, skill, experience, training, or education, may testify thereto in the form of an opinion or otherwise.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 703. Bases of Opinion Testimony by Experts

The facts or data in the particular case upon which an expert bases an opinion or inference may be those perceived by or made known to him at or before the hearing. If of a type reasonably relied upon by experts in the particular field in forming opinions or inferences upon the subject, the facts or data need not be admissible in evidence.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 704. Opinion on Ultimate Issue

Testimony in the form of an opinion or inference otherwise admissible is not objectionable because it embraces an ultimate issue to be decided by court.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 705. Disclosure of Facts or Data Underlying Expert Opinion

The expert may testify in terms of opinion or inference and give his reasons therefore without prior disclosure of the underlying facts or data, unless the court requires otherwise. The expert may in any event be required to disclose the underlying facts or data on cross-examination.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 706. Court Appointed Experts

(a) Appointment. The Court may, on its own motion or on the motion of any party, enter an order to show cause why expert witnesses should not be appointed, and may request the parties to submit nominations. The Court may appoint any expert witnesses agreed upon by the parties, and may appoint expert witnesses of its own selection. An expert witness shall not be appointed by the court unless he consents to act as an expert witness. A witness so appointed shall be informed of his duties by the court in writing, a copy of which shall be filed with the clerk, or at a conference in which the parties shall have opportunity to participate. A witness so appointed shall advise the parties of his findings, if any; his deposition may be taken by any party; and he may be called to testify by the court or any party. He shall be subject to cross-examination by each party, including a party calling him as a witness.

(b) Compensation. Expert witnesses so appointed are entitled to reasonable compensation in whatever sum the court may allow. The compensation thus fixed is payable from the Court Fund, said fund to be reimbursed by the parties in such proportion and at such time as the court directs, and thereafter charged in like manner as other costs.

(c) Disclosure of Appointment. In the exercise of its discretion, the court may authorize disclosure to the jury of the fact that the court appointed the expert witness.

(d) Parties' Experts of Own Selection. Nothing in this section limits the parties in calling expert witnesses of their own selection and to be compensated at their own expense.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

- (b) Excited Utterance. A statement relating to a startling event or condition made while the declarant was under the stress of excitement caused by the event or condition.
- (c) Then Existing Mental, Emotional, or Physical Condition. A statement of the declarant's then existing state of mind, emotion, sensation, or physical condition (such as intent, plan, motive, design, mental feeling, pain, and bodily health), but not including a statement of memory or belief to prove the fact remembered or believed unless it relates to the execution, revocation, identification, or terms of declarant's will.
- (d) Statements for Purposes of Medical Diagnosis or Treatment. Statements made for purposes of medical diagnosis or treatment and describing medical history, or past or present symptoms, pain, or sensations, or the inception, or general character of the cause or external source thereof insofar as reasonably pertinent to diagnosis or treatment.
- (e) Recorded Recollection. A memorandum or record concerning a matter about which a witness once had knowledge but now has insufficient recollection to enable him to testify fully and accurately, shown to have been made or adopted by the witness when the matter was fresh in his memory and to reflect that knowledge correctly. If admitted, the memorandum or record may be read into evidence but may not itself be received as an exhibit unless offered by an adverse party.

(f) Records of Regularly Conducted Activity. A memorandum, report, record, or data compilation, in any form, concerning acts, events, conditions, opinions, or diagnoses, made at or near the time by, or from information transmitted by, a person with knowledge, if kept in the course of a regularly conducted business activity, and if it was the regular practice of that business activity to make the memorandum, report, record, or data compilation, all as shown by the testimony of the custodian or other qualified witness, unless the source of information or the method or circumstances of preparation indicate lack of trustworthiness. The term “business” as used in this paragraph includes business, institution, association, profession, occupation, and calling of every kind, whether or not conducted for profit.

(g) Absence of Entry in Records Kept in Accordance with the Provisions of subsection (f) of this Section. Evidence that a matter is not included in the memoranda reports, records, or data compilations, in any form, kept in accordance with the provision of subsection (f), to prove the non-occurrence or nonexistence of the matter, if the matter was of a kind of which a memorandum, report, record, or data compilation was regularly made and preserved, unless the sources of information or other circumstances indicate lack of trustworthiness.

(h) Public Records and Reports. Records, reports, statements, or data compilations, in any form, of public offices or agencies, setting forth:

- (1) the activities of the office or agency, or
- (2) matters observed pursuant to duty imposed by law as to which matters there was a duty to report, excluding, however, in criminal cases matters observed by police officers and other law enforcement personnel, or
- (3) in civil actions and proceedings, and against the Government in criminal cases, factual findings resulting from an investigation made pursuant to authority granted by law, unless the sources of information or other circumstances indicate lack of trustworthiness.

(i) Records of Vital Statistics. Records or data compilations, in any form, of birth, fetal deaths, deaths, or marriages, if the report thereof was made to a public office pursuant to requirements of law.

(j) Absence of Public Record or Entry. To prove the absence of a record, report, statement, or data compilation, in any form, was regularly made and preserved by a public office or agency, evidence in the form of a certification in accordance with section 902, or testimony, that diligent search failed to disclose the record, report, statement, or data compilation, or entry.

(k) Records of Religious Organizations. Statements of births, marriages, divorces, deaths, legitimacy, ancestry, relationship by blood, marriage, or other similar acts of personal or family history, contained in regularly kept record of a religious organization.

(l) Marriage, Baptismal, and Similar Certificates. Statements of fact contained in a certificate that the maker performed a marriage or other ceremony or administered a sacrament, made by a clergyman, public official, or other person authorized by the rules or practices of a religious organization or by law to perform the act certified, and purporting to have been issued at the time of the act or within a reasonable time thereafter.

(m) Family Records. Statements of fact concerning personal or family history contained in family Bibles, genealogies, charts, engravings on rings, inscriptions on family portraits, engravings on urns, crypts, or tombstones, or the like.

(n) Records of Documents Affecting an Interest in Property. The record of a document purporting to establish or affect an interest in property, as proof of the content of the original recorded document and its execution and delivery by each person by whom it purports to have been executed, if the record is a record of a public office and an applicable statute authorizes the recording of documents of that kind in that office.

(o) Statements in Documents Affecting an Interest in Property. A statement contained in a document purporting to establish or affect an interest in property if the matter stated was relevant to the purpose of the document, unless dealings with the property since the document was made have been inconsistent with the truth of the statement or the purport of the document.

(p) Statements in Ancient Documents. Statements in a document in existence twenty (20) years or more the authenticity of which is established.

(q) Market Reports, Commercial Publications. Market quotations, tabulations, lists, directories, or other published compilations generally used and relied upon by the public or by persons in particular occupations.

If admitted, the statements may be read into evidence but may not be received as exhibits.

(s) Reputation Concerning Personal or Family History. (v) Judgment of Previous Conviction. Evidence of a final judgment, entered after a trial or upon a plea of guilty (but not upon a plea of nolo contendere), adjudging a person guilty of a crime or offense, to prove any fact essential to sustain the judgment in the criminal case as against person in any civil case, but not against the accused in a criminal case. The pendency of any appeal may be shown but does not affect admissibility.

(w) Other Exceptions. A statement not specifically covered by any of the foregoing exceptions but having equivalent circumstantial guarantees of trustworthiness, if the court determines that

- (1) the statement is offered as evidence of a material fact;
- (2) the statement is more probative on the point for which it is offered than any other evidence which the proponent can procure through reasonable efforts; and
- (3) the general purposes of this Title and the interests of justice will best be served by admission of the statement into evidence.

However, a statement may not be admitted under this exception unless the proponent of it makes known to the adverse party in writing sufficiently in advance of the trial or hearing to provide the adverse party with a fair opportunity to meet it, his intention to offer the statement and the particulars of it, including the name and address of the declarant.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 804. Hearsay Exceptions: Declarant Unavailable

- (a) “Unavailability as a witness” includes situations in which the declarant:
- (1) is exempted by ruling of the court on the ground of privilege from testifying concerning the subject matter of his statement;
  - (2) persists in refusing to testify concerning the subject matter of his statement despite an order of the court to do so;
  - (3) testifies to a lack of memory of the subject matter of his statement;
  - (4) is unable to be present or to testify at the hearing because of death or then existing physical or mental illness or infirmity; or
  - (5) is absent from the hearing and the proponent of his statement has been unable to procure his attendance (or in the case of a hearsay exception under subdivision (a) (2), (3), or (4), his attendance or testimony) by process or other reasonable means.
- (b) A declarant is not unavailable as a witness if his exemption, refusal, claim of lack of memory, inability, or absence is due to the procurement or wrongdoing of the proponent of his statement for the purpose of preventing the witness from attending or testifying.

(c) Hearsay Exceptions. The following are not excluded by the hearsay rule if the declarant is unavailable as a witness:

- (1) Former Testimony. Testimony given as a witness at another hearing of the same or a different proceeding, or in a deposition taken in compliance with law in the course of the same or another proceeding, if the party against whom the testimony is now offered, or, in a civil action or proceeding, a predecessor in interest, had an opportunity and similar motive to develop the testimony by direct, cross, or redirect examination.
- (2) Statement under Belief of Impending Death. In a prosecution for homicide or in civil action or proceeding, a statement made by a declarant while believing that his death was imminent, concerning the cause or circumstances of what he believed to be his impending death.
- (3) Statement against Interest. A statement which was at the time of its making so far contrary to the declarant's pecuniary or proprietary interest, or so far tended to subject him to civil or criminal liability, or to render invalid a claim by him against another, that a reasonable man in his position would not have made the statement unless he believed it to be true. A statement tending to expose the declarant to criminal liability and offered to exculpate the accused is not admissible unless corroborating circumstances clearly indicate the trustworthiness of the statement.
- (4) Statement of Personal or Family History.
  - (A) a statement concerning the declarant's own birth, adoption, marriage, divorce, legitimacy, relationship by blood, adoption, or marriage, ancestry, or other similar fact of personal or family history, even though declarant had no means of acquiring personal knowledge of the matter stated; or
  - (B) a statement concerning the foregoing matters and death also, of another person, if the declarant was related to the other by blood, adoption, or marriage or was so intimately associated with the other's family as to be likely to have accurate information concerning the matter declared.
- (5) Other Exceptions. A statement not specifically covered by any of the foregoing exceptions but having equivalent circumstantial guarantees of trustworthiness, if the court determines that:
  - (A) the statement is offered as evidence of a material fact;
  - (B) the statement is more probative on the point for which it is offered than any other evidence which the proponent can procure through reasonable efforts; and

- (C) the general purposes of this Title and the interests of justice will best be served by admission of the statement into evidence. However, a statement may not be admitted under this exception unless the proponent of it makes known to the adverse party in writing sufficiently in advance of the trial or hearing to provide the adverse party with a fair opportunity to prepare to meet it, his intention to offer the statement and the particulars of it, including the name and address of the declarant.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012; section number corrected on August 26, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 805. Hearsay Within Hearsay

Hearsay included within hearsay is not excluded under the hearsay rule if each part of the combined statements conforms with an exception to the hearsay rule provided in this Title.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 806. Attacking and Supporting Credibility of Declarant

When a hearsay statement, or a statement defined in section 801(d)(2)(C), (D), or (E), has been admitted in evidence, the credibility of the declarant may be attacked, and if attacked may be supported, by any evidence which would be admissible for those purposes if declarant had testified as a witness. Evidence of a statement or conduct by the declarant at any time, inconsistent with his hearsay statement, is not subject to any requirement that he be afforded an opportunity to deny or explain. If the party against whom a hearsay statement has been admitted calls the declarant as a witness, the party is entitled to examine him on the statement as if under cross-examination.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

CHAPTER NINE

AUTHENTICATION AND IDENTIFICATION

Section 901. Requirement of Authentication or Identification

(a) General Provision. The requirement of authentication or identification as a condition precedent to admissibility is satisfied by evidence sufficient to support a finding that matter in question is what its proponent claims.

(b) Illustrations. By way of illustration only, and not by way of limitation, the following are examples of authentication or identification conforming with the requirements of this section:

- (1) Testimony of Witness with Knowledge. Testimony that a matter is what it is claimed to be.
- (2) Non-expert Opinion on Handwriting. Non-expert opinion as to the genuineness of handwriting, based upon familiarity not acquired for purposes of litigation.

- (6) Telephone Conversations. Telephone conversations, by evidence that a call was made to the number assigned at the time by the telephone company to a particular person or business, if:
  - (A) in the case of a person, circumstances, including self-identification, show the person answering to be the one called, or

- (7) Public Records or Reports. Evidence that a writing authorized by law to be recorded or filed and in fact recorded or filed in public office, or a purported public record, report, statement, or data compilation, in any form, is from the public office where items of this nature are kept.

- (8) Ancient Documents or Data compilation. Evidence that a document or data compilation, in any form:
  - (A) is in such condition as to create no suspicion concerning its authenticity,

- (9) Methods Provided by Statute or Rule. Any method of authentication or identification provided by applicable law or court rules.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Extrinsic evidence of authenticity as a condition precedent to admissibility is not required with respect to the following:

(c) Foreign Public Documents. A document purporting to be executed or attested in his official capacity by a person authorized by the laws of a foreign country to make the execution or attestation, and accompanied by a final certification as to the genuineness of the signature and official position:

- (1) of the executing or attesting person, or
- (2) of any foreign official whose certificate of genuineness of signature and official position related to the execution or attestation or is in a chain of certificates of genuineness of signature and official position relating to the execution or attestation.

A final certification may be made by a secretary of an embassy or legation, consul general, consul, vice consul, or consular agent of the United States, or a diplomatic or consular official of the foreign county assigned or accredited to the United States. If reasonable opportunity has been given to all parties to investigate the authenticity and accuracy of official documents, the court may, for good cause shown, order that they be treated as presumptively authentic without final certification or permit them to be evidence by an attested summary with or without final certification.

(d) Certified Copies of Public Records. A copy of an official record or report or entry therein, or of a document authorized by law to be recorded or filed and actually recorded or filed in a public office, including data compilations in any form, certified as correct by the custodian or other person authorized to make the certification, by certificate complying with subsection (a), (b), or (c) of this section or complying with any other applicable law or Court rule.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 903. Subscribing Witness Testimony Unnecessary

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

CHAPTER TEN

CONTENTS OF WRITING, RECORDINGS, AND PHOTOGRAPHS

Section 1001. Definitions

For the purpose of this article the following definitions are applicable:

(a) “Writings” and “recordings” consist of letters, words, or numbers or their equivalent, set down by handwriting, typewriting, printing, photostating, photographing, magnetic impulse, mechanical or electronic recording, or other form of data compilation.

(b) “Photographs” include still photographs, x-ray films, video tapes, and motion pictures.

(c) An “original” of a writing or recording is the writing or recording itself or any counterpart intended to have the same effect by a person executing or issuing it. An “original” of a photograph includes the negative or any print therefrom. If data are stored in a computer or similar device, any printout or other output readable by sight, shown to reflect the data accurately, is an “original.”

(d) A “duplicate” is a counterpart produced by the same impression as the original, or from the same matrix, or by means of photography, including enlargements and miniatures, or by mechanical or electronic re-recording, or by chemical reproduction, or by other equivalent digital or analog techniques which accurately reproduces the original or stores a digital copy thereof.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 1002. Requirement of Original

To prove the content of a writing, recording, or photograph, the original writing, recording, or photograph is required, except as otherwise provided by applicable law.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 1003. Admissibility of Duplicates

A duplicate is admissible to the same extent as an original unless:

- (a) a genuine question is raised as to the authenticity of the original, or
- (b) in the circumstances it would be unfair to admit the duplicate in lieu of the original.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 92-5, June 6, 1992; amended by TO 2010-04, June 5, 2010; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 1004. Admissibility of Other Evidence of Contents

The original is not required, and other evidence of the contents of a writing, recording, or photograph is admissible if:

- (a) Originals Lost or Destroyed. All originals are lost or have been destroyed, unless the proponent lost or destroyed them in bad faith; or
- (b) Original Not Obtainable. No original can be obtained by any available judicial process or procedure; or
- (c) Original in Possession of Opponent. At a time when an original was under the control of the party against whom offered, he was put on notice, by the pleadings or otherwise, that the contents would be a subject of proof at the hearing, and he does not produce the original at the hearing; or
- (d) Collateral Matters. The writings, recording, or photograph is not closely related to a controlling issue.

Section 122. Revision of Legal Custody and Physical Placement Order

The following provisions are applicable to modifications of legal custody and physical placement orders:

- (a) Substantial Modifications.
  - (1) Within Two Years after Initial Order. Except as provided under paragraph (b), below, a court may not modify any of the following orders before two years after the initial order is entered, unless a party seeking the modification, upon petition, motion, or order to show cause shows by substantial evidence that the modification is necessary because the current custodial conditions are physically or emotionally harmful to the best interest of the child:
    - (A) An order of legal custody.
    - (B) An order of physical placement if the modification would substantially alter the time a parent may spend with his or her child.
  - (2) After 2-Year Period.
    - (A) Except as provided under paragraph (1), above, and paragraph (b), below, upon petition, motion or order to show cause by a party, a court may modify an order of legal custody or an order of physical placement where the modification would substantially alter the time a parent may spend with his or her child if the Court finds all the other following:
      - (i) The modification is in the best interest of the child.
      - (ii) There has been a substantial change of circumstances since the entry of the last order affecting legal custody or the last order substantially affecting physical placement.
    - (B) There is a rebuttable presumption that:
      - (i) Continuing the current allocation of decision-making under a legal custody order is in the best interest of the child.
      - (ii) Continuing the child's physical placement with the parent with whom the child resides for the greater period of time is in the best interest of the child.

- (C) A change in the economic circumstances or marital status of either party is not sufficient to meet the standards for modification under this subsection.

(b) Modification of Substantially Equal Physical Placement Orders.

Notwithstanding paragraph (a) above,

- (1) If the parties have substantially equal periods of physical placement pursuant to a court order and circumstances make it impractical for the parties to continue to have substantially equal physical placement, a court, upon petition, motion or order to show cause by a party, may modify such an order if it is in the best interest of the child.
- (2) In any case in which paragraph (1) does not apply and in which the parties have substantially equal periods of physical placement pursuant to a court order, a court, upon petition, motion or order to show cause of a party may modify such an order based on the appropriate standard under paragraph (a) above. However, there is a rebuttable presumption that having substantially equal periods of physical placement is in the best interest of the child.

(c) Modifications of Other Physical Placement Order. Except as provided under paragraphs (a) and (b), upon petition, motion or order to show cause by a party, a court may modify an order of physical placement which does not substantially alter the amount of time a parent may spend with his or her child if the Court finds that the modification is in the best interest of the child.

(d) Reasons for Modification. If either party opposes modification or termination of a legal custody or physical placement order under this section, the Court shall state, in writing, its reasons or the modification or termination.

(e) Notice. No court may enter an order for modification under this section until notice of the petition, motion or order to show cause requesting modification has been given to the child's parents, if they can be found, and to any relative or agency having custody of the child.

(f) Transfer to Social Services. The Court may order custody transferred to the Department of Social Services only if that department agrees to accept custody based on Title 19, the Seminole Nation Juvenile Code.

(b) The Court has the power to vacate or modify the judgment on sufficient cause shown upon its own motion, or upon the application of both parties to the action, at any time within six (6) months from the granting of such judgment. If the judgment is vacated it shall restore the parties to the marital relation that existed before the granting of such judgment.

(c) When a judgment of divorce is granted it shall be effective immediately.

SUBCHAPTER D PATERNITY

Section 126. General

This Subchapter provides a process for the Court to establish the paternity of a child.

(a) In the Seminole Nation, fathers are important role models who teach respect, values, and responsibilities to their children. They care for their children, show them love and point them in the right direction. They support their children in having a safe, secure, healthy, spiritual, happy home life as well as supporting them financially.

(b) The Nation recognizes that determining biological paternity is important for purposes of tribal membership and the benefits associated with it. This Subchapter is not intended to take the place of or interfere with confidential acknowledgments of paternity through the Seminole Nation Office of Tribal Enrollment.

(c) A paternity proceeding under this chapter may stand alone as a separate proceeding or it may be joined with an action to determine child support at the request of the alleged father or the child's mother.

(d) The provisions of this chapter may be applied, as far as practicable, to the determination of the existence or nonexistence of a mother and child relationship.

(e) Confidentiality of Paternity Records. The records filed in a paternity action shall be sealed. Only parties to the case may obtain copies.

(f) No Statute of Limitations. An action to establish paternity shall not be subject to a statute of limitations.

- (1) It was signed by a minor who did not understand the consequences of signing the affidavit; or
- (2) There is evidence of duress, mistake, or unfair procedure.

(c) A petition for establishment of paternity may be filed in the Seminole Nation District Court even if a state paternity affidavit has been signed or an order regarding paternity has been issued by another court when the petitioner believes that the other process was unfair.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2012-09, July 28, 2012; recodified on June 13, 2016 from Chapter 2 of Title 13A to Title 13B pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

- (1) The tests shall be performed by an accredited paternity genetic testing lab, approved by the Nation that performs legally and medically acceptable tests.

- (5) The results of genetic tests must be accompanied by an affidavit from the expert describing the expert's qualifications and analyzing and interpreting the results as well as documentation of the chain of custody of the genetic samples.
- (6) Failure to submit to genetic tests when required by the Court may constitute contempt of court.

(c) Good Cause Not to Reveal Father's Identity. A woman may be excused from submitting to genetic testing or from identifying or locating the father of her child when there is good cause not to reveal his identity or location. The Court may hold a closed, ex-parte hearing to determine whether good cause exists. "Good cause" may include, but is not limited to the following.

- (1) Cases involving domestic violence.
- (2) Cases involving incest or rape.
- (3) Cases where identification of the father is not in the best interest of child.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2012-09, July 28, 2012; recodified on June 13, 2016 from Chapter 2 of Title 13A to Title 13B pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

- (5) The parties shall provide testimony on how the costs of paternity testing shall be paid. If the testing was paid by the Nation, it may waive all or part of the costs or request reimbursement.

(c) Evidence and Burden of Proof.

The conception of the child shall be presumed to have occurred within a span of time extending from 240 days to 300 days before the date of its birth, unless competent evidence to the contrary is presented to the Court.
- (4) Presumption of Paternity Based on Marriage of the Parties.
  - (A) A man is presumed to be the natural father of a child if any of the following applies:
    - (i) He and the child's natural mother are or have been married to each other and the child is conceived or born after marriage and before the granting of a decree of legal separation, annulment or divorce between the parties.

- (2) Reimbursement of Child Support Paid Erroneously. When a man has paid child support as the father of a child and the paternity of a different man is established later by the Court based on genetic testing, the Court may order reimbursement of the child support that was paid erroneously only if:
  - (A) The child support payments were retained by a state or tribal government under a permanent assignment of public assistance benefits;
  - (B) Notice of the hearing has been served on the appropriate government agency;

    - (C) Explain the person's right to a spokesperson, lay advocate, or attorney;
    - (D) Explain the burden of proof as to each issue; and
    - (E) Explain that once the person agrees to the proposed order and it is signed and entered by the Court, it will be too late for the person to change his or her mind.
  - (2) The in-chambers conversation need not be recorded. If the party wants a friend, family member or other person to be present, the judge shall allow it after first speaking alone with the party. If the Court finds that any consent was not truly voluntary, the agreed order shall not be entered and the case shall proceed to a hearing.
- (c) Proceedings Involving another Jurisdiction.
- (1) If the Court cannot obtain personal jurisdiction over the natural mother or an alleged father and finds that it cannot make a determination of paternity without that person, the Court may take any of the following actions.

    - (B) Request a tribunal of another tribe or state to require the person to respond to an order by the Court the person to submit to genetic tests performed by an expert in paternity genetic testing.

A paternity order may be accompanied by any order, temporary or final, authorized by the provisions of the applicable chapter.
  - (3) Name Change, Amended Birth Certificate.
    - (A) The Court may authorize that the child's name be changed.
    - (B) If the finding of paternity or the child's new name varies from the child's birth certificate, the Court shall order that an amended birth certificate be issued.
- (e) Disestablishment of Paternity. As a matter of policy, the Seminole Nation discourages the disestablishment of paternity.
  - (1) The proceedings in this Subchapter may be used to disestablish paternity. The limits on who may file an action as stated in Section 128(a) apply to disestablishment proceedings.
  - (2) The Court shall require the party challenging a paternity which has been legally acknowledged to show that it is in the best interests of the child to change the status quo, prior to Court orders or permits genetic testing. ## SUBCHAPTER E

CHILD SUPPORT; ENFORCEMENT

Section 132. Authority

The Seminole Nation General Council authorizes and requires the enforcement and collection of child support on behalf of Seminole children pursuant to this code.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2012-09, July 28, 2012; recodified on June 13, 2016 from Chapter 2 of Title 13A to Title 13B pursuant to authority granted by SNC
Title 21, § 203.]

Section 133. General

Seminole Nation parents have a responsibility for caring for their children, bonding with them, making sure they are safe, and providing for all their basic needs. Aunts, uncles, grandparents and other extended family members help parents and their children when they need help by advising the parents in decision-making, showing love to the children, teaching values and respect, and taking over in parents' absence. Grandparents share with their grandchildren the wisdom of their experience and traditional values. The Seminole Nation District Court is the most appropriate forum for deciding issues related to the well-being of a child who is a member of a Seminole Nation family. It is the policy of the Seminole Nation to consider carefully the circumstances of each family and to treat each family individually.

Section 134. Policy

(a) The Seminole Nation implements this Child Support Enforcement Code by establishing a Child Support Enforcement Agency (Agency) or the Seminole Nation may contract for such services, or both.

(b) The Seminole Nation shall promote cooperation and agreement by the parents regarding fulfillment of their duties to their children. It is the experience of the Seminole Nation that a non-custodial parent is more likely to remain connected with his or her children if he or she has developed an agreement with the other parent on the amount of child support.

(c) The Nation shall not interfere in child support arrangements agreed upon by families when those agreements serve the best interests of the child.

(d) The Seminole Nation Child Support Enforcement Agency is authorized to certify that there is good cause not to establish paternity or child support in cases in which it is not in the best interests of the child to do so.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2012-09, July 28, 2012; recodified on June 13, 2016 from Chapter 2 of Title 13A to Title 13B pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 135. Duty of Care and Support

(a) Parents have a duty to care for their children. This applies to all natural parents whose parental rights have not been terminated and to all adoptive parents. This duty includes providing love, guidance, education, a safe and healthy environment and financial support. Parents also have a duty to ensure that Seminole children have an opportunity to learn about and participate in the Seminole Way. This includes access to Seminole family and participation in Seminole Nation events.

(b) The purpose of this chapter is to provide a process that ensures that the basic financial needs of children are met when their parents do not live together. In the Seminole Nation, children are cared for by parents, extended family and the community. This chapter focuses on parents' financial duty to their children.

(c) Stepparents do not have a legal duty to support stepchildren but may have a moral and traditional duty to contribute to their support.

Section 136. Child Support Enforcement Agency

(b) Prepare a recommendation about the child support and health insurance obligation for each case, using a form developed by the Agency. In making its recommendation, the Agency shall be guided by the Child Support Guidelines (Guidelines) (Section 335) and the Seminole Nation Child Support Schedule (Schedule) (Section 336). The Agency's recommendation shall be filed with the petition whenever possible; and

(c) May represent the interests of the child in child support enforcement proceedings, as provided in Section 331(b)(1).

Section 147. Enforcement of Child Support Orders

- (a) The Court may enforce a child support order by ordering wage withholding or other means of enforcement at the following hearings:

- (1) An enforcement hearing if a child support obligation is at least thirty (30) days overdue in an amount equal to one month's child support obligation or if there is a history of non-compliance; or
  - (2) A regularly scheduled review hearing if child support is overdue at the time of the review hearing or if there is a history of noncompliance with the order.
- (b) Enforcement Hearings.
  - (1) Filing. A motion for an enforcement hearing may be filed only by either:
    - (A) A parent; or
    - (B) The Agency, representing the interests of the child in receiving child support, in any case involving another tribe or state or the Seminole Nation Indian Child Welfare Program.
  - (2) Affidavit. The motion shall be supported by an affidavit containing the following:
    - (A) Terms of the child support order to be enforced.
    - (B) Length of time the child support obligation has been overdue, which must be at least 30 days or facts supporting a history of non-compliance.
    - (C) Amount of child support that is overdue, which must be equal to one month's child support obligation.
  - (3) Agency Recommendation. The Agency shall file a recommendation regarding appropriate enforcement action in every case filed by a parent. In a case filed by the Agency, the recommendation shall be included in the Agency's motion for the enforcement hearing.
  - (4) Hearing Notice. The notice for the enforcement hearing shall be served as provided in Sections 168(b), 169 and 139, and shall contain the following information.
    - (A) Copy of the motion and affidavit.
    - (B) The time and date of the hearing.
    - (C) Notice that if the parent owing support fails to attend the hearing, wage withholding or other enforcement action will be ordered.
  - (5) Procedures. At the enforcement hearing the Court shall review the affidavit and any supporting documents, hear the testimony of each party, consider any other evidence presented, and consider and give great weight to the recommendation of the Agency, if any.

(6) Burden of Proof.

- (A) If the moving party meets the burden of proving that the child support obligation is at least 30 days overdue in an amount equal to one month's child support obligation or that the party has a history of non-compliance, the Court shall order wage withholding, as provided in Section 147(c), or other means of enforcement, as provided in Section 147(d).
- (B) If the moving party does not meet the burden of proof, the Court shall dismiss the motion.

(c) Wage Withholding.

- (1) At a review hearing or at an enforcement hearing, wage withholding shall be the primary means of enforcement of a child support order where a parent receives wages, unless:
  - (A) The parties agree in writing to alternate arrangements which the Court approves;
  - (B) The party owing child support works for a Tribe or a tribal enterprise that has not waived its sovereign immunity for that purpose, in which case the Court shall order that party to arrange wage withholding of child support with his or her employer;
  - (C) The parent owing child support demonstrates good cause not to require immediate wage withholding; or
  - (D) The Court finds that another means of enforcement would be more effective.
- (2) Wage Withholding Order or Request. All garnishments must comply with the Nation's civil procedure requirements and may provide for the following as long as not inconsistent with the Nation's Civil Procedure Code:
  - (A) A wage withholding order shall not exceed the upper limit of the Seminole Nation Child Support Schedule's range for the paying party's income, unless the parties agree. The Court shall order that an additional amount be withheld each month to be applied to past payments owed.
  - (B) The wage withholding order or request shall include all of the following:

- (i) The amount to be withheld and the frequency of the withholding.
  - (ii) A requirement that the employer send the amount to the Nation within seven (7) business days of the date the paying party is paid.
  - (iii) A requirement that the employer report to the Agency the date on which the amount was withheld.

  - (v) A statement that the employer shall notify the Nation promptly when the paying party terminates employment and provide the paying party's last known address and the name and address of the paying party's new employer, if known.
- (3) Procedure. The Court shall serve the wage withholding order or the party's wage withholding request on the employer or other payer. The Court is authorized to approve wage withholding forms recommended by the Agency.
- (4) Release from Withholding. The wage withholding order or request shall be effective until the Court or the Agency issues a release or authorizes the party to issue a release.
- (5) Employer Obligations.
  - (A) No employer shall refuse to honor a wage withholding order or a party's wage withholding request issued under this chapter. An employer shall begin withholding within seven days after service of the order or request. Failure to withhold wages according to the order or request subjects the employer to liability for the accumulated amount the employer should have withheld.
  - (B) No employer may discharge, refuse to employ or take disciplinary action against any employee because his or her wages have been subjected to withholding for child support. Failure to comply with this section subjects the employer to a fine to be determined under Seminole law.
- (d) Other Means of Child Support Enforcement. At a review hearing or an enforcement hearing, the Court may order any of the following actions in addition to or instead of wage withholding:

- (1) A Federal Income Tax Refund Offset may be obtained by the Agency as provided in Section 147(f)(2).
- (2) Attachment of assets through utilization of the Lien Docket, except that the federal Order to Withhold and Deliver form shall be used where applicable.
- (3) Interception of federal payments, such as retirement, travel or expense reimbursement.
- (4) Appearance to explain non-payment.

(e) Exemptions from Enforcement Actions. In the enforcement of any child support order, the following shall be exempt from execution except as specifically provided as follows:

- (1) Unemployment compensation, TANF benefits, SSI or other Social Security benefits.

- (2) Federal Income Tax Refund Offset.

(A) The Agency has sole authority for the following actions:

- (i) Receive funds certified by a state under the Federal Income Tax Refund Offset Program and owed on a Seminole Nation child support case.

(ii) Request that a state certify a Seminole Nation child support case to the Federal Income Tax Refund Offset Program.

(iii) Certify a Seminole Nation child support case to the Federal Income Tax Refund Offset Program to receive funds for that case.

(B) The Agency may offer assistance to help Seminole Nation families file “injured spouse” claims with the Federal Income Tax Refund Offset Program when appropriate.

(g) Failure to Comply with Child Support Order. Failure to comply with a Seminole Nation child support order, including a wage withholding order and a court order to request wage withholding, may be punishable as contempt of court.

(h) Custody and Visitation Rights. If a party fails to comply with a child support order or a provision in a Parenting Plan, the other party's obligations under the Parenting Plan or child support order are not affected. This means that a party cannot withhold visitation if the other party doesn't pay child support.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2012-09, July 28, 2012; recodified on June 13, 2016 from Chapter 2 of Title 13A to Title 13B pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 148. Transfer/Assignment of TANF Recipients' Rights

(a) The child support rights of a child who receives tribal TANF are transferred (assigned) to another tribe because the TANF paying tribe is providing support for the child during a time period when child support payments should be helping to support the child. When child support payments are made on an irregular basis, a family has no financial stability.

(b) The TANF paying tribe can assist the family achieve financial independence by providing reliable, predictable TANF assistance while collecting child support owed to the child. When child support payments are made to the TANF tribe through an assignment, the payments are not counted as income of the TANF recipient and therefore they do not cause fluctuations in his or her TANF grant. The paying party's financial connection with the child is maintained through the child support pass-through, where applicable.

(c) Should the Seminole Nation establish a TANF program in the future, a child receiving TANF cash assistance will be affected by his or her rights to past, present and future child support. Support will be deemed to be transferred (assigned) to the Seminole Nation, subject to the limitations set forth in this Subchapter.

(d) When rights are transferred (assigned) to a TANF paying tribe, they are characterized as temporary or permanent as follows:

(1) Temporary Transfer/Assignment. This is the transfer of rights to past child support that became due before the family began receiving TANF cash assistance. The transfer of these rights is temporary, which means that the child support may be collected and held by the TANF paying tribe, but it may not be utilized to reimburse the TANF paying tribe for the child's TANF grant. While it is held by the TANF paying tribe, it shall not be considered an asset of the family. This transfer terminates when the child stops receiving TANF cash assistance and any temporarily transferred funds collected by the TANF paying tribe shall be paid to the payee under the child support order.

- (2) Permanent Transfer/Assignment. This is the transfer of rights to past, present, and future child support becomes due while the family is receiving TANF cash assistance. The transfer of these rights is permanent. The amount of this transfer is limited to the amount of TANF cash assistance received for the child covered by the child support obligation or the child support obligation for that child, whichever is less. This transfer terminates when the child stops receiving TANF cash assistance.

(e) Use of Payments.

- (1) Child support payments retained by the TANF paying tribe under a permanent TANF assignment shall be expended for the benefit of the Nation's children and their families.
- (2) Pass-Through. Money received by the Nation under a TANF recipient's child support transfer of rights may be used to provide a pass-through payment to that TANF recipient on behalf of the child. Such a pass-through payment shall not be considered income for purposes of TANF eligibility or counted against the amount of the grant. The amount of a uniform pass-through payment to TANF recipients shall be determined by regulation of the Legislature for the Nation's TANF Program.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2012-09, July 28, 2012; recodified on June 13, 2016 from Chapter 2 of Title 13A to Title 13B pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 149. Distribution of Child Support Payments

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b), child support payments made to the Nation shall be distributed in the following order of preference within each case:

- (1) Payment of current support.
- (2) Payment of the custodian's arrears.
- (3) Payment of transferred/assigned arrears.

(b) Lump-sum payments from Federal Income Tax Refund Offsets shall be distributed in the following order of preference:

- (1) Payment as pass-through to a custodial party receiving Tribal TANF cash assistance, if there is no current child support payment to apply to the pass-through. These payments shall be credited against arrears assigned to the TANF paying tribe.
- (2) Payment of transferred (assigned) arrears.
- (3) Payment of the custodian's arrears.

(c) Distribution to Multiple Payees. If the person with the child support obligation owes child support on more than one case, distribution shall be as follows:

- (1) Current Support. If there is not enough to pay all current support owing, the available funds shall be pro-rated to each case according to that case's share of the total current support owing on all cases.
- (2) Arrears. If there is money left over after all current support has been paid, the available funds shall be applied to the arrears owing on all cases, pro-rated to each case according to that case's share of the total arrears owed on all cases. Within each case, the money is first applied to any arrears owed the custodian and next to TANF arrears.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2012-09, July 28, 2012; recodified on June 13, 2016 from Chapter 2 of Title 13A to Title 13B pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 150. Reduction of Past Child Support Owed

This section allows the Court to forgive back unpaid child support under certain circumstances. The child support policies of outside governments have frequently created hardship for Seminole children and their families; for example, when income is imputed and creates large back debts, when the child's parents reunite and collection action on the past debt takes away resources from the child, when collection action is taken against individuals who are caring for their adult children and grandchildren, and other actions which offend Seminole values of fairness and due process.

- (a) Types of Debt Defined.
  - (1) Debt to Parent or Custodian. A debt of past child support owed to the parent or custodian on behalf of the child may be reduced only by agreement of the parties.
  - (2) Debt to Tribe or State. A debt of past child support owed to a government for reimbursement for public assistance may be reduced or eliminated as provided in this Code.

(b) Petition. A party who wishes to reduce a debt for past child support may file a petition for reduction of past child support debt. The petition shall be prepared on a form approved by the Court and it shall contain the following information:

- (1) The name, address, tribal affiliation, date and place of birth and social security number of the petitioner and the child for whose benefit the child support was ordered.
- (2) The name, address, tribal affiliation, date and place of birth and social security number of the person to whom the child support is owed or was originally owed.
- (3) If the debt is owed to a government for reimbursement for public assistance, the name and address of the appropriate government agency.
- (4) A copy of the child support order under which the debt accumulated.
- (5) The total amount of the past child support debt.
- (6) The amount of proposed reduction of the past child support debt.
- (7) The reason why the past child support debt should be reduced or eliminated.
- (8) Financial information, as provided in Section 140(e).
- (9) The recommendation of the Agency.

(c) Procedure.

- (1) Hearing Date. When the Court receives a petition, it shall set a hearing date which shall not be more than thirty-five (35) calendar days after the petition was received, unless continued for good cause.
- (2) Notice of Hearing. The date, time and place of the hearing shall be contained in the summons.
- (3) Service of Petition and Summons. After a petition is filed, the petitioner shall cause the respondent to be served with a copy of the petition and a summons. The petition and summons shall be served as provided in Section 167. The parties may sign a petition and by doing so, waive the requirements of service of the petition and summons.
  - (A) Summons. The summons, prepared on a form approved by the Court, shall notify the respondent that if he or she does not appear or respond to the petition within twenty (20) days from the date of service or within 60 days of the date of publication if service is by publication, the Court may proceed without the respondent.

(B) Proof of Service. The person serving the summons and petition shall file with the Court certification that he or she has served the respondent, including the date and place of service. If service was made on a person other than the respondent, the certification shall state the name of the person served, the date and place of service, and the instructions given. In case of service by certified mail, the return receipt shall be filed with the Court and shall constitute the proof of service. In case of service by publication, an affidavit by the person causing publication and a copy of the summons as published shall constitute the proof of service.

(4) Response. Unless the parties have filed a joint petition, the respondent shall file his or her response within twenty (20) calendar days after the respondent is served with a copy of the petition, or within sixty (60) days if service was by publication. The respondent shall cause the response to be served on the petitioner as provided in Section 169.

(5) Notice to Agency. If the past child support debt is owed to a government, notice shall be served on the appropriate agency of that government. The person who assigned the child support rights to the government need not be a party to the hearing if the entire child support debt is owed to the government.

(6) Hearing.

(A) The Court shall review the documents filed in the case, hear the testimony of each party, and consider any other evidence presented. It shall consider and give great weight to the recommendation of the Agency, if any.

(B) The burden of proof shall rest on the moving party to prove that the support obligation should be reduced, as provided in Section 150(d).

(C) If the parties have proposed an agreed order and the Agency has not objected, the Court shall enter the agreed order.

(d) Reduction of Past Support Owed to a Tribe or State. The Court may grant a reduction or complete forgiveness of past support owed to a tribe or state when the past debt was not based on the paying parent's actual income or when payment of the past debt would create substantial hardship.

(1) Substantial hardship shall include either of the following circumstances:

(A) The child on whose behalf the past debt accumulated is now living with and being supported by both parents who are reunited.

- (B) The child on whose behalf the past debt accumulated is now living with and being supported by the party owing the past support debt.
- (2) Substantial hardship may include any of the following circumstances:
  - (A) The party owing the past support debt is complying with the current child support obligation for the child on whose behalf the past debt accumulated and he or she has insufficient resources to pay both current and past support.
  - (B) The party owing the past support debt is currently supporting other children, grandchildren or elders and payment of the past support debt would prevent him/her from adequately supporting him/herself and the others.
  - (C) The child on whose behalf the past debt accumulated is over 18 years old and payment of the debt would significantly burden the party's ability to support him/ herself.
- (e) Reduction of Past Child Support Owed to a Parent.
  - (1) When a parent agrees to a reduction or complete forgiveness of past child support owed to him or her, the Court may hold an in-chambers, ex-parte (individual) discussion with this parent to ensure that he or she understands and consents to the proposed agreed order and that the proposed agreement was not the result of coercion, threat, duress, fraud, overreaching, or improper promise.
  - (2) If the parent wants a friend, family member, or other person to be present, the Court shall allow it, after first speaking alone with the party. If a party is unavailable or chooses not to be at the hearing, he or she may submit an affidavit verifying the agreement.
- (f) Findings and Conclusions. After the hearing, the Court shall enter findings of fact and conclusions of law and a separate reduction of past child support owed order. The findings of fact and conclusions of law shall address the following:
  - (1) Subject matter jurisdiction.
  - (2) Personal jurisdiction over all the parties.
  - (3) The total amount of past child support owed and to whom it is owed.
  - (4) The basis for the decision, including the agreement of the person to whom the child support debt is owed, if a parent.
  - (5) The amount of reduction of past child support, if any.

- (6) The conditions, if any, upon which reduction of the past child support debt is contingent.
- (g) Order.
  - (1) The Agency may recommend, and the Court may fashion an order, making the reduction of past support contingent upon making timely payments of current support as well as timely payments on the arrears not forgiven. It is Seminole Nation policy to attempt to create orders for the reduction of past child support which are most likely to be carried out successfully.
  - (2) The reduction of past child support owed order shall include the following:
    - (A) A statement that the Court has jurisdiction over the case.
    - (B) The total amount of the child support debt.
    - (C) The amount of reduction of the child support debt.
    - (D) The conditions, if any, upon which reduction of the past child support debt is contingent.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2012-09, July 28, 2012; recodified on June 13, 2016 from Chapter 2 of Title 13A to Title 13B pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 151. Child Support Guidelines

Oklahoma Statutes for child support percentage of income standard shall apply and may be deviated from at the discretion of the Court.

- (a) General.
  - (1) The Seminole Nation Child Support Guidelines set forth the rules under which a child support obligation is established. They set a standard of adequate support for children subject to the ability of the parents to pay.
  - (2) The Schedule is the table of levels of cash child support that correspond to the income of the paying party. It is used according to the Guidelines and is intended to provide consistent treatment of individuals in similar circumstances.
- (b) Application. The Guidelines and Schedule are to be applied as follows:
  - (1) Parties. The parties may use the Guidelines and Schedule in reaching an agreement.

- (2) Agency. The Agency shall be guided by the Guidelines and Schedule in assisting the parties to reach agreement. When the parties are not in full agreement on the amount of child support, the Agency shall be guided by the Guidelines and Schedule in making its recommendation to the Court.
- (3) Court. The Court will generally enter an agreed order, as provided in Section 141 or adopt the Agency's recommendations. In those cases in which the Court does not do so, it shall apply the Guidelines and Schedule to the circumstances of the parties.

(c) Establishing a Child Support Obligation. A child support obligation is established under the Guidelines and Schedule using the following steps:

- (1) Calculate the monthly income of the party obliged to pay child support and subtract the allowable deductions.
- (2) Determine the total number of children to whom the party has a duty to support, as provided in paragraph (e), below, and find the range in the Schedule which corresponds to the party's income and number of children.
- (3) Determine the amount within the range that is appropriate to the circumstances of the family, based on the factors listed in paragraph (f), below, except for health insurance.
- (4) Determine any amount of extra child support obligation for months when seasonal income is received, as provided in paragraph (f)(3), below.
- (5) Add any additional amount required for health insurance as provided in paragraph (k), below, not to exceed the upper limit within the appropriate range.
- (6) Determine non-cash contributions in appropriate circumstances, as provided in paragraph (j), below.
- (7) Establishment of child support obligation when there is shared physical custody. In the absence of an agreement as to the amount of child support, when the parties each provide a home for the children and the children will spend a significant percentage of the year in each home, the Court may prorate the child support obligation between the parties.

(d) Calculation of Income as Basis for Child Support Obligation. The non-custodial party's obligation shall be based on his or her monthly income less allowable deductions.

- (1) Income means revenue from any source including but not limited to:
  - (A) Salaries, wages, tips, commissions, and regular overtime.

- (B) Business income such as sales of goods, services and products, whether legal or illegal.
  - (C) Deferred compensation.
  - (D) Income from second jobs.
  - (E) Predictable, non-recurring income of over $500 per quarter.
  - (F) Regular bonuses.
  - (G) Treaty payments.
  - (H) Per capita distribution payments.
  - (I) Lease or rental income.
  - (J) Compensation received under a contract.
  - (K) Dividends.
  - (L) Severance pay.
  - (M) Pensions.
  - (N) Interest, trust income, annuities, and capital gains.
  - (O) Workers compensation benefits and unemployment insurance benefits.
- (2) Allowable deductions from income include:
- (A) Tribal taxes.
  - (B) Federal and state income taxes.
  - (C) Social security (FICA) deductions.
  - (D) Mandatory pension plan payments.
  - (E) Union or professional dues.
  - (F) State industrial insurance premiums.
  - (G) Normal business expenses allowable under IRS rules.
  - (H) Normal treaty income business expenses, determined by:

- (i) The standard treaty income business expense deduction developed by the applicable tribe; or
  - (ii) The IRS rules applicable to normal non-treaty business expenses.
  - (iii) Self-employment taxes for self-employed persons.
- (3) Disclosure is required for the following, although not included as income:
  - (A) Social security benefits.
  - (B) Disability insurance benefits.
  - (C) Income from a second spouse or other adult in the household.
  - (D) TANF cash assistance, general assistance benefits, SSI, food stamps or other means-based benefits.
  - (E) Child support received by a parent for the support of other children.
- (4) Calculation of Income in Default Cases. In the absence of financial information from the defaulting parent, his or her income shall be based on information provided by the Agency.
- (e) Calculation of Child Support When There Are Children from Other Relationships.
  - (l) When a party has a legal duty to pay child support for children from other relationships, calculation of the amount of the child support per child shall be based on the total number of children from all relationships.
    - (A) If possible, at the time an order is entered, the Court shall modify any existing orders so that they are based on the total number of children from all relationships that the parent has a duty to support.
    - (B) If an existing order cannot be modified at the time the order is entered, the child support obligation for the child before the Court shall be established based on the number of children before the Court, but the monthly obligation for the first six (6) months shall be reduced so that the total child support paid to all persons during that period does not exceed the scheduled amount for the total number of children from all relationships. During this six (6) month period, the Agency shall assist the party to modify the previous child support order(s). The six (6) month period may be continued for good cause. Upon modification of the previous order(s), the Court shall modify its order based on the total number of children from all relationships.

(C) If a previous child support order for children from another relationship cannot be modified, the Court shall adjust the child support obligation for the child before the Court so that the total child support paid to all persons does not exceed the scheduled amount for the total number of children from all relationships.

(2) The provisions of this paragraph (e) apply only to the extent that the child support obligations for children from other relationships are actually paid.

(f) Adjustments within Schedule Ranges. A child support obligation established under these Guidelines shall be set within the range provided in the Schedule for the income level of the paying party. In determining the appropriate amount within the range, the factors in this section shall guide the parties' agreement, the Agency and the Court.

(1) Age of Child. The obligation shall be set higher in the range for children 12 years old and older and closer to the lower end of the range for younger children.

(2) Work-related Day Care. The obligation may be set higher in the range to cover the reasonable cost of work-related day care of the custodial parent. This obligation shall terminate if work-related day care is terminated or it shall be reduced proportionately if the child is in work-related day care for a reduced period of time.

(3) Seasonal Income. If the paying party's income is seasonal, the obligation may be set on a schedule that varies the amount at different times of the year.

(4) Extraordinary Medical Expenses for the Child. The obligation may be set higher in the range to cover extraordinary medical expenses for the child, not covered by health insurance.

(5) Extraordinary Debt Not Voluntarily Incurred. The obligation may be set lower in the range when the party owing support makes payments on extraordinary debt not voluntarily incurred such as court fines.

(6) Use of Non-Cash Services or Resources. The obligation may be set lower in the range when non-cash services or resources are regularly and reliably provided, as set forth in paragraph (j) below.

(7) Possession of Wealth. The obligation may be set higher when the parent owing support possesses an abundance of valuable material possessions, resources, money, or has the ability to generate a stream of income that is greater than monthly expenses or even slightly above expenses and purchase whatever material possession the parent may want or need. Luxury items that may equate to the abundance of possessions may include, but are not limited to, expensive homes, cars, boats, all-terrain vehicles, sports equipment, recreational vehicles, camping trailers, vacation homes, additional land/property, and multi-annual vacations.

(g) Period of Obligation.

(1) Prior to Filing.

- (A) Establishing a child support obligation for a period prior to the date of filing the case in Court is disfavored by the Seminole Nation. This is due to the difficulty in obtaining accurate past financial information and because of the burden on the paying party if the party is also paying current support.
- (B) There are some circumstances when it is appropriate to have a $0 or default order for the period before filing.
- (C) In every case where child support is ordered for any period before filing, there must be a recommendation by the Agency regarding the duration and amount of pre-filing child support.

(2) Termination.

- (A) A parent's financial duties last until any of the following events:
  - (i) The death of the child.
  - (ii) The death of the parent obliged to pay support.
  - (iii) The child reaches the age of eighteen years old or, if the child is still in high school, until graduation or the child turns nineteen, whichever is earlier.
- (B) The child support obligation terminates at the end of the month in which the financial duty terminates.

(h) Payment.

- (1) Payment of a child support obligation shall be made to the Agency for distribution to the appropriate recipient, as provided in Section 149.
- (2) If the Agency becomes aware that a child is no longer living with the person receiving child support on behalf of the child, the Agency or the paying party may request a review hearing to determine to whom the child support payments will be disbursed for the benefit of the child.
- (3) If the parties agree or the Court finds it to be in the best interests of the child, it may order:

(A) Allowance to Child. A portion of the cash support to be disbursed to the child as an allowance; or

(B) Trust or Savings Account. A portion of the cash support to be deposited into a trust or savings account for the benefit of the child under such terms as the Court deems just.

(4) There may be circumstances when payment to the Registry of a state or another tribe would be appropriate. The Agency will identify those circumstances, if applicable.

(i) Credit for Benefits. When a child receives benefit payments such as social security, veterans, or the like, as a result of contributions made by the party with the child support obligation, credit shall be given to offset all or part of the child support obligation, in the amount of the payment. The Court shall indicate in the child support order the total child support obligation and the amount that shall be covered by benefit payments made directly to the child. If the benefit payment is more than the current child support obligation, the difference shall be credited against any arrears that the custodian has not assigned to a government.

(j) Non-Cash Services and Resources. Although consistent with Seminole Nation culture and tradition, non-cash services and resources are difficult to monitor and guarantee. The primary purpose for their use in connection with cash child support is to strengthen the bond between the child and the non-custodial parent. Non-cash services and resources are not a substitute for cash child support obligation.

(1) The non-custodial parent may be ordered to provide non-cash services and resources in connection with the child support obligation under the following circumstances:

(A) When the parties agree.

(B) When the non-custodial parent's income is below the minimum income level for ordering cash child support in the Child Support Schedule.

(C) When the non-custodial parent's income is insufficient to cover the obligation(s) for the total number of children from all relationships.

(D) When the non-custodial parent is a teenager in school.

(E) When the non-cash services and resources are regular and reliable so that the obligation may be established lower in the range.

(2) The child support order shall specify the quantity, quality, condition and frequency of the non-cash services and resources.

- (3) Members of the non-custodial parent's extended family are welcome to contribute non-cash services and resources. They may be credited to the non-custodial parent's obligation if they meet the court's requirements.
- (4) Non-cash services and resources may include, but are not limited to:
  - (A) Help with extra sports and school activities or expenses.
  - (B) Day care provided by the non-custodial parent.
  - (C) School clothes.
  - (D) Car or home maintenance or repair.
  - (E) Firewood, fish, shellfish, game, or berries, but only by agreement of the parties.
  - (F) Tutoring or volunteering at the child's school.
  - (G) Transportation to the child's activities.
  - (H) Pow Wow regalia.
  - (I) Teaching treaty skills or cultural knowledge.
- (k) Health Insurance.
  - (1) The Agency shall make a recommendation as to the best health insurance coverage for the child. The Court shall include provision of health insurance for the child in every child support order.
    - (A) When health insurance is available at reasonable cost through one or both party's employment or union, that party (or both parties) shall provide coverage. "Reasonable cost" for the parent with the child support obligation means that when the child's portion of the health insurance premium is added to the basic child support obligation, the total obligation does not exceed the upper limit of the range.
    - (B) If health insurance is not available to either party at reasonable cost, a $0 health insurance order shall be entered. If the child is eligible for health care services through the Nation, another tribe or the Indian Health Service, one or both parties shall be ordered to cooperate with the appropriate entity to obtain services for the child.
    - (C) Routine medical expenses are included within the Schedule.

- (2) The Agency may make arrangements to enroll a child in a health insurance plan, consistent with a court order on health insurance.

Section 152. Child Support Schedule

- (a) The Child Support Schedule is based on the following:
  - (1) Specific descriptive and numeric criteria and results in a computation of an amount of child support, which is sufficient to meet the basic needs of a child for housing, clothing, food, education, health care, recreation, and goods and services required by physical or mental disability.
  - (2) The income of the non-custodial parent and the number of children there is a duty to support.
- (b) The Schedule provides for a range of payment levels for each income category. The level shall be adjusted to the circumstances of each case according to the factors set forth in Section 151(f).
- (c) Review Requirement. The Schedule shall be reviewed by the Agency every three years and any recommendations for amendment shall be provided to the Legislature.
- (d) Child Support Schedule. The Seminole Nation adopts the State of Oklahoma Child Support Schedule unless otherwise adopted by this Court.
- (e) Deviation from Schedule.
  - (1) It is against Nation policy to establish or enforce a non-voluntary child support order outside the range in the Seminole Nation Child Support Schedule that corresponds with the paying party's income level.
  - (2) The Agency may recommend and the Court may order a child support obligation set under the guidelines which is outside the range in the schedule only if the obligation is supported by agreement of the parties. If the child support order deviates from the range in the schedule, the Court shall enter a written finding stating the amount of support that would have been required under the schedule and justification as to why that amount would be unjust or inappropriate. [For example, it is intended that if the top of the range is $250 and the parties agree to $300, the order shall state this.]

Section 153. Child Support Review Hearings

(a) Purpose. The primary purpose of a child support review hearing is to give the parties and the Court an opportunity to ensure that child support payments are being made as provided in the order. Either party shall have the opportunity to:

- (1) Raise questions or concerns they have about a Parenting Plan;
- (2) Move for modification of the child support order; or
- (3) Request payments as provided in paragraphs (f) and (g) below.

(b) Timing. A mandatory review hearing shall be scheduled three (3) months after the child support order was issued. Thereafter, review hearings shall be scheduled every twelve months after the child support order was issued. The date for the first review hearing shall be set by the Court at the time the order is issued and no further notice of that hearing is necessary. The Agency shall notify the Court when it is time to schedule the annual review hearing for each case. The Court may order additional review hearings if it is necessary.

(c) Waiver. Except for the first, mandatory review hearing, a review hearing may be waived if both parties file a request to waive the hearing and the Agency agrees to the waiver.

(d) Enforcement of Child Support Order. If child support payments have not been made as required by the order, the Agency shall make a recommendation to the Court regarding appropriate enforcement of the child support order. In any case which involves Nation TANF or another tribe or a state, the Agency has the sole authority to raise enforcement issues and represent the interests of the child in receiving child support. If the Court finds that a child support obligation is overdue or if there is a history of non-compliance with the order, the Court shall order wage withholding or other means of enforcement, as provided in Sections 147(c) and 147(d).

(e) Modification of Child Support Order. Review hearings are not intended to be annual modification hearings. However, a party may file a motion for modification, as provided in Section 146, prior to the review hearing and, if timely filed, the Court may schedule a hearing on modification at the same time as the review hearing.

(f) Payment for Extraordinary Medical Expenses. The Court may order the paying party to make payments in addition to the regular child support payments upon presentation of receipts or other proper proof that the child has had extraordinary medical expenses as provided in Section 151(f)(4). Adjustments may be added to future payments, provided that no total monthly payment may exceed the upper limit of the scheduled range for the income of the paying party.

(g) Reimbursement.

- (1) Upon presentation of receipts or other proper proof, the Court may order reimbursement and/or repayment as follows.

- (A) Reimbursement to the paying party for work-related day care expenses paid but not utilized by the receiving party for work or work-related activities.
- (B) Repayment to the Nation by the party who received child support on behalf of a child who stopped residing for a month or longer with that party, if payment was originally made to the Nation.
- (2) Overpayment reimbursement shall be applied first to arrears owed. If no arrears are owed, the reimbursement may be paid directly or applied as a credit against future support.

Section 154. Court Appeals

- (a) Any interested party to the Court hearing may appeal a final Court order on a specific legal issue.
- (b) Procedure. An appeal to the Nation's Appellate Court may be taken from any order, decree, or judgment of the Court. Such appeal shall be taken in the same manner in which appeals are taken from judgments or decrees of the Court. The notice of appeal must be in writing and taken within thirty (30) days from the entry of the order, decree, or judgment appealed from.
- (c) Record for Purpose of Appeal. A record of proceedings shall be made available to the child, his parent, guardian, or custodian, the child's counsel, and others upon Court order. Costs of obtaining this record shall be paid by the party seeking the appeal.
- (d) Stay Pending Appeal. The pendency of an appeal shall not stay the order or decree appealed from in a child's case. Where the order or decree appealed from directs a change of legal custody of a child, the appeal shall be heard and decided at the earliest practicable time. The name of the child shall not appear on the record of appeal.

- (1) Identifying a need for procurement.
- (2) Selecting the appropriate means of acquiring supplies, equipment, goods, and services.
- (3) Evaluating proposals and/or quotes provided by independent vendors and/or suppliers of the supplies, equipment, goods, and/or services.

- (4) Selecting the appropriate vendor and/or supplier.
- (5) Monitoring the performance of the vendor and/or supplier;
- (6) Ensuring consistent procurement practices;
- (7) Increasing public confidence in the procedures followed in public procurement;
- (8) Ensuring the fair and equitable treatment of all persons who deal with the procurement system;
- (9) Increasing economy in procurement activities and maximizing to the fullest extent practicable the purchasing value of funds;
- (10) Providing safeguards for the maintenance of a procurement system of quality and integrity; and
- (11) Fulfilling public policy objectives such as Indian preference.

(b) Procurement procedures for small purchases, as defined in Section 803(t), should be simplified to the maximum extent feasible to reduce administrative costs and to promote economy and efficiency in contracting.

(c) Procurement transactions shall be made only in accordance with general or specific authorization and executed only by personnel acting within the scope of their authority.

(d) Proposed procurement shall be reviewed in order to avoid unnecessary or duplicative items, and to determine availability of funds needed for the procurement. Consideration shall be given to consolidating or breaking-out procurement to obtain more economical purchases.

(e) Procurement transactions shall be conducted in a manner to provide open and free competition to the maximum extent practical with due regard to other procurement requirements such as Indian preference.

(f) Indian preference may be applied in any procurement award when authorized and shall be applied when required by Federal law.

(g) Solicitations for goods and services shall incorporate a clear and accurate description of the technical requirements for the material, product or service to be procured. Such description shall not, in competitive procurement, contain features which shall unduly restrict competition. When it is impractical or uneconomical to make a clear and accurate description of the technical requirements, a "brand name or equal" description may be used as a means to define performance or other salient requirements of the procurement.

(h) Solicitations shall clearly set forth all requirements which the bidder/offeror must fulfill and all other factors to be used in evaluating bids or proposals.

(i) Procurement awards shall be made only to responsible entities that possess the potential ability to perform successfully under the terms and conditions of a proposed procurement. Consideration shall be given to such matters as Indian ownership, contractor integrity, record of past performance, and financial and technical resources.

(j) Any and all bids may be rejected when it is in the Nation's interest to do so.

(k) No purchase shall waive sovereign immunity of the Seminole Nation without prior approval of the General Council or any other entity delegated to waive sovereign immunity in a limited capacity.

(l) A cost or price analysis shall be made in connection with every procurement action involving federal funds, including contract modifications. The method and scope chosen shall vary with the type of procurement action.

(a) Simplified procurement procedures are those relatively simple and informal procurement methods for securing services, supplies, or other property, e.g., purchase cards and purchase orders. Simplified procurement procedures shall be established for small purchases, as defined in Section 803(t). Authorized individuals shall make purchases using the simplified method that is most suitable, efficient, and economical based on the circumstances of each acquisition.

(b) Sealed bidding is a method of procurement that employs public solicitation of competitive bids and public opening of bids. For sealed bidding to be feasible, the following minimum conditions must be present:

- (1) complete, adequate, and realistic specification or purchase description available;
- (2) two or more responsible suppliers are willing and able to compete effectively for the Nation's business; and
- (3) the procurement lends itself to a firm, fixed-price contract, and selection of the successful bidder can appropriately be made on the basis of price.

(c) Competitive proposals are normally conducted with more than one source submitting an offer, and either a fixed-price or cost-reimbursement type contract is awarded. It is generally used when conditions are not appropriate for the use of sealed bids.

(d) Noncompetitive proposals shall be used when the award of a contract is not feasible under simplified procurement, sealed bidding, or competitive proposal procedures. Procurement is made through solicitation from only one source, or after solicitation of a number of sources, it is determined that competition is not adequate. Special steps will be taken to conduct the non-competitive proposals with an Indian-owned business when possible. Circumstances under which a contract may be awarded to noncompetitive proposals shall be limited to the following:

- (1) The item is available from only one responsible source;
- (2) An emergency exists which will not permit a delay which would occur with competitive solicitation;
- (3) When federal funds are involved, the federal agency which approved the grant or contract authorizes noncompetitive proposals;
- (4) After solicitation of a number of sources, competition is determined inadequate; and
- (5) Existing, installed equipment from a previous solicitation must be maintained for uniformity and system usage. (i.e. Computer Systems)

Payment and performance obligations for succeeding fiscal periods shall be subject to the availability and appropriation of funds for completion of the contract. Contractual agreements lasting two (2) or more years must be initiated by the responsible office and approved by the Executive Department.

(4) Standard of Review.

- (A) The Commission and the Seminole Nation Court shall give deference to the administrative expertise of the Chief Gaming Regulator and shall not set aside, modify, or remand any

- (i) The amount of such award shall be reduced by 10% if the tort claim is filed with the Enterprise more than ninety (90) days after the event allegedly giving rise to the claim; and
  - (ii) The amount of compensation awarded for any one person for personal injury, for any one occurrence for personal injury, or for any one occurrence for property damage may not exceed the amount of the public liability insurance each such category of personal injury or property damage maintained by the Gaming Operation for the express purposes of covering and satisfying tort claims.
- (D) The Commission and/or Seminole Nation Court upon appeal of the denial, in whole or in part, of a prize claim, after hearing, may award just and reasonable compensation if the full amount of an award determined to be due was not paid, provided that the amount of the award may not exceed the amount of the prize that the claimant establishes he or she was entitled to be awarded nor, in any case, an amount exceeding the maximum prize available in the game or gaming machine giving rise to the dispute.

- (E) Burden of Proof. The Appellant shall bear the burden of proof in any appeal filed pursuant to this Title.

(b) Registration. Every Non-gaming Vendor providing services or goods to the Gaming Operation, other than a federally, state, or tribally regulated publicly traded public utility company, shall be subject to a requirement to register with SNGA and provide such information to SNGA as SNGA may by regulation require prior to contracting with or providing such goods and/or services to the Gaming Operation.

Violation of any provisions of this code or any rules or regulations of the SNGA by a licensee, his agent, or employee shall be deemed contrary to the public health, safety, morals, good order, and general welfare of the Seminole Nation and the inhabitants of the Seminole Nation, and shall be grounds for refusing to grant or renew a License, grounds for suspension or revocation of a License, or grounds for the filing by SNGA of a civil action for forfeiture of a License in the Seminole Nation Court.

Once the NIGC Fine is satisfied, the definition of operating costs as defined in Section 501(a)(2) shall continue to apply for purposes of the monthly calculations of Adjusted Net Profit, and for purposes of calculating the amount of the regulatory fee payable to NIGC on a quarterly basis or on such schedule as the NIGC may specify by rule.

Rule 3.9.     Motions Permitted During Debate

When a question is under debate, only the following motions may be received, each having precedence in the order stated below:

Motion to Recess to Another Date (which is debatable)<sup>1</sup>

Motion to Adjourn (which is undebatable)<sup>2</sup>

Questions of Privilege<sup>3</sup>

Withdrawal of a Motion (which is undebatable)<sup>4</sup>

Motion to Suspend the Rules (which is undebatable)<sup>5</sup>

Motion to Table (which is undebatable)<sup>6</sup>

<sup>1</sup> A “Motion to Recess to Another Date” will allow the meeting to be recessed and continued on a later specified date without payment of any additional compensation to Council members. A “Motion to Recess to Another Date” takes precedence over all other motions. It is not debatable if made when another measure is before the Council. It is debatable if presented when no other measure is before the Council. The correct form for stating the motion is “I move that when the Council adjourns this meeting, adjournment be in the form of a recess to meet on (date) at (time).”

<sup>2</sup> A “Motion to Adjourn” takes precedence over all other motions except a motion to fix the time which to adjourn. It cannot be made while someone else has the floor or while a vote is being taken. A Motion to Adjourn cannot be debated or amended.

<sup>3</sup> A “Question of Privilege” is a motion pertaining to the rights and privileges of the Council or its members, such as disorder by spectators, physical conditions causing discomfort or endangerment of health. The proper way to state the motion is: “I move to a Question of Privilege.” If a question of privilege requires immediate action, it can interrupt a member's speech. The presiding officer may make an immediate decision on the motion without a vote if he determines it is a question of privilege, unless the motion is tabled by the Council prior to his decision. Once the presiding officer has disposed of the question of privilege the Council may return to considering the original question that was interrupted.

<sup>4</sup> A “Withdrawal of a Motion” may be made when a question is before an assembly and the person who made the motion withdraws or modifies it or substitutes another motion (which may be the informal request of another Council member or on his own) before a decision or amendment is made. When a motion is withdrawn, withdrawal of the second is unnecessary, and the effect is the same as if it had never been made.

<sup>5</sup> A “Motion to Suspend the Rules” applies only to the rules of order. Rules of order must not be suspended except for a definite purpose, and then a two-thirds vote is required. Rules in the Seminole Nation Constitution cannot be suspended even by unanimous consent, unless they provide for their suspension (such as the provision in Article VII, Section 1 allowing the Council to change the order of business set forth therein).

<sup>6</sup> The object of a “Motion to Table” is to postpone a subject so that it can be taken up later at the same or in a future meeting. The Motion to table should state whether the issue is referred to the Council, to the Executive Department or other Seminole Nation officers or staff persons or to a committee, or commission, or board for further study or information, and whether it should be

Call for the Question (which is undebatable)<sup>7</sup>

Motion to Amend (which is debatable).<sup>8</sup>

[HISTORY: Adopted by Resolution No. 94-40, May 7, 1994; re-adopted by TO 2003-14, September 27, 2003.]

Rule 3.10. Validity of Enactments

Unless provided otherwise by the Constitution, all enactments based upon a majority vote of those Council members present in their seat on the Council floor at the time the vote is taken and voting at a meeting at which a quorum of fifteen members and the Principal Chief, Assistant Chief or Temporary Chairperson is present shall be deemed valid. (Constitution, Article IV, Section 5; 21 S.N.C. § 101).

[HISTORY: Adopted by Resolution No. 94-40, May 7, 1994; re-adopted by TO 2003-14, September 27, 2003.]

Rule 3.11. Roll Call Voting

Voting on motions to approve and voting on motions to table or amend proposed ordinances or resolutions shall be by roll call vote. Each successive roll call vote thereafter shall commence with vote by the Council members of the band seated to the left of the band, which commenced the last roll call vote. The Council member whose name is called shall answer as follows. “Yes,” “No,” or “Abstain.” No statement shall be made by a Council member during the vote. Any Council member who is not in his seat when the vote is taken shall be counted as absent for the vote.

[HISTORY: Adopted by Resolution No. 94-40, May 7, 1994; re-adopted by TO 2003-14, September 27, 2003.]

placed on the next meeting agenda or postponed indefinitely. The motion may include the establishment of a special Council committee to study the measure.

<sup>7</sup> A “Call for the Question” is a motion that will terminate all debate and bring the membership to a direct vote on that immediate question, provided that a quorum is present and that a two-thirds majority of the membership votes to put the question to a vote without further debate.

<sup>8</sup> A “Motion to Amend” another motion takes precedence, only over the motion to be amended. The Motion to Amend can itself be amended, although such amendment of an amendment can't be altered further. Amendment may take any of the following forms:

- (1) To “add” or “insert” certain words or paragraphs
- (2) To “strike out” certain words or paragraphs
- (3) To “strike out” certain words and insert others
- (4) To substitute another resolution or paragraph on the same subject for the one that is pending.
- (5) To “divide the question” into two or more motions, as the mover specified, to be a separate vote on some point.

Rule 3.12. Reconsideration

After a motion has been made, carried or lost, any member who cast a vote with the majority may move for reconsideration of the question on the same day and such a motion shall take precedence over all other questions except a motion to adjourn. The original vote may be overturned only by two-thirds majority vote of the Council members present when the vote is taken.

[HISTORY: Adopted by Resolution No. 94-40, May 7, 1994; re-adopted by TO 2003-14, September 27, 2003.]

Rule 3.13. Documentation of Motions; Maintenance of Records

Every proper motion shall be reduced to writing by the Attorney General and General Council Secretary and shall be noted on the minutes with the name of the person making it unless withdrawn that same day. All verbal ordinances and resolutions passed shall be documented pursuant to the requirements of (21 S.N.C. Sec. 101), original signed minutes, original signed ordinances, and original signed resolutions shall be maintained pursuant to (21 S.N.C. Sec. 106). Copies of documents shall be certified pursuant to (21 S.N.C. Sect. 107).

Unless inconsistent therewith, rental agreements shall supplement these minimum rights and responsibilities.

(b) Terms Prohibited in Rental Agreements. No rental agreement shall provide that the tenant agrees: (1) to waive or forfeit his rights or remedies under this Ordinance or any other applicable laws as identified in § 104; (2) to exculpate or limit the liability of the landlord or to indemnify the landlord for that liability or the costs connected therewith; (3) to permit the landlord to dispossess a tenant without resort to court order; or (4) to pay a late charge prior to the expiration of the grace period set forth in § 301(a). A provision prohibited by this subsection shall be void and unenforceable.

(b) Such rules and regulations are enforceable against the tenant only if:

- (1) their purpose is to promote the convenience, safety or welfare of the tenants in the premises, preserve the landlord's property from abusive use, or make a fair distribution of services and facilities held out for all the tenants generally;
- (2) the rules and regulations are reasonably related to the purpose for which they are adopted;

- (3) the rules and regulations apply to all tenants in the premises in a fair manner;
- (4) the rules and regulations are sufficiently explicit in their prohibition, direction or limitation of the tenant's conduct to fairly inform him of what he shall or shall not do to comply.

(c) If a rule or regulation that would result in a substantial modification of the terms of the rental agreement is adopted after the tenant enters into the rental agreement, such rule or regulation is not valid as to that rental agreement unless the tenant consents to such rule or regulation in writing.

(j) Give sole possession of the dwelling unit to the tenant in accordance with the rental agreement and refrain from:

- (1) entering the unit, except as authorized in § 204(k);

- (f) Pay reasonable charges for the repair of damages, other than normal wear and tear, to the dwelling unit, premises, or common areas caused by the tenant or his guests, or to repair such damages as required under the rental agreement, within thirty (30) calendar days of such damage.

(g) Conduct himself, and require his guests to conduct themselves, in a manner which does not disturb the quiet enjoyment of others or cause a breach of the peace.

(h) Not give up the dwelling unit to others, assign a lease arrangement, or sublease the dwelling unit without the written or oral permission of the landlord.

(i) Use the dwelling unit only for residential purposes as agreed, and not to use the unit or permit its use for any other purpose, including illegal conduct or any other activity which may harm the physical or social environment of the premises or the area around it.

(j) Abide by all rules and regulations promulgated by the landlord in accordance with § 202 of this Ordinance.

Where a landlord has not complied with his responsibilities regarding dwelling unit conditions, as set forth in § 203 of this Ordinance or with the terms of his lease, and where the tenant has given notice to the landlord and the landlord has failed, within a reasonable period of time (such period shall be of not less than 30 days), to cure his noncompliance, the tenant may:

- (1) Withhold rent in cases where the landlord's noncompliance renders the dwelling unit uninhabitable;
- (2) Make necessary repairs and deduct the cost of such repairs from his rent;

- (C) such other relief in law or equity as the court may deem proper, provided that no tenant may institute such an action if a valid notice to quit based upon nonpayment of rent has been served on him prior to his institution of the action. Where a landlord violates his responsibilities as set forth in § 203(i) or § 203(j) of this Ordinance, damages shall be not less than an amount equal to one month's rent and tenant shall be further entitled to reasonable attorney's fees; or

Section 301. Grounds for Eviction

(b) Purpose of Notice to Quit. The purpose of the notice to quit is to provide advance notice to the tenant of a specific problem which needs to be addressed. It is also intended to induce the tenant to enter into discussions with the landlord in order to resolve the problem.

(c) Statement of Grounds for Eviction Required. The notice to quit shall be addressed to the adult tenants of the dwelling unit and shall state the legally cognizable reasons(s) for termination of the tenancy and the date by which the tenant is required to quit possession of the dwelling unit.

(d) Form of Notice. The notice shall be in writing substantially in the following form:

“I (or we) hereby give you notice that you are to quit possession or occupancy of the dwelling unit now occupied by you at (here insert the address or other reasonable description of the location of the dwelling unit), on or before the (here insert the date) for the following reason (here insert the legally cognizable reason(s) for the notice to quit possession using the statutory language or words of similar import). In situations in which there is an emergency, such as a fire or condition making the dwelling unsafe or uninhabitable, or in situations involving an imminent or serious threat to public health or safety, the notice may be made in a period of time which is reasonable, given the situation.
- (3) No less than fourteen (14) calendar days in all other situations.

(f) Indian Housing Authority Termination Notice. When the landlord is an Indian Housing Authority, the housing authority termination notice shall qualify as the notice to quit required under this section so long as the time requirements of the housing authority termination notice are at least as long as the time requirements set forth in § 302(e) of this Ordinance.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2003-11, March 4, 2003; section and subsection numbering scheme modified on August 26, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

- (2) Personally delivered to an adult living in the premises with a copy delivered by mail, or

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2003-11, March 4, 2003; section and subsection numbering scheme modified on August 26, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 304. Pre-Eviction Options

(a) Negotiated Settlement. After a notice to quit is served upon a tenant, the landlord and tenant may engage in discussions to avoid a proceeding to evict and to settle the issues between the parties. The agreement to enter into discussions will not affect the rights of the parties unless the parties reach an agreement to waive any of their rights.

(b) Stay of Proceedings. Where the parties mutually agree in good faith to proceed with such discussions, and judicial eviction procedures have been initiated, the court will stay such proceedings until it is notified by one or both parties that a hearing is required or that a settlement has been reached.

(c) Settlement Options. In reaching an agreement, the parties may consider, but are not limited to the following options:

- (1) The parties may employ the use of advocates or attorneys;
- (2) The parties may employ the use of a mediator or conciliator;
- (3) The parties may agree to arbitrate the issues in binding arbitration;

- (4) The parties may agree to options set forth in Section § 408(a)(4)-(8);
- (5) The parties may agree to any other barter for services and goods, or to any other means of securing a fair exchange of value for the use of the dwelling;

CHAPTER FOUR

JUDICIAL EVICTION PROCEDURES

Section 401. Summons and Complaint

If, after the date set forth in the notice to quit for the tenant to quit possession of the dwelling unit, the tenant has not quit possession, the landlord may file a complaint in the Tribal Court for eviction and such other relief as the Court may deem just and proper. The complaint shall state:

- (a) The names of the adult tenant(s) against whom the suit is brought;
- (b) A description of the rental agreement, if any;
- (c) The address or reasonable description of the location of the premises;
- (d) The grounds for eviction;
- (e) A statement showing that the notice to quit and any required termination notices have been served in accordance with this Ordinance or other applicable law; and
- (f) A statement of the relief demanded, including any claim(s) for possession of the dwelling unit, damages, fees, costs, or other special relief.
- (g) If the landlord is an Indian Housing Authority, a statement that the Indian Housing Authority has complied with all required regulatory processes prior to filing the eviction action.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2003-11, March 4, 2003; section and subsection numbering scheme modified on August 26, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 402. Action Upon Filing Complaint

When a complaint is filed in the Tribal Court, it shall be immediately presented to a Tribal Court Judge. This shall be on the date of filing, or, if no judge is present, on the first regular court day after filing or when a judge may first be found. The judge shall review the complaint and shall, if it appears to be in compliance with § 401 and served as set forth in § 303, issue an order of the Court requiring the defendant named in the complaint to appear before the Court on a certain date to contest the complaint. The date for appearance for answering the complaint shall be no less than three (3) calendar days after the date of the order in matters involving serious nuisance or ten (10) calendar days in all other cases. Upon setting of the date for appearance, the plaintiff shall have defendant served with the complaint and a summons to appear for the court date.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2003-11, March 4, 2003; section numbering scheme modified on August 26, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 403. Commencement of Proceedings

(a) If the tenant appears before the Court in person or in writing to contest the complaint, the Court shall set a hearing date. Any written response shall state any defenses or factual disputes and where any defendant appears in person, a written response shall be served upon the plaintiff within five (5) calendar days of any hearing, excluding weekends and holidays.

(b) The Court shall set a hearing date which is no more than fifteen (15) calendar days following the date for appearance, except when the hearing date would fall on a weekend or holiday, and in such a situation on the first regular court day following that date.

(c) A defendant may, for good cause shown, and upon the payment of a reasonable sum for the fair rental value of the premises between the date on which the complaint was filed and the date of hearing, obtain an extension of time, beyond the fifteen (15) day period. The Court may refuse to extend the date of hearing where the complaint is based upon nuisance or injuries provided in § 301(c), and shall not extend the date of hearing where the complaint is based upon conduct which is alleged to constitute a serious danger to public health, safety, or peace.

(d) The Court may, in its discretion, on motion from the landlord, order the tenant to pay into the Court rents for the use and occupancy during the pendency of the eviction case.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2003-11, March 4, 2003; section and subsection numbering scheme modified on August 26, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 404. Defenses

The Court shall grant the remedies allowed in this Ordinance, unless it appears by the evidence that:

(a) The premises are untenable, uninhabitable, or constitute a situation where there is a constructive eviction of the tenant, in that the premises are in such a condition, due to the fault of the landlord, that they constitute a real and serious hazard to human health and safety and not a mere inconvenience.

(b) The landlord has failed or refused to make repairs which are his responsibility after a reasonable demand by a tenant to do so, without good cause, and the repairs are necessary for the reasonable enjoyment of the premises.

(c) There are monies due and owing to the tenant because he has been required to make repairs which are the obligation of the landlord and the landlord has failed or refused to make them after a reasonable notice. Such sums may be a complete or partial defense to a complaint for eviction, but only to the extent that such sums set off monies owed for occupancy. A tenant may be evicted after such a period if he fails or refuses to pay the reasonable rental value of the premises.

(d) That due to the conduct of the landlord, there is injury to the tenant in such a way that justice requires that relief be modified or denied. This shall include the equitable defenses of estoppel, laches, fraud, misrepresentation, and breaches of serious and material obligations for public health, safety, and peace standards.

(e) That there are such serious and material breaches of applicable housing law on the part of the landlord that it would be unjust to grant him a remedy.

(f) The landlord is evicting the tenant because of his/her race, sex, sexual orientation, religion, age, marital status, family status, or because the tenant is disabled.

(g) The landlord terminated the tenancy in retaliation for the tenant's attempt to secure his rights under this Ordinance or to force the landlord to comply with his duties under this Ordinance.

(h) Any other material or relevant fact the tenant might present that may explain why his eviction is unjust and unfair.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2003-11, March 4, 2003; section and subsection numbering scheme modified on August 26, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 405. Discovery and Pre-hearing Proceedings

Extensive, prolonged, or time-consuming discovery and prehearing proceedings will not be permitted, except in the interests of justice and for good cause shown by the moving party. Discovery shall be informal, and reasonably provided on demand of a party, and it shall be completed no less than five (5) calendar days before the date of hearing. Requests for discovery shall be made no later than three (3) calendar days following the setting of a hearing date. The court may enter reasonable orders requiring discovery or protecting the rights of the parties upon reasonable notice.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2003-11, March 4, 2003; section numbering scheme modified on August 26, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 406. Evidence

Evidence in proceedings under this Ordinance shall be informal, and may include relevant and reliable hearsay evidence if such evidence is not the basis for a final decision. The books and records of the parties as to the payment or nonpayment of monies owed will be received in evidence and the files and business records of the landlord with respect to the agreement of the parties will be received in evidence upon their presentation to the Court; provided, however, that a tenant may examine the custodian of such records as to their contents. All hearings will be informal and designed to receive evidence in a fair and just manner. At the discretion of the judge, evidence may be excluded if its value as proof is outweighed by the risk that its admission will create a substantial risk of undue prejudice; confuse the issues; or, mislead the jury, or unfairly surprise the opposing party. Upon request of a party, the Court may take judicial notice, of specific facts which are so certain as not to be subject to reasonable dispute.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2003-11, March 4, 2003; section numbering scheme modified on August 26, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 407. Burden of Proof

The burden of proof in all proceedings under this Ordinance shall be preponderance of the evidence showing an assertion or defense to be more likely true than not.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2003-11, March 4, 2003; section numbering scheme modified on August 26, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 408. Judgment

(a) Within five (5) calendar days of the date of the hearing, the Court shall grant and enter judgment and the judgment shall grant all relief that the parties are entitled to as of the date of the judgment. The judgment may:

- (1) Order the immediate eviction of a tenant and delivery of the premises to the landlord;
- (2) Grant actual damages as provided in the agreement of the parties or this Ordinance, including interest;
- (3) Order the parties to carry out an obligation required by law;
- (4) Establish a payment plan for the tenant;
- (5) Order rent payments out of per capita payment or through garnishment;
- (6) Establish a Power of Attorney in another person/agency to fulfill rights or obligations of either landlord or tenant;
- (7) Remediate the action in part or in whole through appropriate recalculation of rent;
- (8) Order the tenant to perform work for the landlord or the owner to pay off back rent due and/or damages;
- (9) Order the payment of attorneys' fees and, where allowed by law or agreement, costs and expenses of litigation;
- (10) Order the parties into negotiations as provided in Section § 304 of this Ordinance; or

(11) Grant any relief provided in this Ordinance or allowed in law or equity.

(b) If a tenant fails to appear in person or in writing on or before the date of appearance, the Court shall enter judgment on behalf of the plaintiff following a hearing to determine whether relief should be granted and the kind of relief that should be granted.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2003-11, March 4, 2003; section and subsection numbering scheme modified on August 26, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 409. Form of Judgment

The judgment shall state the relief granted by the Court to any party, but need not state findings of fact or conclusions of law in support of the judgment. The judgment may state brief reasons for it. If a trial is held, the judge should, whenever possible, render his decision immediately after both parties have rested their case and award costs and restitution as appropriate.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2003-11, March 4, 2003; section numbering scheme modified on August 26, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 410. Execution of Judgment

(a) An eviction order may be executed by a duly authorized law enforcement officer or officer of the Court, appointed by the Court for such a purpose. To execute the order, the officer shall:

- (1) remove all the evicted persons from the dwelling and verbally order them not to re-enter;
- (2) provide a copy of the order of eviction to all adult tenants;
- (3) post copies of the order of eviction on the doors of the premises if there is not any adult tenant present at the time of execution; and
- (4) supervise the removal of the possessions of the evicted persons.

(b) Any law enforcement officer shall, upon receipt of an order of the Court, execute the judgment or order within five (5) calendar days of the date of the judgment or order and make a report to the Court on what was done to enforce it. Any law enforcement officer to whom a judgment or order is given for enforcement who fails, in the absence of good faith, or refuses to execute it shall be subject to the payment of reasonable damages, costs, and expenses to a party for failure to execute the judgment and/or suspension from employment. This Section shall also apply to any judgment on behalf of a tenant obtained under the general tribal civil procedure Ordinance and/or tribal small claims procedure Ordinance. All other portions of the judgment shall be subject to execution in the manner otherwise provided under tribal law.

GROUP DWELLING COVERAGE BENEFIT PROGRAM AND REGULATION ACT

This Act may be cited as the Seminole Nation Group Dwelling Coverage Benefit Program and Regulation Act (“Act”).

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2009-12, September 5, 2009.]

Section 902. Findings

The Seminole Nation General Council finds that:

- (a) Access to decent, safe and affordable housing is a key component in furthering the health and welfare of its citizens;
- (b) The Nation has created a variety of housing programs to achieve that objective, and participates in a number of federal programs that have the same objective;
- (c) The Nation’s housing objectives cannot be achieved without the availability of adequate and affordable insurance coverage for housing occupied by its citizens;
- (d) Adequate insurance coverage is generally prohibitively expensive for many citizens of the Nation;
- (e) The purchase of dwelling coverage on a group basis or the creation of a self- insured housing risk pool administered by the Nation enables the Nation to make dwelling coverage available to all of its citizens within the Nation’s service area and is the only practical way of fulfilling the need for adequate and affordable dwelling coverage; and
- (f) It is necessary to establish a regulatory scheme that will assure the operation of the Group Dwelling Coverage Benefit Program for the benefit of its citizens.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2009-12, September 5, 2009; subsection numbering scheme modified on August 26, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

The notice regarding appeal rights shall be mailed in a manner consistent with Section 710 of Title 16 of the Code of Laws of the Seminole Nation, provided that if an appealable decision is personally served on the person affected, the notice of appeal rights shall be attached to the decision, in which case mailing of the notice shall not be required.

(b) Appeals to Administrative Appeals Board. All appeals of Judgment Fund Programs actions authorized pursuant to Section 108(a) shall be conducted by the Administrative Appeals Board of the Seminole Nation pursuant to Title 16, Chapter Seven of the Code of Laws of the Seminole Nation.

If the thirtieth day should fall on a holiday or on a weekend, the appeal must be received no later than the day immediately following the holiday or weekend. The appeal shall be date-stamped at time of receipt by the Judgment Fund Program Coordinator, who shall provide a copy to the applicant. The appeal may be simply stated, but shall specify the particular ground(s) upon which it is based and the action or relief requested. It shall be signed by the person appealing. The Coordinator shall promptly notify a designated person in the Executive Office that an appeal has been filed, and the designated person shall be responsible for contacting the Appeals Board Chairman and securing a hearing date from him.

(d) Finality of Decision. If the applicant does not file a timely appeal, then he waives his right to a hearing before the Administrative Appeals Board, and the Coordinator's decision will become final. If the applicant files an appeal, the decision made by the Administrative Appeals Board shall be final. A determination of program overpayment requiring an offset against a subsequent program benefit or a finding of ineligibility with regard to one Judgment Fund Program that is based upon an eligibility factor which would affect program eligibility for any other Judgment Fund program shall be deemed conclusive, and denial of such other program benefits based on such factor shall be unappealable.

The Seminole Nation makes the following findings relating to its Seminole tribal members in households or family units:

- (b) Seminole tribal households and/or families are enduring severe financial hardship due, but not limited to, factors such as increasing unemployment, continued increases in the cost of living, low incomes related to underemployment, rising medical costs, and decreasing funds through federal and state assistance programs;
- (c) Severe economic need attributable to these factors is apparent among tribal members nationally as well as locally; and

(c) Nothing in this section shall deprive the District Court of jurisdiction to appoint a guardian for a child nor of jurisdiction to determine the legal custody of a child upon writ of

(b) The Juvenile Court shall determine whether the transfer from the state court would be detrimental to the best interest of the child in a transfer hearing initiated by the Nation after the order or request of transfer is received by the Court Clerk. In making such determination, the Court may consider:

- (1) Whether the child or its family will be in need of special services for physical or mental disease or defect which the Nation and its resources are unable to adequately provide,

(b) The Juvenile Court shall determine whether the transfer to the Nation's jurisdiction would be detrimental to the best interest of the child in a transfer hearing initiated by the Nation after an order or request of transfer is received by the Court Clerk. In making such determination, the Court may consider:

- (1) Whether the child or its family will be in need of special services for physical or mental disease or defect which the Nation and its resources are unable to adequately provide,
- (2) If transfer is tendered prior to adjudication, whether the witnesses necessary to adjudicate the case will be available. If the witnesses will probably not appear, the Court should decline to accept the transfer until after the adjudication is completed; and
- (3) Any other matters which may adversely affect the Nation's ability to provide treatment or necessary services to the family.

(c) If the Juvenile Court accepts a transferred case, the transferring court shall transmit all documents and legal and social records, or certified copies thereof, to the Juvenile Court. The transferred case shall proceed as if originally filed in the Juvenile Court. Transferred cases shall be assigned a Juvenile Court case number as in other cases.   - (1) The best interests of the child,

  - (3) If transfer is requested prior to adjudication, whether witnesses necessary to the adjudication can attend in the receiving jurisdiction,
  - (4) Emotional, cultural, and social ties of the child and its family; and
  - (5) The likelihood that the same child and family would return to the Nation's jurisdiction within a reasonable time and come before the Juvenile Court again.

(c) Upon finding a transfer is appropriate, the Court may order or request transfer as provided in this Section. The Court shall serve a certified copy of the Order or Request to Accept Transfer, the legal case file, and any social or police reports concerning the child's case to the Court Clerk of the receiving jurisdiction by certified mail, return receipt requested. The Juvenile Court may retain physical custody of the child pending an order or notice of acceptance from the receiving jurisdiction, and upon receiving such order or notice, may close the case file and dismiss the case subject to any necessary order for the protection of the child until completion of physical transfer to the receiving jurisdiction.

CHAPTER TWO EMERGENCY CUSTODY

Section 201. Taking Children into Custody

(a) A child may be taken into temporary custody by a law enforcement officer without order of the Court when there are reasonable grounds to believe that:

- (1) The child has committed an action which would be a major crime, misdemeanor, or Tribal ordinance violation if committed by an adult; except that wildlife, parks, outdoor recreation, and traffic violations shall be handled as otherwise provided by law;
- (2) The child is abandoned, lost, or seriously endangered in its surroundings or seriously endangering others and immediate removal appears to be necessary for its protection or the protection of others;
- (3) The child has run away or escaped from its parent(s), guardian, or legal custodian; or
- (4) The child has violated the conditions of probation and is under the continuing jurisdiction of the Juvenile Court.

(b) A child may be detained temporarily without an order of the Court by an adult other than a law enforcement officer if the child has committed or is committing an act in the presence of such adult which would be a violation of any federal or Tribal law, other than a violation of traffic and game and fish laws or regulations, if committed by an adult. Any person detaining a child shall notify, without unnecessary delay, a law enforcement officer, who shall assume custody of said child.

(c) A medical doctor, physician, or similar licensed practitioner of medicine may temporarily detain, without an order of the Court, a child brought before him for treatment whom he reasonably suspects to be the victim of child abuse. Any person detaining a child due to possible child abuse shall notify, without unnecessary delay, a law enforcement officer who shall assume custody of the child. The law enforcement officer assuming custody shall have the authority to consent to the admission of the child to a medical facility and to consent to emergency medical treatment necessary to protect the life or health of the child from danger of imminent harm. The opinion of two or more licensed medical doctors that treatment for a condition could not reasonably be delayed for a period long enough to contact a Judge for an emergency medical treatment order shall create a presumption that the law enforcement officer properly gave his consent to treatment of the child.

(d) A traditional custodian may take a child into their custody when under tribal custom or common law they are vested with responsibility for the protection or care of a child and they reasonably believe under the circumstances before them that the child is in need of care, supervision or protection from harm. Upon taking the child into custody, the traditional custodian should promptly contact the Court or the Child Welfare Program concerning their actions.

(e) In all other cases, a child may be taken into custody only upon an order of the Court.

(f) The taking of a child into temporary custody under this section is not an arrest nor does it constitute a police record.

Section 202. Notification of Parents

Such notification may be made to a person with whom the child is residing if a parent, guardian, or legal custodian cannot be located. If the officer taking the child into custody is unable to make such notification, it may be made by any other law enforcement officer, probation counselor, detention center counselor, or jailor in whose physical custody the child is placed.

He shall also promptly file a brief written report with the Prosecuting Attorney, the Social Services Department, and any agency or person so designated by the Court stating the facts which led to the child being taken into custody and the reason why the child was not released. This report shall be filed within twenty-four (24) hours excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays.

(b) The child shall be released to the care of his parents or other responsible adult, unless his immediate welfare or the protection of the community requires that the child be detained. The parent or other person to whom the child is released may be required to sign a written promise, on forms supplied by the Court, to bring the child to the court at a time set or to be set by the Court.

(c) If the child is not released as provided in subsection (b) of this section, the child shall be taken directly to the Court or to the detention facility or shelter approved by the department and designated by the Court without unnecessary delay unless admitted to a facility for medical treatment pursuant to Section 201(c) of this Title.

(d) No child shall be detained pursuant to subsection (c) for a period exceeding seventy-two hours exclusive of Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays without an order of the Court. If not Court order is issued within such time, the child must be released.

(e) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (d) of this section, a child who is alleged to be a runaway from another Tribal jurisdiction or a state may be held in a detention facility or shelter up to seven days, during which time arrangements shall be made for returning the child to his parent, or legal custodian.

No such child shall thereafter be released from detention except after a hearing, reasonable advanced notice of which has been given to the Prosecuting Attorney, alleging new circumstances concerning the further detention of the child.

(b) When, following a detention hearing as provided for by subsection (a) of this section, the Court orders further detention of a child, a petition alleging the child to be delinquent shall be filed with the Court without unnecessary delay if one has not been previously filed, and the child shall be held in detention pending a hearing on the petition.

(c) Nothing herein shall be construed as depriving a child of right to bail under the same circumstances as an adult.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2009-04, December 5, 2009; approved by BIA

Section 206. Court Ordered Release

At any time prior to the filing of a petition and entry of an emergency custody order on that petition, the Court may order the release of any child, except children being held pursuant to section 201 of this Title, from detention or shelter care without holding a hearing, either without restriction or upon written promise of the parent, guardian, or legal custodian to bring the child to the Court at a time set or to be set by the Court.

The exception shall be used by the Court only if no other suitable place of confinement is available.

(c) A child fourteen (14) years of age or older shall be detained separately from adult offenders or persons charged with crime, including any child ordered by the Court to be held for criminal proceedings.

  - (C) That the conduct or condition of the parent or parents is unlikely to change within a reasonable time.

(b) In determining unfitness, conduct, or condition, the Court shall find that continuation of the legal relationship between parent and child is likely to result in grave risk of death or serious injury to the child or that the conduct or condition of the parent or parents rendered the parent or parents unable or unwilling to give the child reasonable parental care. In making such determinations, the Court shall consider, but not be limited to, the following:

- (1) Emotional illness, mental illness, or mental deficiency of the parent of such duration or nature as to render the parent unlikely within a reasonable time to care for the ongoing physical, mental, and emotional needs of the child;
- (2) Conduct towards the child of a physically or sexually abusive nature;

- (4) A single incident of life-threatening or gravely disabling injury or disfigurement of the child;

The Court shall review and order, if necessary, an evaluation of the child's physical, mental, and emotional conditions.

(b) No order or decree entered pursuant to this Chapter shall disentitle a child to any benefit due him from any third person, including, but not limited to, any Indian Tribe, any agency, any state, or the United States.

(c) After the termination of a parent-child legal relationship, the former parent is not entitled to any notice of proceedings for the adoption of the child by another, nor has he any right to object to the adoption or to otherwise participate in such proceedings.

Provided: that adoptive traditional custodians shall also succeed to these rights and duties.

(b) The rights and duties of the traditional custodians and grandparents may be enforced by court order whenever it appears in the child's best interest to do so, provided that all interested parties shall be given notice and an opportunity to be heard.

(b) In cases of necessity, the Court may order a traditional custodian to assist in providing the necessities of life within that custodian's means, after a hearing, whether the child has been placed in his own home or elsewhere.

No final order shall be entered by the Court unless it appears to the Court the adoption is in the best interests of the child. In any case where the Court finds that the best interest of the child will not be served by the adoption, a guardian shall be appointed and suitable arrangements for the care of the child shall be made and the Court may request tribal agencies or federal agencies or other agencies authorized to provide services to assist in the placement and the care of the child.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2009-04, December 5, 2009; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 716. Contents of Adoption Order

The final order of adoption shall include such facts as are necessary to establish that: the child is within the jurisdiction of the court; eligible for adoption; the adoptive parents and home are adequate and capable for the proper care of the child, as shown by the investigation reports and the findings of the Court upon the evidence adduced at the hearings; the new name of the child, if any; and that the relationship of parent and child exists between the petitioners and the child.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2009-04, December 5, 2009; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 717. Effect of Final Decree of Statutory Adoption

(a) After a final decree of adoption pursuant to this Subchapter is entered, the relationship of parent and child, and all the rights, duties, and other legal consequences of the natural relation of a child and parent shall thereafter exist between such adopted child, the adopting parent, and the kindred of the adopting parents. The adopted child shall inherit real and personal property from the adopting family and the adopting family shall inherit from the child in accordance with law as if such child were the natural child of the adopting parent(s).

(b) After a final decree of adoption pursuant to this Subchapter is entered, the natural parents of the adopted child, unless they are the adoptive parents or the spouse of an adoptive parent, shall be relieved and terminated from all parental rights and responsibilities for said child, including the right to inherit from the child, provided that the child shall remain eligible to inherit from said natural parents, and retain all rights to membership in the Nation by virtue of his birth to said natural parents.

(c) Unless the traditional custodians and grandparents of a child have given their consent to the adoption of the child, or have had their custodial rights terminated in the same manner that a parent consent or has their rights terminated, the Court, at any time within two years after the final decree of adoption or refusal of the adoptive parents to allow visitation, whichever is later, may, upon application of a natural traditional custodian or a natural grandparent, order reasonable visitation rights in favor of said person if the Court deems such visitation in the best interest of the child. The Court may enforce such visitation rights and make orders thereto at any time after timely filing of an application therefore. Notice of such application shall be served upon the adoptive parents as a summons is served.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2009-04, December 5, 2009; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 718. Records and Hearing Confidential

Unless the court shall otherwise order:

(a) All hearings held in proceedings under this Subchapter shall be confidential and shall be held in closed court without admittance of any person other than the interested parties, including traditional custodians, representatives of the Social Services Department when deemed necessary by the Court, persons whose presence is requested by the parties in private before the Court after the exclusion of all other persons, and the counsel for the parties, traditional custodians, and the Social Services Department.

(b) All papers, records, and files pertaining to the adoption shall be kept as a permanent record of the Court and withheld from inspection. No person shall have access to such records except:

- (1) Upon order of the court for good cause shown;
- (2) Upon the adopted person reaching the age of eighteen, the adopted person may review the records unless the natural parents have by affidavit requested anonymity in which case their names and identifying characteristics, not including tribal membership and degree of blood, shall be deleted prior to allowing the adopted person access to the records;
- (3) The traditional custodian and natural grandparents shall have access to the records unless the natural parents have, by affidavit, requested anonymity, in which case, the names and identifying characteristics shall be deleted prior to allowing them access to the records as in the preceding paragraph. If the adopting parent request anonymity, by affidavit, the traditional custodians and natural grandparents may have access to the records only by order of the Court for good cause shown, and then only if the court deems such request in the best interest of the child; or

- (4) For the purpose of obtaining the enrollment of the child with another Indian Tribe, the Court may, upon request of an enrollment officer of that Tribe, certify to that officer pertinent facts to enable that officer to determine the eligibility of the child for membership in that Tribe subject to the written guarantee, with an undertaking if deemed necessary by the Court, that such facts will remain confidential and divulged only to those persons who must know the facts to obtain the enrollment of the child. In the alternative, and in cases where the natural or adoptive parents, have, by affidavit, requested anonymity, the Court may certify a copy of the record of the case to a Judge of the Court of the other Tribe for an in camera review only, or allow such Judge to review the record in the District Court, in camera, for the purpose of said Judge certifying to his Tribe that the child is eligible for membership in that Tribe.

Section 719. Certificates of Adoption

(a) For each adoption or annulment of adoption, the Court shall prepare, within thirty days after the decree becomes final, a certificate of such decree on a form furnished by the registrar of vital statistics of the State or other jurisdiction having issued the birth certificate of said child, and shall attach thereto certified copies of the petition and decree of adoption, and any other information required by law by the registrar.

(b) Such form and certified copies, along with any other pertinent information requested by the jurisdiction having issued the birth certificate shall be forwarded forthwith to the registrar of vital statistics of the appropriate jurisdiction.

(c) One certified copy of the form certificate, petition, and decree of adoption may be forwarded to the Secretary of the Interior. The material forwarded to the Secretary shall also contain a Judges certificate showing:

- (1) The original and adoptive name and tribal affiliation of the child;
- (2) The names, addresses, tribal affiliation and degree of blood when known of the biological parents;
- (3) The names and addresses of the adoptive parents;
- (4) The identity of agencies having filed information relating to the adoptive placement; and

- (5) Any affidavit of the biological parent requesting that their identity remain confidential.

Section 720. Foreign Decree

When the relationship of parent and child has been created by a decree of adoption by any Court of competent jurisdiction of any other nation, or its political subdivisions having authority to enter such decrees, the rights and obligations of the parties as to matters within the jurisdiction of this Nation shall be determined by section 722 of this Chapter.

Section 721. Adoption of Adults

(a) An adult person may be adopted by any other adult person with the consent of the person to be adopted, or his guardian, if the Court shall approve, and with the consent of the spouse of the adopting parent, if any, filed in writing with the Court. The consent of the adopted adult's parents shall not be necessary unless said adult has been adjudicated incompetent, nor shall an investigation be made. Such adoption shall follow the procedure otherwise set forth in Title 19. Such adoption shall create the relationship of parent and child between the parties, but shall not destroy the parent-child relationship with the biological parents, unless specifically requested by the adopted adult in writing in open Court. Unless so requested, the legal effect of such decree, for all purposes, including inheritance, but not including tribal enrollment eligibility, shall be that the adopted person is the child of both sets of parents equally.

(b) Proceedings and records relating to the adoption of an adult shall be open to the public as are the records of other civil cases.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2009-04, December 5, 2009; approved by BIA February 2, 2012.]

Section 722. Appeals

An appeal to the Supreme Court may be taken from any final order, judgment, or decree rendered hereunder by any person aggrieved thereby in the manner provided for civil appeals.

All wells shall have surface pipe set to the depth of 1,000 feet or the bottom of the hole, whichever is less. Cement shall be circulated from the top to the bottom. In all injection wells in which casing is set, tubing shall be run and injection made through the tubing with a packer set above the perforations in the producing sands. To obtain a drilling permit, the requesting party shall file a written application with the Secretary of the General Council. Such application shall define the drilling area and fix the location where the proposed well will be drilled and shall contain a statement as to the number of lots in the drilling area on which the applicant holds oil and gas leases or contracts for such leases from the property owner. The petition shall also state that applicant has more than fifty-one percent (51%) of the property under lease, and what percentage of the total property in the area applicant has under lease. Said petition shall be sworn to as true and correct by applicant or a duly authorized agent or attorney for applicant and before some officer authorized to administer oaths. There shall be attached to the application a plot or map showing the location of the well and the proposed location of the tanks, pits, pipe lines, and embankments. If the application shows that the applicant is the owner of the leases covering all the property in the drilling area, the Secretary may grant a permit for such well, provided that such permit shall not be used by applicant until the applicant has complied with all the requirements in relation to the drilling of a well within the above described limits of the Seminole Nation. [HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2013-07, May 14, 2013; section numbering scheme of this Chapter 3 modified on August 26, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 313. Designations of Local Management Areas

The Director of the Environmental Quality Office may, upon the recommendation of other Tribal Departments or any person, isolate and define, within the surface and groundwater systems in which individual water uses are to some degree related by reason of common supply, “local management areas,” such as municipal water districts or irrigation districts, for specialized administration under regulations adopted pursuant to this Code.

SUBCHAPTER 4

GUIDELINES FOR ADMINISTRATION

Section 316. General Policy Provisions

In taking any action under this Code, the Director of the Environmental Protection Office shall be guided by the following basic policy guidelines:

(a) Whenever practicable, actions taken should benefit the Seminole Nation and the members of the Seminole Nation of Oklahoma and further the objective for which the Seminole Nation was created: to provide a permanent home and abiding place for the members of the Seminole Nation of Oklahoma, both now and in the future. Alternatives to existing and proposed uses are to be considered whenever practicable in order to achieve this goal. Included in those alternatives shall be the option to restrict or prohibit entirely any further use of water for the benefit of the Seminole Nation. If there is presented to the Director of the Environmental Protection Office a conflict between water uses for the benefit of the Seminole Nation or any of the members of the Seminole Nation of Oklahoma and non-Tribal projects or uses, the Director of the Environmental Protection Office may grant such preference as may be required by this Code, and lie in the best interests of the Seminole Nation of Oklahoma and its members.

(b) In taking any action under this Code which may impose substantial economic hardship on persons or entities presently using water, or which threatens degradation of other economic, cultural, religious, historic, aesthetic, natural or environmental values, the Director of the Environmental Protection Office shall, in reaching his/her decision, carefully consider and weigh;

- (1) The economic dislocation and hardship which will be imposed by such actions;
- (2) The investment in time, money and other resources made by the parties affected in reliance upon any previous system of distribution and use of water;
- (3) Any other burdens as may be imposed by such action;
- (4) The nature and extent of degradation of other economic, cultural, religious, historic, aesthetic, natural or environmental values.

(c) The Director of the Environmental Protection Office, when considering a proposed action, shall balance the adverse effects against the benefits to the Seminole Nation of Oklahoma and other interests which are advanced as justifying the proposed action; shall consider alternatives to the proposed action which will lessen adverse effects, and shall shape any final action so that its adverse effects will be minimized to the greatest extent possible, to protect the water resources.

(d) When insufficient water supplies are present for whatever reason or term, the following priority of uses shall be considered in the order in which they are listed:

- (1) Domestic and Municipal Uses;
- (2) Stock Watering Uses;
- (3) Agricultural Uses;
- (4) Instream Needs, for Fish, Wildlife Conservation and Recreational Uses;
- (5) Economic Development Uses including Industrial and Power Uses;
- (6) Other uses.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2013-07, May 14, 2013; section numbering scheme of this Chapter 3 modified on August 26, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 317. Guidelines for Making Most Effective Use of Available Resources

In addition to the policy guidelines contained in the previous section, the Director of the Environmental Protection Office shall take appropriate actions to:

- (a) Insure adequate water supplies;
- (b) Maintain water levels for diversion and withdrawal systems;
- (c) Maintain head and pressure in ground waters;
- (d) Prevent or reduce obstruction of surface water flows;
- (e) Increase efficiency of conveyance systems; increase efficiency in water application; increase return flow; prevent waste and maximize use of the available supply;
- (f) Create and enhance the efficiency of natural and artificial surface and underground storage;
- (g) Enhance natural and artificial recharge of aquifers;
- (h) Define and control interbasin transfers of both surface and ground waters;
- (i) Provide for some degree of overdraft from aquifers when short-term recharge is not possible;
- (j) Minimize interference between competing users of water sources, whether above or below ground;
- (k) Minimize water quality degradation and the adverse effects of water pollution whether from point sources or non-point sources;
- (l) Minimize thermal degradation or the adverse effects of thermal degradation;

- (m) Minimize interaquifer communication;
- (n) Plan for long-term water development;
- (o) Penalize misuse;
- (p) Otherwise insure conformity with the policies and provisions of this Code.

Section 318. Additional Policy Guidelines

(a) Rivers, streams, lakes and ponds within the Seminole Nation are to be retained substantially in their natural conditions, with the base flows and water levels necessary to provide for preservation of traditional and religious, recreation, wildlife, fish, scenic, aesthetic, and other environmental values, to the extent possible. Withdrawals of water which would conflict with these interests should be authorized only where it is clear that overriding considerations of the public interest and welfare will be served.

(b) Multiple-purpose impoundment structures are to be preferred over single-purpose structures. Due regard shall be given to means and methods for protection of recreation, fish and wildlife resources in the planning for and construction of water impoundment structures and other artificial obstructions.

(c) Individuals, corporations, groups, associations and other entities shall be required to carry out reasonable practices of water and resource conservation and environmental protection as they relate to the use of waters within the Seminole Nation.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 101. Acquisition Requirements

(a) For the purposes of this Title, “Nation” shall mean the Seminole Nation of Oklahoma, including any agency, department or instrumentality of the Nation, including, without limitation, the Seminole Nation Division of Commerce, Land Acquisitions Board, and the Seminole Nation Business and Regulatory Commission.

(b) General. The requirements of this Chapter apply to any acquisition of real property for a Federal program or project, and to programs and projects where there is Federal financial assistance in any part of project costs except for:

- (1) Voluntary transactions that meet all of the following conditions:
  - (A) No specific site or property needs to be acquired, although the Nation may limit its search for alternative sites to a general geographic area. Where the Nation wishes to purchase more than one site within a geographic area on this basis, all owners are to be treated similarly.
  - (B) The property to be acquired is not part of an intended, planned, or designated project area where all or substantially all of the property within the area is to be acquired within specific time limits.
  - (C) The Nation will not acquire the property in the event negotiations fail to result in an amicable agreement, and the owner is so informed in writing.
  - (D) The Nation will inform the owner of what it believes to be the fair market value of the property.
- (2) Acquisitions for programs or projects undertaken by the Nation that receive Federal financial assistance but do not have authority to acquire property by eminent domain, provided that the Nation shall:
  - (A) Prior to making an offer for the property, clearly advise the owner that it is unable to acquire the property in the event negotiations fail to result in an amicable agreement; and
  - (B) Inform the owner of what it believes to be fair market value of the property.

- (3) The acquisition of real property from a Federal agency, State, or State agency, if the Nation does not have authority to acquire the property through condemnation.
- (4) The acquisition of real property by a cooperative from a person who, as a condition of membership in the cooperative, has agreed to provide without charge any real property that is needed by the cooperative.
- (5) Acquisition for a program or project that is undertaken by, or receives Federal financial assistance from, the Tennessee Valley Authority or the Rural Electrification Administration.

(c) Less-than-full-fee interest in real property. In addition to fee simple title, the provisions of this Chapter apply when acquiring fee title subject to retention of a life estate or a life use, to acquisition by leasing where the lease term, including option(s) for extension is 50 years or more, and to the acquisition of permanent easements.

(d) Federally-assisted projects. For projects receiving Federal financial assistance, the provisions of sections 102 - 105 apply to the greatest extent practicable under State law.

(e) Restricted Seminole Allotments. Where the property to be acquired is a restricted Seminole allotment, the provisions and procedures of the Act of Congress of August 4, 1947, shall control in the event of any conflict between said Act and this Title.

Section 102. Acquisition Policies

(a) Expeditious acquisition. The Nation shall make every reasonable effort to acquire the real property expeditiously by negotiation.

(b) Notice to owner. As soon as feasible, the owner shall be notified of the Nation's interest in acquiring the real property and the basic protections, including the Nation's obligation to secure an appraisal, provided to the owner by law and this part.

(c) Appraisal, waiver thereof, and invitation to owner.

- (1) Before the initiation of negotiations the real property to be acquired shall be appraised, except as provided in section 102(c)(2), and the owner, or the owner's designated representative, shall be given an opportunity to accompany the appraiser during the appraiser's inspection of the property.
- (2) An appraisal is not required if the owner is donating the property and releases the Nation from this obligation, or the Nation determines that an appraisal is unnecessary because the valuation problem is uncomplicated and the fair market value is estimated at $2,500.00 or less, based on a review of available data.

(d) Establishment and offer of just compensation. Before the initiation of negotiations, the Nation shall establish an amount which it believes is just compensation for the real property. The amount shall not be less than the approved appraisal of the fair market value of the property, taking into account the value of allowable damages or benefits to any remaining property. Promptly thereafter, the Nation shall make a written offer to the owner to acquire the property for the full amount believed to be just compensation.

(e) Summary statement. Along with the initial written purchase offer, the owner shall be given a written statement of the basis for the offer of just compensation, which shall include:

- (1) A statement of the amount offered as just compensation. In the case of a partial acquisition, the compensation for the real property to be acquired and the compensation for damages, if any, to the remaining real property shall be separately stated.
- (2) A description and location identification of the real property and the interest in the real property to be acquired.
- (3) An identification of the buildings, structures, and other improvements (including removable building equipment and trade fixtures) which are considered to be part of the real property for which the offer of just compensation is made. Where appropriate, the statement shall identify any separately held ownership interest in the property, e.g., a tenant-owned improvement, and indicate that such interest is not covered by the offer.

(f) Basic negotiation procedures. The Nation shall make reasonable efforts to contact the owner or the owner's representative and discuss its offer to purchase the property, including the basis for the offer of just compensation; and, explain its acquisition policies and procedures, including its payment of incidental expenses in accordance with section 106. The owner shall be given reasonable opportunity to consider the offer and present material which the owner believes is relevant to determining the value of the property and to suggest modification in the proposed terms and conditions of the purchase. The Nation shall consider the owner's presentation.

(g) Updating offer of just compensation. If the information presented by the owner, or a material change in the character or condition of the property, indicates the need for new appraisal information, or if a significant delay has occurred since the time of the appraisal(s) of the property, the Nation shall have the appraisal(s) updated or obtain a new appraisal(s). If the latest appraisal information indicates that a change in the purchase offer is warranted, the Nation shall promptly reestablish just compensation and offer that amount to the owner in writing.

(h) Coercive action. The Nation shall not advance the time of condemnation, or defer negotiations or condemnation or the deposit of funds with the court, or take any other coercive action in order to induce an agreement on the price to be paid for the property.

(i) Administrative settlement. The purchase price for the property may exceed the amount offered as just compensation when reasonable efforts to negotiate an agreement at that amount have failed and an authorized Nation official approves such administrative settlement as being reasonable, prudent, and in the public interest. When Federal funds pay for or participate in acquisition costs, a written justification shall be prepared which indicates that available information (e.g., appraisals, recent court awards, estimated trial costs, or valuation problems) supports such a settlement.

(j) Payment before taking possession. Before requiring the owner to surrender possession of the real property, the Nation shall pay the agreed purchase price to the owner, or in the case of a condemnation, deposit with the court, for the benefit of the owner, an amount not less than the Nation's approved appraisal of the fair market value of such property, or the court award of compensation in the condemnation proceeding for the property. In exceptional circumstances, with the prior approval of the owner, the Nation may obtain a right-of-entry for construction purposes before making payment available to an owner.

(k) Uneconomic remnant. If the acquisition of only a portion of a property would leave the owner with an uneconomic remnant, the Nation shall offer to acquire the uneconomic remnant along with the portion of the property needed for the project.

(l) Inverse condemnation. If the Nation intends to acquire any interest in real property by exercise of the power of eminent domain, it shall institute formal condemnation proceedings and not intentionally make it necessary for the owner to institute legal proceedings to prove the fact of the taking of the real property.

(m) Fair rental. If the Nation permits a former owner or tenant to occupy the real property after acquisition for a short term or a period subject to termination by the Nation on short notice, the rent shall not exceed the fair market rent for such occupancy.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2011-03, March 5, 2011.]

Section 103. Appraisal Criteria

(a) Standards of appraisal. The format and level of documentation for an appraisal depend on the complexity of the appraisal problem. The Nation shall develop minimum standards for appraisals consistent with established and commonly accepted appraisal practice for those acquisitions that, by virtue of their low value or simplicity, do not require the in-depth analysis and presentation necessary in a detailed appraisal. A detailed appraisal shall be prepared for all other acquisitions. A detailed appraisal shall reflect nationally recognized appraisal standards, including, to the extent appropriate, the Uniform Appraisal Standards for Federal Land Acquisition. An appraisal must contain sufficient documentation, including valuation data and the appraiser's analysis of that data, to support his or her opinion of value. At a minimum, a detailed appraisal shall contain the following items:

- (1) The purpose and/or the function of the appraisal, a definition of the estate being appraised, and a statement of the assumptions and limiting conditions affecting the appraisal.

- (2) An adequate description of the physical characteristics of the property being appraised (and, in the case of a partial acquisition, an adequate description of the remaining property), a statement of the known and observed encumbrances, if any, title information, location, zoning, present use, an analysis of highest and best use, and at least a 5-year sales history of the property.
- (3) All relevant and reliable approaches to value consistent with commonly accepted professional appraisal practices. When sufficient market sales data are available to reliably support the fair market value for the specific appraisal problem encountered, the Nation, at its discretion, may require only the market approach. If more than one approach is utilized, there shall be an analysis and reconciliation of approaches to value that is sufficient to support the appraiser's opinion of value.
- (4) A description of comparable sales, including a description of all relevant physical, legal, and economic factors such as parties to the transaction, source and method of financing, and verification by a party involved in the transaction.
- (5) A statement of the value of the real property to be acquired and, for a partial acquisition, a statement of the value of the damages and benefits, if any, to the remaining real property, where appropriate.
- (6) The effective date of valuation, date of appraisal, signature, and certification of the appraiser.

(b) Influence of the project on just compensation. To the extent permitted by applicable law, the appraiser shall disregard any decrease or increase in the fair market value of the real property caused by the project for which the property is to be acquired, or by the likelihood that the property would be acquired for the project, other than that due to physical deterioration within the reasonable control of the owner.

(c) Owner retention of improvements. If the owner of a real property improvement is permitted to retain it for removal from the project site, the amount to be offered for the interest in the real property to be acquired shall be not less than the difference between the amount determined to be just compensation for the owner's entire interest in the real property and the salvage value of the retained improvement.

(d) Qualifications of appraisers.

- (1) The Nation shall use appraisers who are approved by the Bureau of Indian Affairs and who are familiar with property values in and around Seminole County, Oklahoma.
- (2) If the appraisal assignment requires the preparation of a detailed appraisal pursuant to section 103(a), and the Nation uses a contract (fee) appraiser to perform the appraisal, such appraiser shall be certified in accordance with title XI of the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery, and Enforcement Act of 1989 (FIRREA) (12 U.S.C. 3331 et seq.) [57 FR 33264, July 27, 1992, as amended at 57 FR 53294, Nov. 9, 1992 (effective date December 31, 1992), and as may be hereafter amended].

(e) Conflict of interest. No appraiser or review appraiser shall have any interest, direct or indirect, in the real property being appraised for the Nation that would in any way conflict with the preparation or review of the appraisal. Compensation for making an appraisal shall not be based on the amount of the valuation. No appraiser shall act as a negotiator for real property which that person has appraised, except that the Nation may permit the same person to both appraise and negotiate an acquisition where the value of the acquisition is $2,500.00, or less.

Section 104. Appraisal Review

The Nation shall have an appraisal review process and, at a minimum:

(a) A qualified reviewing appraiser shall examine all appraisals to assure that they meet applicable appraisal requirements and shall, prior to acceptance, seek necessary corrections or revisions.

(b) If the reviewing appraiser is unable to approve or recommend approval of an appraisal as an adequate basis for the establishment of the offer of just compensation, and it is determined that it is not practical to obtain an additional appraisal, the reviewing appraiser may develop appraisal documentation in accordance with section 103 to support an approved or recommended value.

(c) The review appraiser's certification of the recommended or approved value of the property shall be set forth in a signed statement which identifies the appraisal reports reviewed and explains the basis for such recommendation or approval. Any damages or benefits to any remaining property shall also be identified in the statement.

Section 105. Acquisition of Tenant-Owned Improvements

(a) Acquisition of improvements. When acquiring any interest in real property, the Nation shall offer to acquire at least an equal interest in all buildings, structures, or other improvements located upon the real property to be acquired, which it requires to be removed or which it determines will be adversely affected by the use to which such real property will be put. This shall include any improvement of a tenant-owner who has the right or obligation to remove the improvement at the expiration of the lease term.

(b) Improvements considered to be real property. Any building, structure, or other improvement, which would be considered to be real property if owned by the owner of the real property on which it is located, shall be considered to be real property for purposes of this Subpart.

(c) Appraisal and establishment of just compensation for tenant-owned improvements. Just compensation for a tenant-owned improvement is the amount that the improvement contributes to the fair market value of the whole property or its salvage value, whichever is greater.

(d) Special conditions. No payment shall be made to a tenant-owner for any real property improvement unless:

- (1) The tenant-owner, in consideration for the payment, assigns, transfers, and releases to the Nation all of the tenant-owner's right, title, and interest in the improvement; and
- (2) The owner of the real property on which the improvement is located disclaims all interest in the improvement; and
- (3) The payment does not result in the duplication of any compensation otherwise authorized by law.

(e) Alternative compensation. Nothing in this subpart shall be construed to deprive the tenant-owner of any right to reject payment under this subpart and to obtain payment for such property interests in accordance with other applicable law. [54 FR 8928, Mar. 2, 1989; 54 FR 24712, June 9, 1989]

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2011-03, March 5, 2011.]

Section 106. Title Transfer Incidental Expenses

(a) The owner of the real property shall be reimbursed for all reasonable expenses the owner necessarily incurred for:

- (1) Recording fees, transfer taxes, documentary stamps, evidence of title, boundary surveys, legal descriptions of the real property, and similar expenses incidental to conveying the real property to the Nation. However, the Nation is not required to pay costs solely required to perfect the owner's title to the real property; and
- (2) Penalty costs and other charges for prepayment of any preexisting recorded mortgage entered into in good faith encumbering the real property; and
- (3) The pro rata portion of any prepaid real property taxes which are allocable to the period after the Nation obtains title to the property or effective possession of it, whichever is earlier.

(b) Whenever feasible, the Nation shall pay these costs directly so that the owner will not have to pay such costs and then seek reimbursement from the Nation.

Section 107. Certain Litigation Expenses

The owner of the real property shall be reimbursed for any reasonable expenses, including reasonable attorney, appraisal, and engineering fees, which the owner actually incurred because of a condemnation proceeding, if:

(a) The final judgment of the court is that the Nation cannot acquire the real property by condemnation; or

(b) The condemnation proceeding is abandoned by the Nation other than under an agreed-upon settlement; or

(c) The court having jurisdiction renders a judgment in favor of the owner in an inverse condemnation proceeding or the Nation effects a settlement of such proceeding.

Section 108. Donations

An owner whose real property is being acquired may, after being fully informed by the Nation of the right to receive just compensation for such property, donate such property or any part thereof, any interest therein, or any compensation paid therefore, to the Nation as such owner shall determine. The Nation is responsible for assuring that an appraisal of the real property is obtained unless the owner releases the Nation from such obligation, except as provided in section 102(c)(2).

CHAPTER TWO

NAHASDA

PROPERTY ACQUISITION PROCEDURES

Section 201. Scope of Procedures

The following relocation and real property acquisition policies are applicable to programs developed or operated under NAHASDA:

(a) Real Property acquisition requirements. The acquisition of real property for an assisted activity is subject to 49 CFR Part 24, subpart B. Whenever the Nation does not have the authority to acquire the real property through condemnation, it shall:

- (1) Before discussing the purchase price, inform the owner:
  - (A) Of the amount it believes to be the fair market value of the property. Such amount shall be based upon one or more appraisals prepared by a qualified appraiser. However, this provision does not prevent the Nation from accepting a donation or purchasing the real property at less than its fair market value.
  - (B) That it will be unable to acquire the property if negotiations fail to result in an amicable agreement.
- (2) Request HUD approval of the proposed acquisition price before executing a firm commitment to purchase the property if the proposed acquisition payment exceeds the fair market value. The Nation shall include with its request a copy of the appraisal(s) and a justification for the proposed acquisition payment. HUD will promptly review the proposal and inform the Nation of its approval or disapproval.

(b) Minimize displacement. Consistent with the other goals and objectives of this part, the Nation shall take all reasonable steps to minimize the displacement of persons (households, businesses, nonprofit organizations, and farms) as a result of a project conducted pursuant to NAHASDA.

(c) Temporary relocation. The following policies cover residential tenants and homebuyers who will not be required to move permanently but who must relocate temporarily for the project. Such residential tenants and homebuyers shall be provided:

- (1) Reimbursement for all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with the temporary relocation, including the cost of moving to and from the temporarily occupied housing and any increase in monthly housing costs (e.g., rent/utility costs).

(2) Appropriate advisory services, including reasonable advance written notice of:

- (A) The date and approximate duration of the temporary relocation;
- (B) The location of the suitable, decent, safe and sanitary dwelling to be made available for the temporary period;
- (C) The terms and conditions under which the tenant may occupy a suitable, decent, safe, and sanitary dwelling in the building/complex following completion of the repairs; and
- (D) The provisions of paragraph (c)(1) of this section.

(d) Relocation assistance for displaced persons. A displaced person must be provided relocation assistance at the levels described in, and in accordance with the requirements of, the Uniform Relocation Assistance and Real Property Acquisition Policies Act of 1970, as amended (URA) (42 U.S.C. 4601-4655) and implementing regulations at 49 CFR part 24.

(e) Appeals to the Nation. A person who disagrees with the Nation's determination concerning whether the person qualifies as a "displaced person," or the amount of relocation assistance for which the person is eligible, may file a written appeal of that determination with the Nation.

(f) Responsibility of Nation.

- (1) The Nation shall certify that it will comply with the URA, the regulations at 49 CFR Part 24, and the requirements of this section. The Nation shall ensure such compliance notwithstanding any third party's contractual obligation to the Nation to comply with the provisions in this section.
- (2) The cost of required relocation assistance is an eligible project cost in the same manner and to the same extent as other project costs. However, such assistance may also be paid for with funds available to the Nation from any other source.
- (3) The Nation shall maintain records in sufficient detail to demonstrate compliance with this section.

(g) Definition of displaced person.

- (1) For purposes of this section, the term "displaced person" means any person (household, business, nonprofit organization, or farm) that moves from real property, or moves his or her personal property from real property, permanently, as a direct result of rehabilitation, demolition, or acquisition for a project assisted under this part. The term "displaced person" includes, but is not limited to:

- (A) A tenant-occupant of a dwelling unit who moves from the building/complex permanently after the submission to HUD of an IHP that is later approved.
- (B) Any person, including a person who moves before the date described in paragraph (g)(1)(A) of this section, that the Nation determines was displaced as a direct result of acquisition, rehabilitation, or demolition for the assisted project.
- (C) A tenant-occupant of a dwelling unit who moves from the building/complex permanently after the execution of the agreement between the Nation and HUD, if the move occurs before the tenant is provided written notice offering him or her the opportunity to lease and occupy a suitable, decent, safe and sanitary dwelling in the same building/complex, under reasonable terms and conditions, upon completion of the project. Such reasonable terms and conditions include a monthly rent and estimated average monthly utility costs that do not exceed the greater of:
  - (i) The tenant-occupant's monthly rent and estimated average monthly utility costs before the agreement; or
  - (ii) 30 percent of gross household income.
- (D) A tenant-occupant of a dwelling who is required to relocate temporarily, but does not return to the building/complex, if either:
  - (i) The tenant-occupant is not offered payment for all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with the temporary relocation, including the cost of moving to and from the temporarily occupied unit, any increased housing costs and incidental expenses; or
  - (ii) Other conditions of the temporary relocation are not reasonable.
- (E) A tenant-occupant of a dwelling who moves from the building/complex after he or she has been required to move to another dwelling unit in the same building/complex in order to carry out the project, if either:
  - (i) The tenant-occupant is not offered reimbursement for all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with the move; or
  - (ii) Other conditions of the move are not reasonable.

- (2) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (g)(1) of this section, a person does not qualify as a “displaced person” (and is not eligible for relocation assistance under the URA or this section), if:
- (A) The person moved into the property after the submission of the IHP to HUD, but, before signing a lease or commencing occupancy, was provided written notice of the project, its possible impact on the person (e.g., the person may be displaced, temporarily relocated or suffer a rent increase) and the fact that the person would not qualify as a “displaced person” or for any assistance provided under this section as a result of the project.
  - (B) The person is ineligible under 49 CFR 24.2(g)(2).
  - (C) The Nation determines the person is not displaced as a direct result of acquisition, rehabilitation, or demolition for an assisted project. To exclude a person on this basis, HUD must concur in that determination.
- (3) A Nation may at any time ask HUD to determine whether a specific displacement is or would be covered under this section.

(h) Definition of initiation of negotiations. For purposes of determining the formula for computing the replacement housing assistance to be provided to a person displaced as a direct result of rehabilitation or demolition of the real property, the term “initiation of negotiations” means the execution of the agreement covering the rehabilitation or demolition. (See 49 CFR part 24).

For the purposes of this section, the license fee of a wrecker or tow vehicle shall be based on the gross weight of the wrecker or tow vehicle alone without any inclusion of weight for a vehicle towed by the wrecker or tow vehicles.

(b) After the fifth year's registration with the Seminole Nation or in any other state, the license fee upon any truck registered on a basis of the combined laden weight not in excess of fifteen thousand (15,000) pounds shall be assessed at fifty percent (50%) of the fee computed and assessed for each of the first five (5) years. On the seventh and all subsequent years of registration in this or any other state, on such truck, such license fees shall be assessed and computed at fifty percent (50%) of the amount due on the sixth year's registration. In no event shall such annual license fee on any truck be less than Ten Dollars ($10.00), nor shall the annual license fee of any truck-tractor be less than Fifty Dollar ($50.00).

(c) In addition to the fees required by subsection (a) of this section, there shall be paid a registration fee of Twenty Dollars ($20.00) upon the first registration with the Seminole Nation and upon transfer of ownership of any frac tank, construction machinery, rental trailer, commercial trailer or semitrailer designed to be pulled and usually pulled by a truck or truck-tractor. Thereafter, a fee of Four Dollars ($4.00) shall be paid annually for each frac tank, construction machinery, rental trailer, commercial trailer or semitrailer. The fee of Four Dollars ($4.00) shall be due and payable on January 1 of each year on any frac tank, construction machinery, rental trailer, commercial trailer or semitrailer registered under this section. Upon the payment of the registration fee of Twenty Dollars ($20.00), a non-expiring registration certificate and identification plate shall be issued for each frac tank, construction machinery, rental trailer, commercial trailer or semitrailer. The non-expiring identification plate shall remain displayed on the frac tank, construction machinery, rental trailer, commercial trailer or semitrailer for which the identification plate is issued until such frac tank, construction machinery, trailer or semitrailer is sold or removed from service. A receipt shall be issued upon the payment of the annual fee. The receipt shall show the total fee paid for one or more frac tanks, construction machinery units, rental trailers, commercial trailers or semitrailers. The receipt shall be retained by the owner of any frac tank, construction machinery, rental trailer, commercial trailer or semitrailer for a period three (3) years and shall be subject to audit by the BCR Commission. Any frac tank, construction machinery, commercial trailer or semitrailer licensed pursuant to this section shall not be permitted to be operated on the highways within the jurisdiction of the Nation when such frac tank, construction machinery, commercial trailer or semitrailer is being operated by a tribal member, or is being operated by a person operating a vehicle or vehicles within the jurisdiction of the Nation and required by law to be licensed, unless the pulling truck or truck-tractor has been licensed pursuant to this section or is twenty-four thousand (24,000) pounds or less and operating under a valid temporary license plate. In no event shall any truck, truck-tractor, frac tank, construction machinery, trailer, or semitrailer used in the furtherance of any commercial enterprise be permitted to operate on the roadways of the Nation or permitted to register at a smaller license fee than that prescribed in this section except as provided in this section.

(d) If any vehicle is used for a purpose other than that for which it has been registered, the owner of the vehicle shall be required to immediately reregister the vehicle at the appropriate rate. If any vehicle is placed or operated upon any street, road or highway with a laden weight in excess of that for which it is licensed, the license fee for such increased laden weight shall become due, and the owner of the vehicle shall be required to immediately reregister the vehicle at the increased rate. Provided that, in either event there shall be credited upon the increased license fee for such reregistration for any portion of the year or period remaining after the change in use or increase in laden weight shall have occurred a proportionate part of the license fees previously paid. If this reregistration is made voluntarily by the owner, the ratable proportion of the credit allowed shall be determined as of the date the reregistration is voluntarily made. If the reregistration is not voluntarily made but occurs as a result of the discovery by any enforcement officer of an improper operation of the vehicle that shall be considered prima facie evidence that it has been improperly registered for the entire portion of the year covered by the improper registration. Provided further that the ratable credit shall be allowed only on the first reregistration of any vehicle during any calendar year. If, during the calendar year, subsequent changes of license plate are desired, the ratable credit shall not be allowed but the owner of the vehicle shall be required to pay the license fee due for that portion of the calendar year remaining without benefit of any additional credits. No owner of a motor vehicle shall possess at any time more than one license plate for any vehicle owned by such person. No reregistration shall be made until the current license plate previously issued has been surrendered.

Any person who has paid a fee under the terms and provisions of this subsection may at any time within one (1) year after the payment of such fee file with the BCR Commission a claim under oath for refund stating the grounds therefor. However, the BCR Commission shall allow refunds only where the amount of tax paid has been erroneously computed or determined through clerical errors or miscalculations. No refund shall be allowed by the BCR Commission of a tax paid by the person where such payment is made through a mistake as to the legal misinterpretation or construction of the provisions of this section. Any refunds made by the BCR Commission pursuant to this subsection shall be made out of any monies collected pursuant to this subsection which have not been apportioned.

(e) The annual license fee required by this section is intended to cover only the motor vehicle for which it is issued. The BCR Commission, upon application when a licensed truck-tractor has been destroyed by fire or accident, shall credit the unused portion of the annual license fee of the vehicle toward the license fee of a replacement vehicle of equal registered weight. The amount of credit shall not exceed the license fee due on the replacement vehicle. The BCR Commission shall not be required to make a refund. If the replacement vehicle is to be registered at a greater weight, the applicant shall pay an additional sum equivalent to the difference between the unused portion of the annual license fee for the original motor vehicle and the license fee due for the replacement motor vehicle.

(f) The license fees provided for in this section shall be paid each year whether or not the vehicle is operated on the public highway.

(g) Notwithstanding the provision of any other law or regulation in respect to the time for payment of license fees on motor vehicles, if the total amount of the annual license fees due from any tribal member owner, either individual, partnership, LLC or corporation, upon the registration, on or before January 15 of any year, of commercial trucks, truck-tractors, frac tanks, construction machinery, trailers or semitrailers exceeds the sum of Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00), the license fees may be paid in equal, semiannual installments. The first installment shall be paid at the time of the application for registration of the vehicles and not later than January 15 of each year, and the second installment shall be paid on or before the first day of July of such year.

This subsection shall not operate to reduce the amount of the license fees due. If any installment is not paid on or before the date due, all unpaid installments of license fees for such year on each vehicle shall be deemed delinquent and immediately due and payable, and there shall be added a penalty of twenty-five cents ($0.25) per day to the balance of the license fee due on each vehicle for each day the balance remains unpaid up to thirty (30) days, after which the penalty due on each vehicle shall be Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00). The penalty for vehicles registered by weight in excess of eight thousand (8,000) pounds shall be an amount equal to the license fee. On and after the thirtieth day each such vehicle involved shall be considered as improperly licensed and as not currently registered, and all of the provisions of this Code and the laws of the Seminole Nation relating to enforcement, including the provisions for the seizure and sale of vehicles not registered and not displaying current license places, shall apply to the vehicles.

All fees and taxes levied by the BCR Commission under this Code shall become and remain a first lien upon the vehicle upon which the fees or taxes are due until paid. The lien shall have priority to all other liens. No title to any vehicle may be transferred until the unpaid balance on the vehicle has been paid in full. Provided that any unpaid balance of the license fees shall remain and become a lien against any and all property of the owner, both real and personal for so long as any license tag fee balance shall remain unpaid. Any unpaid balance under these provisions shall be immediately due and payable by the owner if any vehicle is sold, wrecked, or otherwise retired from service.

Any person electing to pay license fees on a semiannual installment basis, as herein authorized, shall be required to purchase a new license tag for the last half and shall pay the sum of Four Dollars ($4.00) for each tag to cover the costs of the license tags. The license tags for each half shall be plainly marked in designating the half for which they were issued. A validation sticker may be used in lieu of a metal tag where appropriate. Such license tag fee shall be, in addition to the license fees or any other fees, collected on each application as provided by statute and shall be apportioned according to the provisions of this Chapter 6.

(h) In addition to any other penalties prescribed by law, the following penalty shall be imposed by enforcement officers upon any owner or operator of a commercial vehicle registered under the provisions of this section when the laden weight or combined laden weight of such vehicle is found to be in excess of that for which registered. The penalty shall be imposed each and every time a vehicle is found to be in violation of the registered laden weight or combined laden weight. The penalty shall be not less than Twenty Dollars ($20.00) when such vehicle exceeds the laden weight or combined laden weight by two thousand one (2,001) pounds; thereafter, an additional penalty of not less than Twenty Dollars ($20.00) shall be imposed for each additional one thousand (1,000) pounds or fraction thereof of weight in excess of the registered laden weight or combined laden weight. Such penalty shall not exceed the amount established by the BCR Commission pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 6.

Such funds shall be appropriated by duly approved General Council Resolution and included in the General Fund budget as a line item entitled “Tribal Government Facility” under the subheading “Special Appropriations.” No appropriation shall be authorized until the accumulation under this subsection either exceeds One Hundred Thousand dollars ($100,000) or equals the minimum amount required for any matching funds for the tribal facility, whichever is earlier.

(b) The licensee has the duty of renewing such license on or before January 2 of the following year in which the license is issued and each year thereafter if the licensee remains in retail business or liable to account for the fees provided in this Chapter. Section 107. Notice Knowledge

(a) Notice Defined. Subject to subsection (f), a person has “notice” of a fact if the person:

- (1) has actual knowledge of it;
- (2) has received a notice or notification of it; or
- (3) from all the facts and circumstances known to the person at the time in question, has reason to know that it exists.

(b) Knowledge Defined. “Knowledge” means actual knowledge. “Knows” has a corresponding meaning.

(c) Discover Defined. “Discover,” “learn,” or words of similar import, refer to knowledge rather than to reason to know.

(d) Notifying or Giving Notice or Notification. A person “notifies” or “gives” a notice or notification to another person by taking such steps as may be reasonably required to inform the other person in ordinary course, whether or not the other person actually comes to know of it.

(e) Receipt Generally. Subject to subsection (f), a person “receives” a notice or notification when:

- (1) it comes to that person’s attention; or
- (2) it is duly delivered in a form reasonable under the circumstances at the place of business through which the contract was made or at another location held out by that person as the place for receipt of such communications.

(f) Receipt by Organization. Notice, knowledge, or a notice or notification received by an organization is effective for a particular transaction from the time it is brought to the attention of the individual conducting that transaction and, in any event, from the time it would have been brought to the individual’s attention if the organization had exercised due diligence. An organization exercises due diligence if it maintains reasonable routines for communicating significant information to the person conducting the transaction and there is reasonable compliance with the routines. Due diligence does not require an individual acting for the organization to communicate information unless the communication is part of the individual’s regular duties or the individual has reason to know of the transaction and that the transaction would be materially affected by the information.

Section 108. Value

- (a) in return for a binding commitment to extend credit or for the extension of immediately available credit, whether or not drawn upon and whether or not a charge-back is provided for in the event of difficulties in collection;
- (b) as security for, or in total or partial satisfaction of, a preexisting claim;
- (c) by accepting delivery under a preexisting contract for purchase; or
- (d) in return for any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 109. Lease Distinguished From Security Interest

(a) Basic Test. Whether a transaction in the form of a lease creates a lease or security interest is determined by the facts of each case.

(b) Transactions That Create Security Interests. A transaction in the form of a lease creates a security interest if the consideration that the lessee is to pay the lessor for the right to possession and use of the goods is an obligation for the term of the lease and is not subject to termination by the lessee, and:

- (1) the original term of the lease is equal to or greater than the remaining economic life of the goods;
- (2) the lessee is bound to renew the lease for the remaining economic life of the goods or is bound to become the owner of the goods;
- (3) the lessee has an option to renew the lease for the remaining economic life of the goods for no additional consideration or for nominal additional consideration upon compliance with the lease agreement; or
- (4) the lessee has an option to become the owner of the goods for no additional consideration or for nominal additional consideration upon compliance with the lease agreement.

(c) Factors That Do Not Create Security Interests. A transaction in the form of a lease does not create a security interest merely because:

- (1) the present value of the consideration the lessee is obligated to pay the lessor for the right to possession and use of the goods is substantially equal to or is greater than the fair market value of the goods at the time the lease is entered into;

- (2) the lessee assumes risk of loss of the goods;
- (3) the lessee agrees to pay, with respect to the goods, taxes, insurance, filing, recording, or registration fees, or service or maintenance costs;
- (4) the lessee has an option to renew the lease or to become the owner of the goods;
- (5) the lessee has an option to renew the lease for a fixed rent that is equal to or greater than the reasonably predictable fair market rent for the use of the goods for the term of the renewal at the time the option is to be performed; or
- (6) the lessee has an option to become the owner of the goods for a fixed price that is equal to or greater than the reasonably predictable fair market value of the goods at the time the option is to be performed.

- (2) a sale of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes;
- (3) a consignment; and
- (4) any other commercial activities, including sales of goods, leases of goods, other transactions in goods, negotiable instruments, bank deposits and collections, funds transfers, letters of credit, documents of title, and investment securities, to the extent those commercial activities are implicated in clauses (1), (2) or (3) of this subsection (a).

(b) Consistency in Application. Subject to the provisions of Section 114 of this title dealing with course of performance, course of dealing, and usage of trade, the application of this Title to a type of transaction enumerated in subsection (a)(4) is to be derived from the context involved, with due consideration for consistency in application with uniform principles of commercial and contract law operative in the United States.

(c) Security Interest in Secured Obligation. The application of this title to a security interest in a secured obligation is not affected by the fact that the obligation is itself secured by a transaction or interest to which this title does not apply.

Section 111. Excluded Transactions

This Title does not apply to:

- (d) an assignment of a claim for wages, salary, or other compensation of an employee;
- (e) a sale of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes as part of a sale of the business out of which they arose;

- (i) an assignment of a right represented by a judgment, other than a judgment taken on a right to payment that was collateral;
- (j) a right of recoupment or set-off, but Section 403 of this title on agreements not to assert defenses against assignees applies with respect to defenses or claims of an account debtor;
- (k) the creation or transfer of an interest in or lien on real property, including a lease or rents thereunder, except to the extent that provision is made for:
  - (1) a fixture filing; and
  - (2) security agreements covering personal and real property in Section 604;
- (l) an assignment of a claim arising in tort, other than a commercial tort claim, except as provided with respect to proceeds and priorities in proceeds; or

Section 112. Administration of This Title: Authority to Promulgate Regulations

The Commission, or its designated successor, is charged with the administration of this Title. In accordance with applicable administrative and interpretive rules the Commission or its designated successor may promulgate regulations necessary for the effective implementation and enforcement of this title.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007; amended by TO 2007-17, March 1, 2008.]

Section 113. Obligation of Good Faith

Every contract or duty within this Title imposes, with respect to its performance or enforcement, an obligation that each party be honest and act in a manner that is consistent with reasonable commercial standards of good faith and fair dealing.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 114. Course of Performance, Course of Dealing, and Usage of Trade

(a) Course of Performance Defined. A “course of performance” is a sequence of conduct between the parties to a particular transaction that exists if:

- (1) the agreement of the parties with respect to the transaction involves repeated occasions for performance by a party; and
- (2) the other party, with knowledge of the nature of the performance and opportunity for objection to it, accepts the performance or acquiesces in it without objection.

(b) Course of Dealing Defined. A “course of dealing” is a sequence of conduct concerning previous transactions between the parties to a particular transaction that is fairly to be regarded as establishing a common basis of understanding for interpreting their expressions and other conduct.

(c) Usage of Trade Defined. A “usage of trade” is any practice or method of dealing having such regularity of observance in a place, vocation, or trade as to justify an expectation that it will be observed with respect to the transaction in question. The existence and scope of such a usage must be proved as facts. If it is established that such a usage is embodied in a trade code or similar record, the interpretation of the record is a question of law.

(d) Effect. A course of performance or course of dealing between the parties or usage of trade in the vocation or trade in which they are engaged or of which they are or should be aware is relevant in ascertaining the meaning of the parties' agreement, may give particular meaning to specific terms of the agreement, and may supplement or qualify the terms of the agreement. A usage of trade applicable in the place in which part of the performance under the agreement is to occur may be so utilized as to that part of the performance.

(e) Practical Construction; Hierarchy. Except as otherwise provided in subsection (f), the express terms of an agreement and any applicable course of performance, course of dealing, or usage of trade must be construed whenever reasonable as consistent with each other. If such a construction is unreasonable:

- (1) express terms prevail over course of performance, course of dealing, and usage of trade;
- (2) course of performance prevails over course of dealing and usage of trade; and
- (3) course of dealing prevails over usage of trade.

(f) Relevance of Course of Performance. Subject to other applicable law, a course of performance is relevant to show a waiver or modification of any term inconsistent with the course of performance.

(g) Inadmissibility of Usage of Trade. Evidence of a relevant usage of trade offered by one party is not admissible unless that party has given the other party notice that the court finds sufficient to prevent unfair surprise to the other party.

Section 115. Purchase-Money Security Interest

(a) Definitions. In this section:

- (1) "Purchase-money collateral" means goods or software that secures a purchase-money obligation incurred with respect to that collateral.
- (2) "Purchase-money obligation" means an obligation of an obligor incurred as all or part of the price of the collateral or for value given to enable the debtor to acquire rights in or the use of the collateral if the value is in fact so used.

(b) Purchase-Money Security Interest in Goods. A security interest in goods is a purchase-money security interest:

- (1) to the extent that the goods are purchase-money collateral with respect to that security interest;
- (2) if the security interest is in inventory that is or was purchase-money collateral, also to the extent that the security interest secures a purchase-money obligation incurred with respect to other inventory in which the secured party holds or held a purchase-money security interest; and

- (3) also to the extent that the security interest secures a purchase-money obligation incurred with respect to software in which the secured party holds or held a purchase-money security interest.

(c) Purchase-Money Security Interest in Software. A security interest in software is a purchase-money security interest to the extent that the security interest also secures a purchase-money obligation incurred with respect to goods in which the secured party holds or held a purchase-money security interest if:

- (1) the debtor acquired its interest in the software in an integrated transaction in which it acquired an interest in the goods; and
- (2) the debtor acquired its interest in the software for the principal purpose of using the software in the goods.

(d) Consignor's Inventory Purchase-Money Security Interest. The security interest of a consignor in goods that are the subject of a consignment is a purchase-money security interest in inventory.

(e) Application of Payment in Non-Consumer Transaction. In a transaction other than a consumer transaction, if the extent to which a security interest is a purchase-money security interest depends on the application of a payment to a particular obligation, the payment must be applied:

- (1) in accordance with any reasonable method of application to which the parties agree;
- (2) if paragraph (1) does not apply, in accordance with the intention of the obligor manifested at or before the time of payment; or
- (3) if neither paragraph (1) nor paragraph (2) applies, in the following order:
  - (A) to obligations that are not secured; and
  - (B) if more than one obligation is secured, to obligations secured by purchase-money security interests in the order in which those obligations were incurred.

(f) No Loss of Purchase-Money Security Interest in Non-Consumer Transaction. In a transaction other than a consumer transaction, a purchase-money security interest does not lose its status as such, even if:

- (1) the purchase-money collateral also secures an obligation that is not a purchase-money obligation;

- (2) collateral that is not purchase-money collateral also secures the purchase-money obligation; or
- (3) the purchase-money obligation has been renewed, refinanced, consolidated, or restructured.

(g) Burden of Proof in Non-Consumer Transaction. In a transaction other than a consumer-goods transaction, a secured party claiming a purchase-money security interest has the burden of establishing the extent to which the security interest is a purchase-money security interest.

Section 116. Sufficiency of Description

(a) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (b) and (c), a description of personal or real property is sufficient, whether or not it is specific, if it reasonably identifies what is described.

(b) In a security agreement, a description of collateral as “all the debtor’s assets” or “all the debtor’s personal property” or using words of similar import does not reasonably identify the collateral.

(c) A description only by type of collateral defined in this title is an insufficient description of:

- (1) a commercial tort claim; or
- (2) in a consumer transaction, any collateral.

Section 117. Parties’ Power to Choose Applicable Law

(a) Choice of Law Generally. Except as provided in subsection (b) and unless preempted by federal law, if a transaction bears a reasonable relation to this Nation and also to another Indian tribe or nation, State, or country, the parties may agree that the law either of this Nation or of such other Indian tribe or nation, State, or country governs the parties’ rights and duties. In the absence of an effective agreement, this title applies to all transactions bearing an appropriate relation to this Nation. The fact that the law of another Indian tribe or nation, State, or country is applicable as provided in this section does not affect the jurisdiction or venue of this Nation, nor does it waive the sovereign immunity of this Nation or of any agency or instrumentality thereof.

(b) When Agreement Ineffective. An agreement otherwise effective under subsection (a) is ineffective in any of the following cases:

- (1) in a consumer transaction;

- (2) to the extent the agreement purports to vary the provisions of Sections 301 or 303 of this Title, concerning the law governing perfection and priority;
or
- (3) to the extent that application of the law of the Indian tribe or nation, State, or country designated in the agreement would be contrary to a fundamental policy of this Nation.

Section 202. Attachment and Enforceability of Security Interest; Proceeds; Formal Requisites

(b) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (c) through (g), a security interest is enforceable against the debtor and third parties with respect to the collateral only if:

- (1) value has been given;
- (2) the debtor has rights in the collateral or the power to transfer rights in the collateral to a secured party; and

(C) the collateral is a security or an investment account and the secured party has control pursuant to the debtor's security agreement.

(d) The attachment of a security interest in collateral gives the secured party the rights to proceeds provided by this title.

(e) The attachment of a security interest in a right to payment or performance secured by a security interest, mortgage or other lien on personal or real property is also attachment of a security interest in the security interest, mortgage, or other lien.

(f) The attachment of a security interest in an investment account is also attachment of a security interest in any securities or commodity contracts credited to the investment account.

(g) Law other than this title determines when and if another person becomes bound by a security agreement entered into by a debtor.

Section 203. After-Acquired Collateral: Future Advances

(a) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (b), a security agreement may create or provide for a security interest in after-acquired collateral.

(b) A security interest does not attach under a term constituting an after-acquired property clause to:

- (1) consumer goods, other than an accession when given as additional security, unless the debtor acquires rights in them within ten (10) days after the secured party gives value; or
- (2) a commercial tort claim.

(c) A security agreement may provide that collateral secures or that accounts, chattel paper, or payment intangibles are sold in connection with future advances or other value, whether or not the advances or value are given pursuant to commitment.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 204. Rights and Duties When Collateral Is In Secured Party's Possession or Control

(a) A secured party shall use reasonable care in the custody and preservation of collateral in the secured party's possession.

(b) A secured party having possession or control of securities or control of an investment account may create a security interest in the collateral.

(c) If the secured party is a buyer of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes or a consignor, subsection (a) does not apply unless the secured party is entitled under an agreement:

- (1) to charge back uncollected collateral; or
- (2) otherwise to full or limited recourse against the debtor or a secondary obligor based on the nonpayment or other default of an account debtor or other obligor on the collateral.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 205. Additional Duties of Certain Secured Parties

(a) This section applies to cases in which there is no outstanding secured obligation and the secured party is not committed to make advances, incur obligations, or otherwise give value.

(b) Within ten (10) tribal business days after receiving a signed demand by the debtor, a secured party having control of an investment account shall send to the investment intermediary with which the investment account is maintained a signed statement that releases the investment intermediary from any further obligation to comply with instructions originated by the secured party.

(c) Within ten (10) tribal business days after receiving a signed demand by the debtor, a secured party shall send to an account debtor that has received notification of an assignment to the secured party as assignee under the provisions of Section 403 of this title dealing with discharge of an account debtor and notification of an assignment, a signed record that releases the account debtor from any further obligation to the secured party. However, this subsection does not apply to an assignment constituting the sale of an account, chattel paper, or payment intangible.

When the security agreement or any other record kept by the secured party identifies the collateral a debtor may similarly request the secured party to approve or correct a list of the collateral.

(b) A secured party, other than a buyer of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles or promissory notes or a consignor, must comply with such a request within ten (10) tribal business days after receipt by sending a written correction or approval. If the secured party claims a security interest in all of a particular type of collateral owned by the debtor, the secured party may indicate that fact in the reply and need not approve or correct an itemized list of such collateral. If the secured party no longer has an interest in the obligation or collateral at the time the request is received, the secured party must disclose the name and address of any known successor in interest. A successor in interest is not subject to this section until a request is received by the successor.

SUBPART 1 LAW GOVERNING PERFECTION AND PRIORITY

Section 301. Law Governing Perfection and Priority of Security Interests

Except as otherwise provided in Section 303 of this title with respect to goods covered by a certificate of title, the following rules determine the law governing perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in collateral.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this Title, Chapter 3 governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in collateral:

- (1) if the security interest is created pursuant to this title;
- (2) from the time that the debtor becomes subject to the jurisdiction of this Nation (Section 316(d) and (e)); or
- (3) from the time that the collateral is transferred to a person that thereby becomes a debtor and is subject to the jurisdiction of this Nation.

(b) Except as provided in paragraph (c), while goods are located within a jurisdiction, the local law of that jurisdiction governs:

- (1) perfection of a security interest in the goods by filing a fixture filing; and
- (2) perfection of a security interest in timber to be cut.

(c) The local law of the jurisdiction in which the wellhead or minehead is located governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in as-extracted collateral.

(d) This section does not determine the law governing matters not expressly referred to herein, including attachment, validity, characterization, and enforcement.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 303. Law Governing Perfection and Priority of Security Interests in Goods Covered by a Certificate of Title

(a) This section applies to goods covered by a certificate of title, even if there is no other relationship between the jurisdictions under whose certificate of title the goods are covered and the goods or the debtor.

(b) Goods become covered by a certificate of title when a valid application for the certificate of title and the applicable fee are delivered to the appropriate authority. Goods cease to be covered by a certificate of title at the earlier of:

- (1) the time the certificate of title ceases to be effective under the law of the issuing jurisdiction; or
- (2) the time the goods become covered subsequently by a certificate of title issued by another jurisdiction.

(c) The local law of the jurisdiction under whose certificate of title the goods are covered governs perfection, the effect of perfection or nonperfection, and the priority of a security interest in goods covered by a certificate of title from the time the goods become covered by the certificate of title until the goods cease to be covered by the certificate of title.

SUBPART 2
PERFECTION

Section 308. When Security Interest is Perfected: Continuity of Perfection

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section and the next section dealing with security interests perfected upon attachment, a security interest is perfected if it has attached and all of the applicable requirements for perfection set forth in this Title have been satisfied. A security interest is perfected when it attaches if the applicable requirements are satisfied before the security interest attaches.

(b) A security interest is perfected continuously if it is originally perfected by one method under this title and is later perfected by another method under this Title, without an intermediate period when it was unperfected.

(c) Perfection of a security interest in a right to payment or performance also perfects a security interest in a security interest, mortgage, or other lien on personal or real property securing the right.

(d) Perfection of a security interest in an investment account also perfects a security interest in any securities or commodity contracts credited to the investment account.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 309. Security Interest Perfected Upon Attachment

The following security interests are perfected when they attach:

(a) a purchase-money security interest in consumer goods, except as otherwise provided in Section 311(b) regarding goods subject to certain statutes, regulations or treaties;

(b) a security interest created by an assignment of accounts which does not by itself or in conjunction with other assignments to the same assignee transfer a significant part of the assignor's outstanding accounts;

(c) a sale of a payment intangible or a promissory note;

(d) a security interest created by an assignment of a beneficial interest in a decedent's estate; and

(e) a security interest created by an assignment by an individual of an account that is a right to payment of winnings in a lottery or other game of chance.

Section 310. When Filing Required to Perfect Security Interest: Security Interests to Which Filing Provisions Do Not Apply

(a) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (b) and Section 312(b) of this title dealing with perfection of a security interest in money, a financing statement must be filed to perfect all security interests.

(b) The filing of a financing statement is not necessary to perfect a security interest:

(1) that is perfected under Section 308(c), dealing with liens securing rights to payment;

- (2) that is perfected when it attaches under Section 309;
- (3) in property subject to a statute, regulation, or treaty described in Section 311(a);
- (4) in goods in possession of a bailee which is perfected under Section 312(d)(1) or (2);
- (5) in certificated securities, negotiable documents, goods, or instruments which is perfected without filing or possession under Section 312(e), (f) or (g);
- (6) in collateral in the secured party's possession under Section 313;
- (7) in a security or an investment account perfected by control under Section 314;
- (8) in proceeds which is perfected under Section 315; or
- (9) that is perfected under Section 316 relating to continued perfection of security interests perfected under the law of another jurisdiction.

(c) If a secured party assigns a perfected security interest, a filing under this title is not required to continue the perfected status of the security interest against creditors of and transferees from the original debtor.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 311. Perfection of Security Interests in Property Subject to Certain Statutes, Regulations, and Treaties

(a) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (d), the filing of a financing statement is not necessary or effective to perfect a security interest in property subject to:

- (1) any law of the United States whose requirements for a security interest obtaining priority over the rights of a lien creditor with respect to the property preempt the provisions of this title requiring that security interests be perfected by filing; or
- (2) any certificate-of-title statute covering automobiles, trailers, mobile homes, boats, farm tractors, or the like, which provides for a security interest to be indicated on the certificate as a condition or result of perfection, and any central filing statute other than the one provided by this title; or
- (3) a certificate-of-title statute of another jurisdiction which provides for a security interest to be indicated on the certificate as a condition or result of the security interest obtaining priority over the rights of a lien creditor with respect to the property.

(b) Compliance with the requirements of a statute, regulation, or treaty described in subsection (a) for obtaining priority over the rights of a lien creditor is equivalent to the filing of a financing statement under this title. Except as otherwise provided in subsection (d) and the provisions of this title providing for perfection by possession when goods covered by a certificate of title issued by one jurisdiction become covered by a certificate of title issued by another jurisdiction, a security interest in property subject to a statute, regulation, or treaty described in subsection (a) may be perfected only by compliance with those requirements, and a security interest so perfected remains perfected notwithstanding a change in the use or transfer of possession of the collateral.

(c) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (d) and the provisions of this title providing for continued perfection when goods covered by a certificate of title issued by one jurisdiction become covered by a certificate of title issued by another jurisdiction, duration and renewal of perfection of a security interest perfected by compliance with the requirements prescribed by a statute, regulation, or treaty described in subsection (a) are governed by the statute, regulation, or treaty. In other respects, the security interest is subject to this title.

(d) During any period in which collateral subject to a statute specified in subsection (a)(2) is inventory held for sale or lease by a person or leased by that person as lessor and that person is in the business of selling goods of that kind, this section does not apply to a security interest in that collateral created by that person.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 312. Perfection of Security Interests in Chattel Paper, Documents, Goods Covered By Documents, Instruments, and Money; Perfection by Permissive Filing; Temporary Perfection Without Filing or Transfer of Possession

(a) A security interest in chattel paper, negotiable documents, instruments, securities, or investment accounts may be perfected by filing.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in the provisions of this title dealing with perfection with respect to proceeds, a security interest in money may be perfected only by the secured party taking possession under the provisions of this title dealing with perfection by possession.

(c) While goods are in the possession of a bailee that has issued a negotiable document covering the goods:

- (1) a security interest in the goods may be perfected by perfecting a security interest in the document; and
- (2) a security interest perfected in the document has priority over any security interest in the goods that becomes perfected by another method during that time.

(d) While goods are in the possession of a bailee that has issued a nonnegotiable document covering the goods, a security interest in the goods may be perfected by:

- (1) issuance of a document in the name of the secured party; or
- (2) the bailee's receipt of notification of the secured party's interest; or
- (3) filing as to the goods.

(e) A security interest in certificated securities, negotiable documents, or instruments is perfected without filing or the taking of possession for a period of twenty (20) days from the time it attaches to the extent that it arises for new value given under a signed security agreement.

(f) A perfected security interest in a negotiable document or goods in possession of a bailee, other than one that has issued a negotiable document for the goods, remains perfected for twenty (20) days without filing if the secured party makes available to the debtor the goods or documents representing the goods for the purpose of:

- (1) ultimate sale or exchange; or
- (2) loading, unloading, storing, shipping, transshipping, manufacturing, processing, or otherwise dealing with them in a manner preliminary to their sale or exchange.

(g) A perfected security interest in a certificated security or instrument remains perfected for twenty (20) days without filing if the secured party delivers the security certificate or instrument to the debtor for the purpose of:

- (1) ultimate sale or exchange; or
- (2) presentation, collection, enforcement, renewal, or registration of transfer.

(h) After the twenty (20) day period specified in subsection (e), (f), or (g) expires, perfection depends upon compliance with this title.

Section 313. When Possession By Secured Party Perfects Security Interest Without Filing

(a) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (b), a secured party may perfect a security interest in certificated securities, negotiable documents, goods, instruments, money, or chattel paper by taking possession of the collateral.

(b) With respect to goods covered by a certificate of title issued by this Nation or a State, a secured party may perfect a security interest in the goods by taking possession of the goods only in the circumstances described in Section 316(c), relating to continued perfection of goods covered by a certificate of title.

(c) With respect to collateral other than certificated securities and goods covered by a document, a secured party takes possession of collateral in the possession of a person other than the debtor, the secured party, or a lessee of the collateral from the debtor in the ordinary course of the debtor's business, when:

- (1) the person in possession signs a record acknowledging that it holds possession of the collateral for the secured party's benefit; or
- (2) the person takes possession of the collateral after having signed a record acknowledging that it will hold possession of collateral for the secured party's benefit.

(d) If perfection of a security interest depends upon possession of the collateral by a secured party, perfection occurs no earlier than the time the secured party takes possession and continues only while the secured party retains possession.

(e) A person in possession of collateral is not required to acknowledge that it holds possession for a secured party's benefit.

(f) If a person acknowledges that it holds possession for the secured party's benefit:

- (1) the acknowledgment is effective under subsection (c), even if the acknowledgment violates the rights of a debtor; and
- (2) unless the person otherwise agrees, or law other than this title otherwise provides, the person does not owe any duty to the secured party and is not required to confirm the acknowledgment to another person.

Section 314. Perfection by Control

A security interest in a security or an investment account may be perfected by control.

Section 315. Secured Party's Rights On Disposition of Collateral and in Proceeds

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this title and in any applicable law dealing with entrustment of goods:

- (1) a security interest continues in collateral notwithstanding sale, lease, license, exchange, or other disposition thereof unless the secured party authorized the disposition free of the security interest; and
- (2) a security interest attaches to any identifiable proceeds of collateral.

(b) Proceeds that are commingled with other property are identifiable proceeds:

- (1) if the proceeds are goods, to the extent provided by the provisions of this title dealing with commingled goods; and
- (2) if the proceeds are not goods, to the extent that the secured party identifies the proceeds by a method of tracing, including application of equitable principles, which is permitted under law other than this title with respect to commingled property of the type involved.

(c) A security interest in proceeds is a perfected security interest if the security interest in the original collateral was perfected.

(d) A perfected security interest in proceeds becomes unperfected on the twenty-first (21st) day after the security interest attaches to the proceeds unless:

- (1) the following conditions are satisfied:
  - (A) a filed financing statement covers the original collateral;
  - (B) the proceeds are collateral in which a security interest may be perfected by filing in the office in which the financing statement has been filed; and
  - (C) the proceeds are not acquired with cash proceeds; or
- (2) the proceeds are identifiable cash proceeds; or
- (3) the security interest in the proceeds is perfected other than under subsection (c) when the security interest attaches to the proceeds or within twenty (20) days thereafter.

(e) If a filed financing statement covers the original collateral, a security interest in proceeds which remains perfected under subsection (d)(1) becomes unperfected at the later of:

- (1) when the effectiveness of the filed financing statement lapses or is terminated under the provisions of this title dealing with lapse or termination; or
- (2) the twenty-first (21st) day after the security interest attaches to the proceeds.

Section 316. Continued Perfection of Security Interest Following Change in Governing Law

(a) A security interest, to which this title becomes applicable, that is perfected pursuant to the law of another jurisdiction remains perfected until the earliest of:

- (1) the time perfection would have ceased under the law of that jurisdiction;

- (2) the expiration of four (4) months after the debtor becomes subject to the jurisdiction of this Nation (subsections (d) and (e)); or
- (3) the expiration of one (1) year after a transfer of collateral to a person that thereby becomes a debtor and is subject to the jurisdiction of this Nation.

(b) If a security interest described in subsection (a) becomes perfected under the law of this Nation before the end of the applicable period described in that subsection, it remains perfected thereafter until perfection lapses in accordance with this title. Otherwise, it becomes unperfected and is deemed never to have been perfected as against a purchaser of the collateral for value.

(c) A security interest, to which this title becomes applicable, which is perfected by any method under the law of another jurisdiction when the goods become covered by a certificate of title from this Nation remains perfected until the security interest would have become unperfected under the law of the other jurisdiction had the goods not become so covered. However, the security interest becomes unperfected as against a purchaser of the goods for value and is deemed never to have been perfected as against a purchaser of the goods for value, if the applicable requirements for perfection under Section 311(b) or 313, dealing with perfection by compliance with other law or by possession, are not satisfied before the earlier of:

- (1) the time the security interest would have become unperfected under the law of the other jurisdiction had the goods not become covered by a certificate of title from this Nation; or
- (2) the expiration of four (4) months after the goods had become so covered.

(d) For purposes of this section only, a debtor becomes subject to the jurisdiction of this Nation if:

- (1) the debtor is an individual whose principal residence comes to be within this jurisdiction or who becomes a member of this Nation;
- (2) the debtor is an organization, other than a registered organization, and its sole place of business or, if it has more than one place of business, its chief executive office, comes to be within this jurisdiction; or
- (3) the debtor comes to be
  - (A) a registered organization that is organized solely under the law of this Nation; or
  - (B) incorporated under a charter issued to an Indian tribe or nation by the United States Secretary of the Interior pursuant to 25 U.S.C. 477, as the same may be amended from time to time.

(e) For purposes of subsection (d):

- (1) a person, other than a registered organization, continues to be subject to the jurisdiction of this Nation notwithstanding the fact that it ceases to exist, have a residence, or have a place of business; and
- (2) a registered organization continues to be subject to the jurisdiction of this Nation notwithstanding:
  - (A) the suspension, revocation, forfeiture, or lapse of the registered organization's status as such; or
  - (B) the dissolution, winding up, or cancellation of the existence of the registered organization.

SUBPART 3 PRIORITY

Section 317. Interests That Take Priority Over Security Interest

- (a) A security interest is subordinate to the rights of:
  - (1) a person that becomes a lien creditor before the security interest is perfected;
  - (2) a buyer of tangible personal property (including instruments and tangible documents or chattel paper), a lessee of goods, a licensee of a general intangible, or a buyer of accounts or general intangibles or securities that:
    - (A) gives value;
    - (B) in the case of a buyer of tangible personal property, a lessee of goods, or a buyer of a security certificate, acquires possession; and
    - (C) in all cases to which this subsection (a)(2) applies, without knowledge of the security interest and before it is perfected; or
  - (3) a secured party entitled to priority under subsection (c).
- (b) Notwithstanding subsection (a), a purchase money secured party that files a financing statement before or within twenty (20) days after the debtor acquires possession of the collateral has priority over the rights of a buyer, lessee or lien creditor which arise between the time the security interest attaches and the time of filing.
- (c) Priority among conflicting security interests in the same collateral is determined as follows:

- (1) Conflicting perfected security interests in the same collateral rank according to priority in time of filing or perfection. Priority dates from the earlier of the time a filing covering the collateral is first made or the security interest is first perfected, if there is no period thereafter when there is neither filing nor perfection.
- (2) A perfected security interest has priority over a conflicting unperfected security interest.
- (3) The first security interest to attach has priority if conflicting security interests are unperfected.

(d) The time of filing or perfection as to a security interest in collateral is also the time of filing or perfection as to a security interest in proceeds, except as provided in Section 318.

(e) Except as provided elsewhere in this chapter, a security interest that has priority under Section 318(e), (f) or (j) also has priority over a conflicting security interest in proceeds if:

- (1) the security interest in proceeds is perfected;
- (2) the proceeds are cash proceeds or of the same type as the collateral; and
- (3) in the case of proceeds of proceeds, all intervening proceeds are cash proceeds, proceeds of the same type as the collateral, or an account relating to the collateral.

(f) If a security interest in chattel paper, negotiable documents, instruments, securities or investment accounts is perfected by a method other than filing, and if the proceeds are not cash proceeds, chattel paper, negotiable documents, instruments, securities, investment accounts or letter of credit rights, then priority in the proceeds is determined by the order of any filing.

(g) If applicable law other than this title gives a security interest or right of set-off to any person with respect to a letter of credit, a buyer (or seller) or lessee of goods, or in personal property that is not subject to this title, that law governs in the event of conflict with the provisions of this title.

Section 318. Particular Priority Rules

(a) This section creates exceptions to the general priority rules of Section 317.

(b) For the purpose of this title, while goods are in the possession of a consignee, the consignee is deemed to have rights and title to the goods identical to those the consignor had or had power to transfer. If Chapter 3 of this title results in the consignor having priority over a creditor of the consignee, law other than this title determines the rights and title of the consignee with regard to that creditor.

(c) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, a buyer in ordinary course of business, a person that takes a non-exclusive license of a general intangible in ordinary course of business, or a person that takes a lease of goods in ordinary course of business, takes its interest in the collateral free of a security interest in the collateral created by the seller, licensor, or lessor, even if the security interest is perfected and the buyer, licensee or lessee knows of its existence. Whether a licensee or lessee takes its interest in ordinary course of business is to be determined by criteria parallel to those for a buyer in ordinary course of business pursuant to Section 102(a)(7) of this title. This subsection does not apply to:

- (1) a buyer of farm products from a person engaged in farming operations, unless the buyer obtains from the seller a notarized statement setting forth the name and address of any person that has a security interest in the farm products; and either
  - (A) obtains a consent to the sale, free of the security interest from the secured party; or
  - (B) makes payment for the farm products jointly to the seller and the secured party; or
- (2) a buyer of goods in the possession of the secured party as provided in Section 313 of this title.

(d) A buyer of goods from a person who used or bought the goods for use primarily for personal, family or household purposes takes free of a security interest, even if perfected, if the buyer buys:

- (1) without knowledge of the security interest;
- (2) for value;
- (3) primarily for the buyer's personal, family, or household purposes; and
- (4) in the case of goods having a value of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) or more, before the filing of a financing statement covering the goods. However, this subsection does not apply to a buyer of goods in the possession of the secured party as provided in Section 313 of this title.

(e) Purchaser of chattel paper or instrument.

- (1) A purchaser of chattel paper or an instrument has priority over a security interest if:

- (A) the purchaser, in good faith and in the ordinary course of the purchaser's business, gives new value and takes possession of the collateral;
  - (B) the collateral does not indicate that it has been previously assigned to an identified person other than the purchaser; and
  - (C) the purchaser is otherwise without knowledge that the purchase violates the rights of the secured party.
- (2) A purchaser with priority in chattel paper under subsection (E)(1) also has priority in proceeds of the chattel paper to the extent that:
- (A) the proceeds consist of the specific goods covered by the chattel paper or cash proceeds of the specific goods, even if the security interest in the proceeds is unperfected; or
  - (B) Section 317(c), (d) or (e) so provides.

(f) This title does not limit the rights of, or impose liability on, a holder in due course of a negotiable instrument, a holder to which a negotiable document has been duly negotiated, or a person protected against the assertion of a claim to investment property under other applicable law. Filing under this title is not notice of a claim or defense to the holder or protected person.

(g) Priority of future advances.

- (1) With respect to a conflicting security interest, the priority of an advance under a security agreement is determined under Section 317(b), except that perfection dates from the time the advance is made if the security interest securing it is perfected only by attachment as provided in Section 309 or temporarily by law as provided in Section 312(e), (f) or (g) and is not made pursuant to a commitment entered into before or while the security interest is perfected by another means.
- (2) With respect to a lien creditor, the security interest securing an advance is subordinate if the advance is made more than forty-five (45) days after the person becomes a lien creditor, unless the advance is made without knowledge of the lien or pursuant to a commitment entered into without knowledge of the lien.
- (3) With respect to a buyer of goods other than a buyer in ordinary course of business as provided in Section 102(a)(7), and with respect to a lessee of goods that does not take its lease in ordinary course of business as provided in Section 318(c), the security interest securing an advance is subordinate if the advance is made after the earlier of the time the secured party acquires knowledge of the purchase or forty-five (45) days after the purchase, unless the advance is made pursuant to a commitment entered into without knowledge of the purchase and before the expiration of the forty-five (45) day period.

- (4) Paragraphs (1) and (2) of this subsection do not apply to a security interest held by a person that is a consignor or a buyer of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles or promissory notes.

(h) The following rules govern the priority of a purchase money security interest and a conflicting security interest in collateral and its proceeds:

- (1) A perfected purchase-money security interest in goods other than inventory or livestock that are farm products has priority over a conflicting security interest, and a perfected security interest in identifiable proceeds also has priority, if the purchase-money security interest is perfected when the debtor receives possession of the collateral or within twenty (20) days thereafter.
- (2) A perfected purchase-money security interest in inventory or livestock that are farm products has priority over a conflicting security interest if the purchase-money security interest is perfected when the debtor acquires possession of the goods and the purchase-money secured party sends timely and appropriate notice to the holder of the conflicting security interest, provided that no such notice is required unless the holder of the conflicting security interest has filed a financing statement covering the same types of goods:
  - (A) before the purchase-money security interest is perfected by filing; or
  - (B) if the purchase-money security interest is temporarily perfected under Section 312(f), before the beginning of the applicable twenty (20) day period. If a purchase-money secured party has priority in inventory under this paragraph (2), it also has priority in chattel paper or an instrument constituting proceeds, in proceeds of the chattel paper except as otherwise provided in this section, and in identifiable cash proceeds received on or before delivery of the goods to a buyer. If a purchase-money secured party has priority in livestock that are farm products under this paragraph (2), it also has priority in their identifiable proceeds and products in their unmanufactured states.
- (3) A perfected purchase-money security interest in software has priority over a conflicting security interest, and a perfected security interest in its identifiable proceeds also has priority, to the extent that the purchase-money security interest in the goods in which the software was acquired for use has priority in the goods and proceeds of the goods.

- (4) Notwithstanding the rest of this subsection, if two or more purchase- money security interests are perfected in the same collateral, the security interest securing an obligation for the price has priority, and otherwise priority is determined by the rule of Section 317(b).

(i) A transferee of money or of funds from a deposit account takes the money or funds free of a security interest unless the transferee acts in collusion with the debtor in violating the rights of the secured party.

(j) A security interest in a security or an investment account perfected by control, as provided under Section 314, has priority over a security interest perfected in another way. Multiple security interests perfected by control rank according to time of acquiring control; however, a security interest held by an investment intermediary in the investment account that it maintains has priority regardless of time of acquiring control. A security interest in a certificated security in registered form that is perfected by possession as provided in Section 313, and not by control, has priority over a conflicting security interest perfected by a method other than control.

(k) A lien created by statute or rule of law which secures payment or performance of an obligation for services or materials furnished with respect to goods by a person in the ordinary course of the person's business and whose effectiveness depends on the person's possession of the goods has priority over a security interest in the goods unless the lien is created by a statute that expressly provides otherwise.

Section 319. Priority of Security Interests in Fixtures and Crops

(a) A security interest under this title may be created in goods that are fixtures or may continue in goods that become fixtures. A security interest does not exist under this title in ordinary building materials incorporated into an improvement on land.

(b) This title does not prevent creation of an encumbrance upon fixtures under real property law.

(c) In cases not governed by subsections (d) through (h), a security interest in fixtures is subordinate to a conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the related real property other than the debtor.

(d) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (h), a perfected security interest in fixtures has priority over a conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the real property if:

- (1) the debtor has a security interest of record in or is in possession of the real property;
- (2) the security interest is a purchase-money security interest;

- (3) the interest of the encumbrancer or owner arises before the goods become fixtures; and
- (4) the security interest is perfected by an appropriate filing before the goods become fixtures or within twenty (20) days thereafter.

(e) A perfected security interest in fixtures has priority over a conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the real property if:

- (1) the debtor has an interest of record in the real property or is in possession of the real property and the security interest:
  - (A) is perfected by an appropriate filing before the interest of the encumbrancer or owner is of record; and
  - (B) has priority over any conflicting interest of a predecessor in title of the encumbrancer or owner;
- (2) before the goods become fixtures, the security interest is perfected by any method permitted by this title and the fixtures are readily removable:
  - (A) factory or office machines;
  - (B) equipment that is not primarily used or leased for use in the operation of the real property; or
  - (C) replacements of domestic appliances that are consumer goods;
- (3) the conflicting interest is a lien on the real property obtained by legal or equitable proceedings after the security interest was perfected by any method permitted by this title; or
- (4) the security interest is:
  - (A) created in a manufactured home in a manufactured-home transaction; and
  - (B) perfected pursuant to a statute described in Section 311(a)(2).

(f) A security interest in fixtures, whether or not perfected, has priority over a conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the real property if:

- (1) the encumbrancer or owner has, in a signed record, consented to the security interest or disclaimed an interest in the goods as fixtures; or
- (2) the debtor has a right to remove the goods as against the encumbrancer or owner.

(g) The priority of the security interest under paragraph (f)(2) continues for a reasonable time if the debtor's right to remove the goods as against the encumbrancer or owner terminates.

(h) A mortgage is a construction mortgage to the extent that it secures an obligation incurred for the construction of an improvement on land, including the acquisition cost of the land, if a recorded record of the mortgage so indicates. Except as otherwise provided in subsections (e) and (f), a security interest in fixtures is subordinate to a construction mortgage if a record of the mortgage is recorded before the goods become fixtures and the goods become fixtures before the completion of the construction. A mortgage has this priority to the same extent as a construction mortgage to the extent that it is given to refinance a construction mortgage.

(i) A perfected security interest in crops growing on real property has priority over a conflicting interest of an encumbrancer or owner of the real property if the debtor has an interest of record in or is in possession of the real property.

Section 320. Accessions

(a) A security interest may be created in an accession and continues in collateral that becomes an accession.

(b) If a security interest is perfected when the collateral becomes an accession, the security interest remains perfected in the collateral.

(c) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (d), the other provisions of this chapter determine the priority of a security interest in an accession.

(d) A security interest in an accession is subordinate to a security interest in the whole which is perfected by compliance with the requirements of a certificate-of-title statute under Section 311(b).

(e) After default, subject to Chapter 6, a secured party may remove an accession from other goods if the security interest in the accession has priority over the claims of every person having an interest in the whole.

(f) A secured party that removes an accession from other goods under subsection (e) shall promptly reimburse any holder of a security interest or other lien on, or owner of, the whole or of the other goods, other than the debtor, for the cost of repair of any physical injury to the whole or the other goods. The secured party need not reimburse the holder or owner for any diminution in value of the whole or the other goods caused by the absence of the accession removed or by any necessity for replacing it. A person entitled to reimbursement may refuse permission to remove until the secured party gives adequate assurance for the performance of the obligation to reimburse.

Section 321. Commingled Goods

(a) In this section, “commingled goods” means goods that are physically united with other goods in such a manner that their identity is lost in a product or mass.

(b) A security interest does not exist in commingled goods as such. However, a security interest may attach to a product or mass that results when goods become commingled goods.

(c) If collateral becomes commingled goods, a security interest attaches to the product or mass.

(d) If a security interest in collateral is perfected before the collateral becomes commingled goods, the security interest that attaches to the product or mass under subsection (c) is perfected.

(e) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (f), the other provisions of this chapter determine the priority of a security interest that attaches to the product or mass under subsection (c).

(f) If more than one security interest attaches to the product or mass under subsection (c), the following rules determine priority:

- (1) A security interest that is perfected under subsection (d) has priority over a security interest that is unperfected at the time the collateral becomes commingled goods.
- (2) If more than one security interest is perfected under subsection (d), the security interests rank equally in proportion to the value of the collateral at the time it became commingled goods.

Section 322. Priority of Security Interests in Goods Covered by Certificate of Title

If, while a security interest in goods is perfected by any method under the law of another jurisdiction, this jurisdiction issues a certificate of title pursuant to Section 106(a)(9) that does not show that the goods are subject to the security interest or contain a statement that they may be subject to security interests not shown on the certificate:

(a) a buyer of the goods, other than a person in the business of selling goods of that kind, takes free of the security interest if the buyer gives value and receives delivery of the goods after issuance of the certificate and without knowledge of the security interest; and

(b) the security interest is subordinate to a conflicting security interest in the goods that attaches, and is perfected under Section 311(b), after issuance of the certificate and without the conflicting secured party’s knowledge of the security interest.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 323. Priority Subject to Subordination

This title does not preclude subordination by agreement by a person entitled to priority.

CHAPTER FOUR

RIGHTS OF THIRD PARTIES

Section 401. Alienability of Debtor's Rights

Whether a debtor's rights in collateral may be voluntarily or involuntarily transferred is governed by law other than this title; however, an agreement between a debtor and secured party which prohibits a transfer of the debtor's rights in collateral or makes the transfer a default does not prevent the transfer from taking effect. This section is subject to Section 404, which invalidates certain legal and contractual restrictions on transferability that generally would be effective under other law.

Section 402. Secured Party Not Obligated on Contract of Debtor or in Tort

The existence of a security interest or authority given to a debtor to dispose of or use collateral, without more, does not subject a secured party to liability in contract or tort for the debtor's acts or omissions.

Section 403. Rights of Assignee

(a) An agreement between an account debtor and an assignor not to assert against an assignee any claim or defense that the account debtor may have against the assignor is enforceable by an assignee that takes an assignment in good faith, and for value as defined in the law governing negotiable instruments, except as to claims or defenses that may be asserted against a holder in due course of a negotiable instrument. However, such an agreement is not enforceable if:

- (1) the agreement relates to an obligation incurred on account of a sale or lease of goods or services;
- (2) the account debtor seeks or acquires the goods or services primarily for personal, family or household use; and
- (3) the assignor, in the ordinary course of its business, sells or leases goods or services to consumers.

(b) If a negotiable promissory note represents an obligation incurred on account of a sale or lease of goods or service, and the issuer seeks or acquires the goods or services primarily for personal, family or household use, and the payee, in the ordinary course of its business, sells or leases goods or services to consumers, then the issuer may assert any claims and defenses against a person entitled to enforce the note, including a holder in due course.

(c) Except to the extent an agreement to the contrary is enforceable under subsection (a), the rights of an assignee are subject to reduction of the amount owed by reason of all terms of the contract between the account debtor and assignor, any defense or claim in recoupment arising from the transaction that gave rise to the contract, and any other defense or claim of the account debtor against the assignor which accrues before the account debtor receives adequate notification of the assignment signed by the assignor or the assignee.

(d) An account debtor or party to a negotiable promissory note may discharge its obligation by paying the assignor or person formerly entitled to enforce the note until, but not after, such account debtor or party receives:

- (1) adequate notification that performance is to be rendered to the assignee or transferee, signed by:
  - (i) in the case of an account debtor, the assignor or assignee; or
  - (ii) in the case of a negotiable promissory note, the transferor or transferee; and
- (2) reasonable proof of the assignment or transfer, if requested by such account debtor or party. In the case of an account debtor, discharge under this subsection is effective notwithstanding an otherwise enforceable agreement not to assert claims or defenses. In the case of a party to a negotiable promissory note, discharge under this subsection is effective against a holder in due course.

(e) A modification of or substitution for an assigned contract is effective against an assignee to the extent provided by law other than this title.

Section 404. Restrictions on Assignment

- (a) A commercially harmful restriction on alienation of property is invalid.
- (b) In an assignment of accounts, an assignment of chattel paper, an assignment of payment intangibles that is not a sale, or a transfer of promissory notes that is not a sale, the term “commercially harmful restriction on alienation” means a term in an agreement between an account debtor and an assignor, or in a promissory note, to the extent that it:
  - (1) prohibits, restricts, or requires the consent of the account debtor or person obligated on the promissory note, to the assignment or transfer of, or the creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement of a security interest in, the affected property; or
  - (2) provides that such an assignment, transfer, creation, attachment, perfection, or enforcement may give rise to a default or remedy.

(c) In a sale of promissory notes, a sale of payment intangibles, or a security interest in other general intangibles (including a contract, permit, or license, or franchise) that is not a sale, the term “commercially harmful restriction on alienation” has the same meaning as in subsection (b) except that the references to enforcement of a security interest appearing in subsection (b)(1) and (2) are excluded. To the extent a commercially harmful restriction on alienation under paragraph (c)(1) would otherwise be effective under law other than this title, the creation, attachment, or perfection of the security interest:

- (1) does not impose a duty or obligation on the account debtor or person obligated on the promissory note;
- (2) is not enforceable against the account debtor or person obligated on the promissory note; and
- (3) does not entitle the secured party to:
  - (A) use the debtor’s rights in or to the property;
  - (B) have access to trade secrets or confidential information of the account debtor or person obligated on the promissory note; or
  - (C) enforce the security interest.

(d) In addition to the meanings set forth in subsections (b) and (c), the term “commercially harmful restriction on alienation” includes a rule of law to the extent that it:

- (1) requires the consent of a governmental body or official to the assignment or transfer of, or actions described in subsection (b) or (c), as applicable, regarding a security interest in, the property; or
- (2) has any of the effects of a commercially harmful restriction on alienation as defined in subsection (b) or (c), as applicable.

(e) This section is subject to any different rule in other law for a consumer. In addition, this section does not apply to an assignment of:

- (1) a claim or right to receive compensation for injuries or sickness as described in 26 U.S.C. 104(a)(1) or (2), as the same may be amended from time to time;
- (2) a claim or right to receive benefits under a special needs trust as described in 42 U.S.C. 1396p(d)(4), as the same may be amended from time to time;
- (3) a structured settlement payment right; or
- (4) a right to payment of winnings in a lottery or other game of chance regulated by law other than this title.

CHAPTER FIVE FILING

Section 501. Acceptance, Refusal, and Effectiveness of Financing Statements: Administration

(a) The place to file a financing statement to perfect a security interest governed by this title or another record relating to a security interest is the office of the Commission. However, if (1) the collateral is as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut, or (2) the financing statement is filed as a fixture filing, the collateral is goods that are or are to become fixtures, then the place to file the financing statement is the office designated for the filing or recording of a record of a mortgage on the related real property.

(b) A financing statement may be filed before a security agreement is made or a security interest attaches. Receipt by the Commission of a financing statement or other record, in appropriate form by an appropriate method, and tender of the filing fee, constitutes filing, and in those cases the Commission must accept the record. If the Commission refuses the record, it must communicate that fact to the person that presented the record, as well as the reason for refusal and the date and time that the record would have otherwise been filed.

(c) A record in appropriate form and communicated to the Commission by an appropriate method is effective even if:

- (1) it is improperly refused by the Commission, except as against a purchaser of the collateral for value in reasonable reliance on the absence of the record from the files;
- (2) it is incorrectly indexed by the Commission; or
- (3) it has minor errors or omissions in information required to perfect a security interest, unless the errors or omissions make the record seriously misleading. If a financing statement fails sufficiently to provide the name of the debtor, the name provided does not make the financing statement seriously misleading if a search of the Commission's records under the debtor's correct name using the Commission's standard search logic, if any, would disclose the financing statement.

(d) If information that the Commission's regulations require to be included in a record, but that Section 502(a) does not require for perfection of a security interest, is incorrect at the time the record is filed, the security interest is subordinate to a conflicting perfected security interest or the interest of a purchaser other than a secured party, to the extent that:

- (1) the holder of the conflicting security interest gives value in reasonable reliance on the incorrect information; or

- (2) the purchaser gives value and, in the case of a buyer or lessee of property capable of being possessed, takes possession, all in reasonable reliance on the incorrect information.

(e) The fee for filing and indexing a record under subsection (a) is Ten Dollars ($10.00) for the first five (5) pages and One Dollar ($1.00) for each additional page thereafter. The Commission may set fees for filing and indexing a record under subsection (A) by regulation.

(f) The Commission is charged with administration of Chapter 5 of this title. In accordance with applicable administrative and interpretive rules the Commission shall promulgate and make available the following, in both cases consistent with this title and with tribal and commercial policy:

- (1) regulations to the extent thought necessary for the effective implementation and enforcement of Chapter 5 of this title; and
- (2) an implementation manual providing guidance to persons entering into transactions governed by this title.

Section 502. Contents of Records: Authorization: Lapse: Continuation: Termination

(a) A financing statement is sufficient to perfect a security interest only if it provides the name of the debtor, the name of the secured party or a representative of the secured party, and indicates the collateral covered by the financing statement with a description, whether or not specific, that reasonably identifies the collateral or states that it covers all assets or all personal property. A financing statement or a record of a mortgage that covers as-extracted collateral or timber to be cut, or that is filed as a fixture filing and covers goods that are or are to become fixtures, is sufficient only if in addition it includes such further information as required by Commission regulation. A record that constitutes a termination statement, assigns a record, continues a record, or otherwise amends a record must comply with the regulations of the Commission for such records.

(b) A record may include information other than that required by subsection (a), such as addresses for the debtor and secured party, the characterization of a party as an individual or an organization and, if an organization, the type of organization, and the jurisdiction of organization of the debtor, or a trade name for the debtor, and may use other terms such as “consignor”, “lessor”, or “licensor”, to the extent permitted by and in compliance with the regulations of the Commission, and shall include such other information to the extent required by such regulations.

(c) A validly filed financing statement is effective for five (5) years after the date of filing unless sooner terminated, except as follows:

- (1) If the financing statement correctly indicates that it is filed in connection with a manufactured-home transaction or a public-finance transaction, it is effective for thirty (30) years after the date of filing unless sooner terminated;
- (2) A mortgage that is effective as a financing statement is effective until the mortgage is satisfied of record.

(d) A financing statement lapses at the end of the period specified in subsection (c) unless a continuation statement is filed within six (6) months before the expiration of the period. A lapsed financing statement ceases to perfect the security interest unless it is perfected otherwise before lapse, and the security interest is deemed to never have been perfected against a purchaser of the collateral for value.

(e) Upon proper continuation, the effectiveness of a filed financing statement continues for an additional period commencing on the date on which it otherwise would have become ineffective, and again may lapse unless further continued. An amendment to a financing statement other than a continuation statement does not extend the effectiveness of a financing statement, is effective only from its date of filing, and may be effective as a termination statement as prescribed in the regulations of the Commission.

(f) Upon the filing of a termination statement, the financing statement to which the termination statement relates ceases to be effective. A secured party or secured party of record shall file, cause to be filed, or send a termination statement in accordance with the regulations promulgated under this title.

(g) Only a person authorized by the debtor in compliance with this subsection or with regulations of the Commission, or a person otherwise designated by those regulations, may file a record that is effective. By signing a security agreement, the debtor authorizes the filing of a financing statement and amendments covering (1) the collateral described in the security agreement and (2) property that becomes collateral under Section 315(a)(2), relating to identifiable proceeds.

(h) If a debtor so changes its name, or an organization its identity or corporate structure, that a filed financing statement becomes seriously misleading, the financing statement is not effective to perfect a security interest in collateral acquired by the debtor more than four (4) months after the change, unless an appropriate filing is made before the expiration of that time. If a security interest continues in collateral transferred by the debtor pursuant to Section 315(a), a filed financing statement with respect to collateral remains effective, even if the secured party knows of or consents to the transfer.

CHAPTER SIX DEFAULT

SUBPART 1 DEFAULT AND ENFORCEMENT OF SECURITY INTERESTS

Section 601. Rights After Default: Judicial Enforcement: Consignor or Buyer of Accounts, Chattel Paper, Payment Intangibles, or Promissory Notes

(a) After default, a secured party has the rights provided in this chapter, the rights and duties related to possession or control of collateral pursuant to Section 204 of this title and, except as otherwise provided in the provisions of this title dealing with waivers and variances of rights and duties pursuant to Section 602, those provided by agreement of the parties. A secured party:

- (1) may reduce a claim to judgment, foreclose, or otherwise enforce the claim, security interest, by any available judicial procedure; and
- (2) if the collateral is documents, may proceed either as to the documents or as to the goods they cover.

(b) The rights under subsection (a) are cumulative and may be exercised simultaneously.

(c) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (g) and under the provisions of this title dealing with an unknown debtor or a secondary obligor pursuant to Section 605 of this title, after default, a debtor and an obligor have the rights provided in this chapter and by agreement of the parties.

(d) If a secured party has reduced its claim to judgment, the lien of any levy that may be made upon the collateral by virtue of an execution based upon the judgment relates back to the earliest of:

- (1) the date of perfection of the security interest in the collateral; or
- (2) the date of filing a financing statement covering the collateral; or
- (3) any date specified in a statute under which the lien was created.

(e) A sale pursuant to an execution is a foreclosure of the security interest by judicial procedure within the meaning of this section. A secured party may purchase at the sale and thereafter hold the collateral free of any other requirements of this title.

(f) Except as otherwise provided in the provisions of this title dealing with commercially reasonable collection and enforcement pursuant to Section 606(b) of this title, this chapter imposes no duties upon a secured party that is a consignor or is a buyer of accounts, chattel paper, payment intangibles, or promissory notes.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 602. Waiver and Variance of Rights and Duties

Except as otherwise provided in the provisions of Section 622 of this title dealing with waivers, to the extent that they give rights to a debtor or obligor and impose duties on a secured party, the debtor or obligor may not waive or vary the rules stated in the following sections of this title dealing with:

- (a) rights and duties when collateral is in a secured party's possession pursuant to Section 204;
- (b) requests for an accounting or requests regarding a list of collateral or statement of an account pursuant to Section 207;
- (c) commercially reasonable collection and enforcement pursuant to Section 607(b);
- (d) application of proceeds, deficiency and surplus pursuant to Section 608(a) and 615(C), to the extent that they deal with application or payment of non-cash proceeds of collection, enforcement, or disposition;
- (e) application of proceeds and the like pursuant to Sections 608 and 615(d), to the extent that they require accounting for or payment of surplus proceeds of collateral;
- (f) a secured party's right to take possession after default and limitations thereon pursuant to Section 609, to the extent that it imposes upon the secured party taking possession of collateral without judicial process the duty to do so without breach of the peace and with consent of the debtor;
- (g) commercially reasonable disposition pursuant to Section 610(b), notification before disposition of the collateral pursuant to Section 611, and the contents and form of a notification before disposition of the collateral pursuant to Section 613;
- (h) calculation of a deficiency or surplus when the fairness of the amount of proceeds is placed in issue pursuant to Section 615(e);
- (i) explanation of the calculation of a surplus or deficiency pursuant to Section 616;
- (j) acceptance of collateral in satisfaction of obligation pursuant to Section 620;
- (k) right to redeem collateral pursuant to Section 623;
- (l) waivers pursuant to Section 624; and
- (m) the secured party's liability for failure to comply with this title pursuant to Sections 625 and 626.

Section 603. Agreement on Standards Concerning Rights and Duties

The parties may determine by agreement the standards measuring the fulfillment of the rights of a debtor or obligor and the duties of a secured party under a rule stated in the provisions of Section 602 of this title dealing with waiver or variance of rights and duties, if the standards are not manifestly unreasonable.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 604. Procedure if Security Agreement Covers Real Property or Fixtures

(a) If a security agreement covers both personal and real property, a secured party may proceed:

- (1) under this chapter as to the personal property without prejudicing any rights with respect to the real property; or
- (2) as to both the personal property and the real property in accordance with the rights with respect to the real property, in which case the other provisions of this Chapter do not apply.

(b) Subject to subsection (c), if a security agreement covers goods that are or become fixtures, a secured party may proceed:

- (1) under this chapter; or
- (2) in accordance with the rights with respect to real property, in which case the other provisions of this Chapter do not apply.

(c) Subject to the other provisions of this chapter, if a secured party holding a security interest in fixtures has priority over all owners and encumbrancers of the real property, the secured party, after default, may remove the collateral from the real property.

(d) A secured party that removes collateral shall promptly reimburse any encumbrancer or owner of the real property, other than the debtor, for the cost of repair of any physical injury caused by the removal. The secured party need not reimburse the encumbrancer or owner for any diminution in value of the real property caused by the absence of the goods removed or by any necessity of replacing them. A person entitled to reimbursement may refuse permission to remove until the secured party gives adequate assurance for the performance of the obligation to reimburse.

Section 605. Unknown Debtor or Secondary Obligor

A secured party does not owe a duty based on its status as secured party:

- (a) to a person that is a debtor or obligor, unless the secured party knows:

- (1) that the person is a debtor or obligor;
- (2) the identity of the person; and
- (3) how to communicate with the person; or

(b) to a secured party or lienholder that has filed a financing statement against a person, unless the secured party knows:

- (1) that the person is a debtor; and
- (2) the identity of the person.

Section 606. Reserved

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 607. Collection and Enforcement by Secured Party

- (a) If so agreed, and in any event after default, a secured party:
- (1) may notify an account debtor or other person obligated on collateral to make payment or otherwise render performance to or for the benefit of the secured party;
  - (2) may take any proceeds to which the secured party is entitled under Section 311;
  - (3) may enforce the obligations of an account debtor or other person obligated on collateral and exercise the rights of the debtor with respect to the obligation of the account debtor or other person obligated on collateral to make payment or otherwise render performance to the debtor, and with respect to any property that secures the obligations of the account debtor or other person obligated on the collateral.
- (b) A secured party shall proceed in a commercially reasonable manner if the secured party:
- (1) undertakes to collect from or enforce an obligation of an account debtor or other person obligated on collateral; and
  - (2) is entitled to charge back uncollected collateral or otherwise to full or limited recourse against the debtor or a secondary obligor.
- (c) A secured party may deduct from the collections made pursuant to subsection (a) reasonable expenses of collection and enforcement, including reasonable attorneys' fees and legal expenses incurred by the secured party.

(d) This section does not determine whether an account debtor, bank, or other person obligated on collateral owes a duty to a secured party.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 608. Application of Proceeds of Collection or Enforcement; Liability for Deficiency and Right to Surplus

(a) If a security interest secures payment or performance of an obligation, the following rules apply:

- (1) A secured party shall apply or pay over for application the cash proceeds of collection or enforcement under Section 607 in the following order to:
  - (A) the reasonable expenses of collection and enforcement and, to the extent provided for by agreement and not prohibited by law, reasonable attorney's fees and legal expenses incurred by the secured party;
  - (B) the satisfaction of obligations secured by the security interest under which the collection or enforcement is made; and
  - (C) the satisfaction of obligations secured by any subordinate security interest in or other lien on the collateral subject to the security interest under which the collection or enforcement is made if the secured party receives a signed demand for proceeds before distribution of the proceeds is completed.
- (2) If requested by a secured party, a holder of a subordinate security interest or other lien shall furnish reasonable proof of the interest or lien within a reasonable time. Unless the holder complies, the secured party need not comply with the holder's demand under paragraph (1)(C).
- (3) A secured party need not apply or pay over for application non-cash proceeds of collection and enforcement under Section 607 unless the failure to do so would be commercially unreasonable. A secured party that applies or pays over for application non-cash proceeds shall do so in a commercially reasonable manner.
- (4) A secured party shall account to and pay a debtor for any surplus, and the obligor is liable for any deficiency.

Section 609. Secured Party's Limited Right to Take Possession After Default

(a) Unless otherwise agreed, a secured party has at the time of or after default the powers described in subsection (b), but such powers may be exercised only by an agency of the Nation as a secured party, or by an agency of the United States as a secured party, or pursuant to judicial process, or with the debtor's consent. Such consent is effective only if expressed after default by means of a separate dated and signed personal statement in the debtor's handwriting, describing the powers to be exercised by the secured party and expressly acknowledging and waiving the debtor's right to require that such exercise be pursuant to judicial process.

(b) Under the circumstances of subsection (a) the secured party may:

- (1) take possession of the collateral;
- (2) without removal, render equipment unusable and dispose of collateral on a debtor's premises under Section 610; and

(c) If so agreed, and in any event after default, a secured party may require the debtor to assemble the collateral and make it available to the secured party at a place to be designated by the secured party which is reasonably convenient to both parties.

(d) A secured party acting pursuant to subsection (b)(1) must proceed without breach of the peace.

Section 610. Disposition of Collateral After Default

(a) After default, a secured party may sell, lease, license, or otherwise dispose of any or all of the collateral in its present condition or following any commercially reasonable preparation or processing.

(b) Every aspect of a disposition of collateral, including the method, manner, time, place, and other terms, must be commercially reasonable. If commercially reasonable, a secured party may dispose of collateral by public or private proceedings, by one or more contracts, as a unit or in parcels, and at any time and place and on any terms. In order to protect the debtor's right to redeem collateral as provided in Section 623, a disposition of collateral shall take place only on a tribal business day.

(c) A secured party may purchase collateral:

- (1) at a public disposition; or
- (2) at a private disposition only if the collateral is of a kind that is customarily sold on a recognized market or the subject of widely distributed standard price quotations.

(d) A contract for sale, lease, license, or other disposition, includes the warranties relating to title, possession, quiet enjoyment, and the like, which by operation of law accompany a voluntary disposition of property of the kind subject to the contract.

(e) A secured party may disclaim or modify warranties under subsection (d):

- (1) in a manner that would be effective to disclaim or modify the warranties in a voluntary disposition of property of the kind subject to the contract of disposition; or
- (2) by communicating to the purchaser a record evidencing the contract for disposition and including an express disclaimer or modification of the warranties.

(f) A record is sufficient to disclaim warranties under subsection (e) if it indicates “There is no warranty relating to title, possession, quiet enjoyment, or the like in this disposition” or uses words of similar import.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 611. Notification Before Disposition of Collateral

(a) In this section, “notification date” means the earlier of the date on which:

- (1) a secured party sends to the debtor and any secondary obligor a signed notification of disposition; or
- (2) the debtor and any secondary obligor waive the right to notification.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (d), a secured party that disposes of collateral under Section 610 shall send to the persons specified in subsection (c) a reasonable signed notification of disposition.

(c) To comply with subsection (b), the secured party shall send a signed notification of disposition to:

- (1) the debtor;
- (2) any secondary obligor; and
- (3) if the collateral is other than consumer goods:
  - (A) any other person from which the secured party has received, before the notification date, a signed notification of a claim of an interest in the collateral;
  - (B) any other secured party or lienholder that, fourteen (14) calendar days before the notification date, held a security interest in or other lien on the collateral perfected by the filing of a financing statement that:
  - (C) identified the collateral;
  - (D) was indexed under the debtor’s name as of that date; and

- (E) was filed in the office in which to file a financing statement against the debtor covering the collateral as of that date; and
- (F) any other secured party that, fourteen (14) calendar days before the notification date, held a security interest in the collateral perfected by compliance with Section 311 or other applicable law.

(d) Subsection (b) does not apply if the collateral is perishable or threatens to decline speedily in value or is of a type customarily sold on a recognized market.

(e) A secured party complies with the requirement for notification prescribed by subsection (c)(3)(B) if:

- (1) not later than twenty (20) calendar days or earlier than thirty (30) calendar days before the notification date, the secured party requests, in a commercially reasonable manner, information concerning financing statements indexed under the debtor's name in the office indicated in subsection (c)(3)(B); and
- (2) before the notification date, the secured party:
  - (A) did not receive a response to the request for information; or
  - (B) received a response to the request for information and sent a signed notification of disposition to each secured party or other lienholder named in that response whose financing statement covered the collateral.

Section 612. Timeliness of Notification Before Disposition of Collateral

(a) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (b), whether a notification is sent within a reasonable time is a question of fact.

(b) Unless a specific time for sending a notification of disposition is established by the Nation's District Court, a notification of disposition is sent within a reasonable time before the disposition when it is sent after default and:

- (1) in a consumer transaction, twenty (20) calendar days or more before the earliest time of disposition set forth in the notification; or
- (2) in all other transactions, ten (10) calendar days or more before the earliest time of disposition set forth in the notification.

Section 613. Contents and Form of Notification Before Disposition of Collateral

The following rules apply to notification before disposition of collateral:

- (a) The contents of a notification of disposition are sufficient if the notification:
  - (1) describes the debtor and the secured party;
  - (2) describes the collateral that is the subject of the intended disposition;
  - (3) states the method of intended disposition;
  - (4) states that the debtor is entitled to an accounting of the unpaid indebtedness and states the charge, if any, for an accounting;
  - (5) states the time and place of a public disposition or the time after which any other disposition is to be made;
  - (6) describes any liability for a deficiency by the person receiving the notice; and
  - (7) states a telephone number or mailing address from which additional information concerning redemption, disposition and the obligation secured is available.
- (b) Whether the contents of a notification that lacks any of the information specified in subsection (a) are nevertheless sufficient is a question of fact.
- (c) The contents of a notification providing substantially the information specified in subsection (a) are sufficient, even if the notification includes:
  - (1) information not specified by that paragraph; or
  - (2) minor errors that are not seriously misleading.
- (d) A particular phrasing of the notification is not required.

Section 614. Reserved

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 615. Application of Proceeds of Disposition; Liability for Deficiency and Right to Surplus

- (a) A secured party shall apply or pay over for application the cash proceeds of disposition under Section 610 in the following order:

- (1) for the reasonable expenses of retaking, holding, preparing for disposition, processing, and disposing, and, to the extent provided for by agreement and not prohibited by law, reasonable attorneys' fees and legal expenses incurred by the secured party;
- (2) for the satisfaction of obligations secured by the security interest under which the disposition is made;
- (3) for the satisfaction of obligations secured by any subordinate security interest in or other subordinate lien on the collateral if:
  - (A) the secured party receives from the holder of the subordinate security interest or other lien a signed demand for proceeds before distribution of the proceeds is completed; and
  - (B) in a case in which a consignor has an interest in the collateral, the subordinate security interest or other lien is senior to the interest of the consignor; and
- (4) to a secured party that is a consignor of the collateral if the secured party receives from the consignor a signed demand for proceeds before distribution of the proceeds is completed.

(b) If requested by a secured party, a holder of a subordinate security interest or other lien shall furnish reasonable proof of the interest or lien within a reasonable time. Unless the holder does so, the secured party need not comply with the holder's demand under subsection (a)(3).

(c) A secured party need not apply or pay over for application non-cash proceeds of disposition under Section 610 unless the failure to do so would be commercially unreasonable. A secured party that applies or pays over for application non-cash proceeds shall do so in a commercially reasonable manner.

(d) If the security interest under which a disposition is made secures payment or performance of an obligation, after making the payments and applications required by subsection (a) and permitted by subsection (c):

- (1) unless subsection (a)(4) requires the secured party to apply or pay over cash proceeds to a consignor, the secured party shall account to and pay a debtor for any surplus; and
- (2) the obligor is liable for any deficiency.

(e) The surplus or deficiency following a disposition is calculated based on the amount of proceeds received, but if the fairness of the amount of those proceeds is placed in issue and the disposition was to a person related to the secured party, the secured party has the burden of establishing that the amount is not significantly below the range of proceeds that are represented by at least the wholesale value of the collateral.

(f) A secured party that receives cash proceeds of a disposition in good faith and without knowledge that the receipt violates the rights of the holder of a security interest or other lien that is not subordinate to the security interest under which the disposition is made:

- (1) takes the cash proceeds free of the security interest or other lien;
- (2) is not obligated to apply the proceeds of the disposition to the satisfaction of obligations secured by the security interest or other lien; and
- (3) is not obligated to account to or pay the holder of the security interest or other lien for any surplus.

Section 616. Explanation of Calculation of Surplus or Deficiency

(a) In a consumer transaction, a secured party must provide the debtor or consumer obligor a reasonably detailed explanation in a record of the manner in which any surplus or deficiency was calculated if the debtor or consumer obligor demands such an explanation or, in any event, ten (10) tribal business days before commencing an action for a deficiency.

(b) Each debtor or consumer obligor is entitled, without charge, to one response to a request under this section during any six (6) month period in which the secured party did not send to the debtor or consumer obligor an explanation pursuant to subsection (a). The secured party may require payment of a fee not exceeding Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) for each additional response.

Section 617. Rights of Transferee of Collateral

(a) A secured party's disposition of collateral after default:

- (1) transfers to a transferee for value all of the debtor's rights in the collateral;
- (2) discharges the security interest under which the disposition is made; and
- (3) discharges any subordinate security interest or other subordinate lien.

(b) A transferee that acts in good faith takes free of the rights and interests described in subsection (a), even if the secured party fails to comply with this title or the requirements of any judicial proceeding.

(c) If a transferee does not take free of the rights and interests described in subsection (a), the transferee takes the collateral subject to:

- (1) the debtor's rights in the collateral;
- (2) the security interest under which the disposition is made; and

- (3) any other security interest or other lien.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 618. Rights and Duties of Certain Secondary Obligors

(a) A secondary obligor acquires the rights and becomes obligated to perform the duties of the secured party after the secondary obligor:

- (1) receives an assignment of a secured obligation from the secured party;
- (2) receives a transfer of collateral from the secured party and agrees to accept the rights and assume the duties of the secured party; or
- (3) is subrogated to the rights of a secured party with respect to collateral.

(b) An assignment, transfer, or subrogation described in subsection (a):

- (1) is not a disposition of collateral under Section 610; and
- (2) relieves the secured party of further duties under this title.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 619. Transfer of Record or Legal Title

(a) In this section, “transfer statement” means a record authenticated by a secured party stating:

- (1) that the debtor has defaulted in connection with an obligation secured by specified collateral;
- (2) that the secured party has exercised its post-default remedies with respect to the collateral;
- (3) that, by reason of the exercise, a transferee has acquired the rights of the debtor in the collateral; and
- (4) the name and mailing address of the secured party, debtor, and transferee.

(b) A transfer statement entitles the transferee to the transfer of record of all rights of the debtor in the collateral specified in the statement in any official filing, recording, registration, or certificate-of-title system covering the collateral. If a transfer statement is presented with the applicable fee and request form to the Commission, the Commission shall:

- (1) accept the transfer statement;
- (2) promptly amend its records to reflect the transfer; and

- (3) if applicable, issue a new appropriate certificate of title in the name of the transferee.

(c) A transfer of the record or legal title to collateral to a secured party under subsection (b) or otherwise is not of itself a disposition of collateral under this title and does not of itself relieve the secured party of its duties under this title.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 620. Acceptance of Collateral in Full or Partial Satisfaction of Obligation; Notification of Proposal; Effect of Acceptance; Compulsory Disposition of Collateral

(a) Except as provided in subsection (e), a secured party may, after default, propose to retain the collateral in full satisfaction of the obligation it secures or, in a transaction other than a consumer transaction, in partial satisfaction of such obligation.

(b) The secured party shall send notice of such proposal to:

- (1) the debtor;
- (2) any person from whom the secured party has received, before the debtor consented to the acceptance, a signed notification of a claim of an interest in the collateral;
- (3) any person that, fourteen (14) calendar days before the debtor consented to the acceptance, held a security interest in or other lien on the collateral perfected by means of a financing statement or compliance with other law as provided in Section 311(a) that makes such interest reasonably discoverable; and
- (4) if the proposal is for partial satisfaction of the obligation, any secondary obligor.

(c) The proposal is not effective unless:

- (1) it is covered by subsection (a);
- (2) the debtor consents to the acceptance in a record signed after default;
- (3) no other person specified in subsection (b), and no other person holding an interest in the collateral subject to the secured party's interest, objects to the acceptance within fourteen (14) tribal business days after notification was sent; and
- (4) if the collateral is consumer goods, the collateral is not in the possession of the debtor when the debtor consents to the acceptance.

(d) A secured party's acceptance of collateral pursuant to this section:

- (1) discharges the obligation to the extent consented to by the debtor;
- (2) transfers to the secured party all of the debtor's rights in the collateral; and
- (3) discharges the security interest that is the subject of the debtor's consent, and any security interest or other lien or interest that is subordinate thereto, even if the secured party accepting the collateral fails to comply with this chapter.

(e) A secured party that has taken possession of collateral shall dispose of the collateral pursuant to Sections 610 through 616 if:

- (1) sixty percent (60%) of the cash price has been paid in the case of a purchase-money security interest in consumer goods; or
- (2) sixty percent (60%) of the principal amount of the obligation secured has been paid in the case of a non-purchase-money security interest in consumer goods.

Such disposition shall be made within ninety (90) calendar days after taking possession, or within any longer period to which the debtor and all secondary obligors have agreed in an agreement to that effect entered into and signed after default.

Section 623. Right to Redeem Collateral

(a) A debtor, any secondary obligor, or any other secured party or lienholder may redeem collateral.

(b) To redeem collateral, a person shall tender:

- (1) fulfillment of all obligations secured by the collateral; and
- (2) the reasonable expenses and attorneys' fees described in Section 615(a)(1), dealing with application of proceeds of disposition.

(c) A redemption may occur at any time before a secured party:

- (1) has collected collateral under Section 607;

- (2) has disposed of collateral or entered into a contract for its disposition under Section 610; or
- (3) has accepted collateral in full or partial satisfaction of the obligation it secures under Section 620.

Section 624. Waiver

(a) A debtor or secondary obligor may waive the right to notification of disposition of collateral under Section 611 only by an agreement to that effect entered into and signed after default.

(b) A debtor may waive the right to require disposition of collateral under Section 620(e), which deals with mandatory disposition of consumer goods, only by an agreement to that effect entered into and signed after default.

(c) In a transaction other than a consumer transaction, a debtor or secondary obligor may waive the right to redeem collateral under Section 623 only by an agreement to that effect entered into and signed after default. In a consumer transaction, a debtor or secondary obligor may not waive such right.

SUBPART 2
NONCOMPLIANCE WITH THIS TITLE

Section 625. Remedies for Secured Party's Failure to Comply with this Title

(a) If it is established that a secured party is not proceeding in accordance with this title, the Nation's District Court may order or restrain collection, enforcement, or disposition of collateral on appropriate terms and conditions.

(b) Subject to subsections (c), (d), and (f), a person is liable for damages in the amount of any loss caused by a failure to comply with this title. Loss caused by a failure to comply may include loss resulting from the debtor's inability to obtain, or increased costs of, alternative financing.

(c) Except as otherwise provided in Section 628, which deals with the non-liability and limitations on liability of a secured party and the liability of a secondary obligor:

- (1) a person that, at the time of the failure, was a debtor, was an obligor, or held a security interest in or other lien on the collateral may recover damages under subsection (b) for its loss; and
- (2) if the collateral is consumer goods, a person that was a debtor or a secondary obligor at the time a secured party failed to comply with this chapter may recover for that failure in any event an amount not less than the credit service charge plus ten percent (10%) of the principal amount of the obligation or the time-price differential plus ten percent (10%) of the cash price.

(d) A debtor whose deficiency is eliminated under Section 626, which deals with actions in which a deficiency or surplus is in issue, may recover damages for the loss of any surplus.

(e) In addition to any damages recoverable under subsection (b), the debtor, consumer obligor, or person named as a debtor in a filed record, as applicable, may recover Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) in each case from a person that:

- (1) fails to comply with the provisions of Section 205(b) of this title dealing with additional duties of a secured party having control of an investment account;
- (2) fails to comply with the provisions of Section 205(c) of this title dealing with duties of a secured party if an account debtor has been notified of assignment;
- (3) files a record that the person is not entitled to file under Section 502(g);
- (4) fails to file, cause to be filed or send a termination statement as required by Section 502(f);
- (5) fails to comply with the provisions of Section 616(a) of this title dealing with explanations of calculations of surplus or deficiency, and whose failure is part of a pattern, or consistent with a practice, of noncompliance.

(f) A debtor or consumer obligor may recover damages under subsection (b) and, in addition, Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) in each case from a person that, without reasonable cause, fails to comply with a request for an accounting as provided in Section 207. A recipient of a request under Section 207 which never claimed an interest in the collateral or obligations that are the subject of a request under that section has a reasonable excuse for failure to comply with the request within the meaning of this subsection.

(g) If a secured party fails to comply with a request regarding a list of collateral or a statement of account under Section 207, the secured party may claim a security interest only as shown in the list or statement included in the request as against a person that is reasonably misled by the failure.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 626. Action in Which Deficiency or Surplus is in Issue

(a) In an action arising from a transaction, other than a consumer transaction, in which the amount of a deficiency or surplus is in issue, the following rules apply.

- (1) A secured party need not prove compliance with the provisions of this chapter relating to collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance unless the debtor or a secondary obligor places the secured party's compliance in issue.
- (2) If the secured party's compliance is placed in issue, the secured party has the burden of establishing that the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance was conducted in accordance with this chapter.
- (3) Except as otherwise provided in the provisions of Section 628 of this title dealing with non-liability and limitations on liability of a secured party or secondary obligor, if a secured party fails to prove that the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance was conducted in accordance with the provisions of Section 625(b) of this chapter relating to collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance, the liability of a debtor or a secondary obligor for a deficiency is subject to setoff for an amount as stated in the provision of this title dealing with damages for noncompliance, which may be measured by the amount recovered for conversion of collateral.
- (4) For purposes of paragraph (3), the liability of the debtor or a secondary obligor is calculated on the presumption that the proceeds of disposition equal the sum of the secured obligation, expenses, and allowable attorneys' fees, but the secured party may rebut the presumption.

(b) The limitation of the rules in subsection (a) to transactions other than consumer transactions is intended to leave to the Nation's District Court the determination of the proper rules in consumer transactions. The Nation's District Court may not infer from that limitation the nature of the proper rule in consumer transactions and may continue to apply established approaches.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 627. Determination of Whether Conduct was Commercially Reasonable

(a) The fact that a greater amount could have been obtained by a collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance at a different time or in a different method from that selected by the secured party is not of itself sufficient to preclude the secured party from establishing that the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance was made in a commercially reasonable manner.

(b) A disposition of collateral is made in a commercially reasonable manner if the disposition is made:

- (1) in the usual manner on any recognized market;
  - (2) at the price current in any recognized market at the time of the disposition;
- or

- (3) otherwise in conformity with reasonable commercial practices among dealers in the type of property that was the subject of the disposition.

(c) A collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance is commercially reasonable if it has been approved:

- (1) in a judicial proceeding;
- (2) by a bona fide creditors' committee;
- (3) by a representative of creditors; or
- (4) by an assignee for the benefit of creditors.

Such approval need not be obtained, and lack of approval does not mean that the collection, enforcement, disposition, or acceptance is not commercially reasonable.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 628. Non-liability and Limitation on Liability of Secured Party; Liability of Secondary Obligor

(a) Unless a secured party knows that a person is a debtor or obligor, knows the identity of the person, and knows how to communicate with the person:

- (1) the secured party is not liable to the person, or to a secured party or lienholder that has filed a financing statement against the person, for failure to comply with this title; and
- (2) the secured party's failure to comply with this title does not affect the liability of the person for a deficiency.

(b) A secured party is not liable because of its status as secured party:

- (1) to a person that is a debtor or obligor, unless the secured party knows:
  - (A) that the person is a debtor or obligor;
  - (B) the identity of the person; and
  - (C) how to communicate with the person; or
- (2) to a secured party or lienholder that has filed a financing statement against a person, unless the secured party knows:
  - (A) that the person is a debtor; and
  - (B) the identity of the person.

(c) A secured party is not liable to any person, and a person's liability for a deficiency is not affected, because of any act or omission arising out of the secured party's reasonable belief that a transaction is not a consumer transaction or that goods are not consumer goods, if the secured party's belief is based on its reasonable reliance on:

- (1) a debtor's representation concerning the purpose for which collateral was to be used, acquired, or held; or
- (2) an obligor's representation concerning the purpose for which a secured obligation was incurred.

(d) A secured party is not liable to any person under Section 625(c)(2), which deals with statutory damages where the collateral is consumer goods, for its failure to comply with Section 616, which deals with explanations of calculations of surplus or deficiency.

(e) A secured party is not liable under Section 623(c)(2), which deals with statutory damages where the collateral is consumer goods, more than once with respect to any one secured obligation.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 2007-06, June 2, 2007.]

Section 629. Attorneys' Fees in Consumer Transactions

If the secured party's compliance with this title is placed in issue in an action with respect to a consumer transaction, the following rules apply:

(a) If the secured party would have been entitled to attorneys' fees as the prevailing party, a consumer debtor or consumer obligor prevailing on the issue is entitled to the costs of the action and reasonable attorney's fees.

(b) In other cases, the Nation's District Court may award to a consumer debtor or consumer obligor prevailing on that issue the costs of the action and reasonable attorney's fees.

(c) In determining the attorneys' fees, the amount of the recovery on behalf of the prevailing consumer debtor or consumer obligor is not a controlling factor.

OIL & GAS SEVERANCE CODE

CHAPTER ONE
GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 101. Short Title

This Act shall be known as the Oil and Gas Severance Code of the Seminole Nation of Oklahoma and may be referred hereinafter as this “Code.”

[History: Enacted by TO-2014-05, June 7, 2014.]

The General Council finds that:

(a) The Seminole Nation of Oklahoma has the inherent sovereign authority to enact laws governing the development of the Nation’s lands and natural resources, and likewise the Nation has the authority to enforce such laws that are enacted with the purpose of preserving and protecting such inherent sovereign authority of the Nation;

(b) Under the Constitution of the Seminole Nation of Oklahoma, the General Council may legislate upon matters to become laws of the Nation, including:

- (1) To promote public health, education and charity and such other services that may contribute to the social and economic advancement of the members of the Seminole Nation of Oklahoma (Article V (a));
- (2) To enter into any contract in behalf of the Nation in conjunction with any activity that will further the well-being of the members of the Nation (Article V (f));
- (3) To speak or act on behalf of the Nation in all matters in which the Nation is empowered to act (Article V - Powers of the General Council);
- (4) To exercise any powers not specifically set forth in this article which at some future date may be appropriately delegated to the General Council (Article V (i));

(c) The future of the Nation and the welfare of its tribal members depend on regulation and preservation of all natural resources within the jurisdiction of the Nation; the Nation must become self-sufficient in its regulatory affairs, as outside regulatory resources can be temporarily or permanently discontinued; and internal regulation, independence and self- governance is a goal of the Nation and an expression of its sovereignty;

(d) The present needs of the Nation and its tribal members include an expansion of its regulatory oversight of the natural resources within its jurisdiction through the establishment of an oil and gas severance code, and it is in the best interest of the Seminole Nation and its people and the protection and preservation of their natural resources;

(e) The Nation must establish standards of regulation and practices with attendant responsibilities and provide a method to regulate such natural resources within the jurisdiction of the Nation;

(f) The Nation must regulate and collect certain fees related to the severance of natural resources and/or minerals from the lands and properties within the jurisdiction of the Nation; and

(g) It is in the interest of the Nation and its tribal members to provide a method to regulate the severance of such natural resources and the operations of businesses, corporations, and other ventures operating within the jurisdiction of the Nation related to such activities.

Section 103. Purpose: Application of Laws: Sovereign Immunity

(a) The purposes of this Oil and Gas Severance Code are as follows:

- (1) To protect and preserve the natural resources of the Nation and the property of its tribal members;
- (2) To impose regulatory fees related to the severance of non-renewable energy, minerals, and other natural resources from lands held in trust for the Nation and its agencies and instrumentalities, fee lands owned by the Nation and its agencies and instrumentalities, and all other allotted or restricted properties within the jurisdiction of the Nation;
- (3) To establish a source of revenue to fund the provision of tribal services, assist the economic development of the Nation, and sustain the Nation following the severance, depletion or exhaustion of all energy, minerals, and other natural resources from the lands within the jurisdiction of the Nation; and
- (4) To develop a source of revenue to assist in the delivery of services to tribal members and non-tribal members located within the jurisdiction of the Nation as determined by the General Council.

(b) This Code shall be interpreted and applied such that the Nation has exercised its inherent sovereign regulatory authority to the fullest extent permitted by the Nation's Constitution and not prohibited by federal law. The Nation's law shall be applied and enforced except to the extent that federal law preempts a specific exercise of the Nation's regulatory authority. The Regulatory Agency is authorized to issue, regulate and enforce the requirements as set forth herein, and the regulatory and enforcement authority conferred to the Regulatory Agency by this Code is concurrent with and in addition to the regulatory jurisdiction of any other sovereign, including but not limited to the federal government.

(c) Nothing in this Code shall be construed to waive the sovereign immunity of the Seminole Nation, its officers, employees, boards, or commissions, either explicitly or implicitly.

Section 104. Severability

The provisions of this Code are severable, and if any part or provision hereof shall be held void by the Nation's District Court or by a federal court with jurisdiction over the Nation, the decision of the court so holding shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions, or parts of provisions, of the Code.

- (20) “Transportation costs” shall mean the reasonable, actual costs incurred by the person for moving marketable products described in Section 201 of this Code to a point of sale or other point of final disposition that is remote from the point of initial severance, separation, treatment or measurement (generally the point approved by the Bureau of Land Management for the purposes of royalty measurement). Not included in this definition are costs incurred by the person for the movement or removal from the production stream of products not described in Section 201 or products whose value is otherwise exempted from application of this Code or for compression intended to enhance production or to meet pipeline delivery pressure requirements. When costs are incurred on a transportation system owned either in whole or in part by the person or an entity affiliated with the person, only the following costs may be included in the calculation of deductible costs for fee purposes: operating and maintenance expenses, overhead, depreciation and return on undepreciated capital investment directly associated with the transportation system. - (21) “Unavoidably lost” shall mean the nature of an incidental loss of, unavoidable waste of, or damage to a mineral resource in the course of mineral development resulting from venting, flaring or other activity when such activity and the resulting loss, waste or damage have been previously approved in writing by the General Council or its authorized representative as to tribal lands or by the Secretary of the Interior or his authorized representative as to allotted lands.

- (22) “Working interest” shall mean the interest obtained by a mineral lessee or grantee of a minerals agreement in minerals or revenues attributable to the sale of minerals producible under such lease or minerals agreement, inclusive of overriding royalty interests or other non-operating interests subsequently derived from the working interest.

CHAPTER TWO SEVERANCE FEE AND LIABILITY; PIPELINES

SUBCHAPTER A SEVERANCE FEE AND LIABILITY

Section 201. Oil and Gas Severance Fee Imposed

An oil and gas severance fee is hereby imposed on the severance of any and all oil, petroleum and/or other crude, condensate, other mineral oil, all gas, natural gas, methane gas, casinghead gas, processed gas, associated liquid products, any other hydrocarbon substances and minerals of any other type from all lands and properties within the territorial jurisdiction of the Nation.

Section 202. Liability for Severance Fee

The amount of oil and gas severance fee to be paid and the liability for payment of such oil and gas severance fee shall be determined, become effective, and accrue at the time of severance of substances described in Section 201 from all lands and properties subject to the jurisdiction of the Nation regardless of whether monetary compensation or other consideration has been received for the sale of such substances, including but not limited to, the placement of gas into pipeline inventory; provided, however, liability shall not accrue for payment of oil and gas severance fee with respect to the severance of substances unavoidably lost.

Section 203. Rate of Fee; Due Date of Fee; Payment of Fee

(a) The oil and gas severance fee set forth herein shall be at the rate of eight percent (8.0%) of the gross market value of all substances described in Section 201 produced, severed, saved, and/or removed from any lands and properties subject to the jurisdiction of the Nation. The gross market value of a substance shall be equal to the price of such substance published on a national index selected by the Regulatory Agency at the beginning of each calendar year on the last day of the month during which the substance was produced, severed, saved, and/or removed. The Regulatory Agency shall publish the selected national index in the regulations promulgated under this Title.

(b) The fees required by this Code shall be due at the time the substances described in Section 201 are produced, severed, saved and/or removed from the lands and shall be payable monthly to the Regulatory Agency.

(c) Payment of all oil and gas severance fees provided in this Code shall be made monthly on or before the last day of the calendar month following the calendar month for which such substances described in Section 201 were produced, severed, saved, and/or removed from any lands and properties subject to the jurisdiction of the Nation.

(d) Any payment not made when payable as provided herein shall incur a penalty of ten percent (10%) of oil and gas severance fees due for each month such past due payment is outstanding and shall also bear interest at the annual rate of ten percent (10%) until paid in full. Any partial payments made shall be applied first to any accrued penalties, then to any accrued interest, then lastly to any amounts of past due oil and gas severance fees.

[History: Enacted by TO-2014-05, June 7, 2014; subsection numbering scheme modified on September 7, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 204. Burden of Payment: Forfeiture for Nonpayment: Exemptions from Fee

(a) The burden of payment of the oil and gas severance fee required by this Code shall be upon the operator and its successors in interest, and the oil and gas severance fee accruing hereunder shall be a lien upon the interest and/or working interest of such operator in the well, site, and/or minerals, from which the substances described in Section 201 were produced, severed, saved, and/or removed.

(b) Such lien may be foreclosed and the interest of the operator may be forfeited and sold as possessory interests may be forfeited and sold for nonpayment of the oil and gas severance fee required hereunder, subject to provisions of this paragraph set forth below, when such oil and gas severance fee remains unpaid in excess of sixty (60) days after the due date for filing of the reports/returns required by this Code.

- (1) At least thirty (30) days prior to the commencement of any forfeiture proceedings described above, the Regulatory Agency shall serve notice on all persons known from tribal, Bureau of Indian Affairs (“BIA”), or U.S. Geological Survey records to be an interested party in such well, site, and/or minerals of the amount of the oil and gas severance fees due and unpaid.
- (2) Such notice shall state the intent of the Regulatory Agency to institute forfeiture proceedings, and the right of such person to pay the Oil and Gas Severance Fees due and unpaid on behalf of the Operator and recover such payment from the Operator in civil suit.
- (3) Such notice shall also be personally served by the Nation’s Lighthorse or BIA federal police or by certified U.S. mail, deliverable to the addressee only, return receipt requested, or in any other manner in which a summons may be served under tribal law. Service by publication may be had upon an order of the Nation’s District Court for good cause shown. Service of the notice by publication shall be made by publication of the notice at least twice during the thirty (30) day waiting period, in a newspaper in general circulation in Seminole County, Oklahoma, and as may be further ordered by the Nation’s District Court.

(c) The following volume exemptions from oil and gas severance fee are authorized:

- (1) Volumes attributable to a landowner's royalty interest established in a lease or minerals agreement issued by the Nation or by a tribal member allottee mineral owner.
- (2) Volumes attributable to an overriding royalty interest granted to or obtained by the Nation or by an Indian allottee owner derived from working interests in leases or minerals agreements issued by the Nation or by an Indian allottee mineral owner.
- (3) Volumes used for the benefit of operations on the leased premises from which such substances are produced, prior to removal therefrom or sale; provided that volumes attributable to use off the lease from which such minerals are produced are not exempt from oil and gas severance fee except as set forth in Section 204(c)(4), below.
- (4) Volumes associated with cross-lease beneficial use or shrinkage volumes factored into allocations associated with a central delivery facility, if and only if the lessee or operator has obtained prior written approval from the Regulatory Agency for such cross-lease beneficial use or for establishment of the central delivery facility and the formula for allocating volumes associated with such central delivery facility. In granting or denying exemptions for cross-lease beneficial use or for central delivery facilities, the Regulatory Agency shall determine from the totality of the circumstances, including relative royalty rates, whether exempting such volumes from fee will adversely impact the best interests of the Nation. A requested exemption for cross-lease beneficial use, but not for a central delivery facility, shall be deemed denied unless the Regulatory Agency shall have taken action granting a written request within sixty (60) days of receipt of such request.

[History: Enacted by TO-2014-05, June 7, 2014; subsection numbering scheme modified on September 7, 2016 pursuant to authority granted by SNC Title 21, § 203.]

Section 205. Payments By Whom Generally

Except for an owner of a landowner's royalty interest or overriding royalty interest specifically described in Sections 204(c)(1)-(2), the incidence of the oil and gas severance fee falls upon any owner of a working interest or person claiming ownership of a working interest in substances described in Section 201, severed from lands subject to the jurisdiction of the Nation. Payment of the oil and gas severance fee for each such person shall be made as herein provided by the operator based on that person's entitled proportionate gross working interest in or attributable to such described substances. Payment of the oil and gas severance fee may be made by the operator of any well on behalf of working interest owners as a matter of internal policy or by agreement with such working interest owners. Volume allocation and subsequent fee payment shall be based upon each person's entitled volumes regardless of the actual volume taken.

[History: Enacted by TO-2014-05, June 7, 2014.]

Section 206. Records Retention and Limitations on Actions

(a) Each lessee, operator or other person subject to this Code shall make and retain accurate and complete records necessary to demonstrate that fee payments due under this Code have been made in compliance with this Code or regulations promulgated pursuant to this Code. Such records shall include information regarding: severance and production, transportation, treating, processing and marketing of substances described in Section 201.

(b) Lessees, operators or other persons required to keep records under this section shall maintain and preserve them for six (6) years from the last day of the month in which a severance of a substance described in Section 201 takes place. Notwithstanding the foregoing, when an audit or review by the Regulatory Agency of a person's compliance under this Code is pending, all existing records of the person and persons severing minerals on such person's behalf or of persons having paid fees on the person's behalf shall be maintained by the record holder until released in writing by the Regulatory Agency from the obligation to maintain such records.

(c) No action by the Regulatory Agency or the Nation with respect to compliance with this Code shall be brought against any person unless commenced within fifteen (15) years from the date that the Regulatory Agency or Nation knows or should have known that the cause of action has accrued. In the event that non-compliance with this Code could be reasonably ascertained only upon completion of an audit, and in the event that such an audit has not been commenced or completed within the fifteen (15) year limitations period, then nothing herein contained is intended to preclude the Regulatory Agency or the Nation from asserting lack of knowledge for purposes of establishing the date of accrual of a cause of action.

(d) Nothing provided herein shall act as a waiver of the Nation or its agents and instrumentalities, or the Regulatory Agency's sovereign immunity. Nothing herein shall be deemed to give the State of Oklahoma any jurisdiction or regulatory authority over the Indian lands of the Nation. The Seminole Nation Tribal Court, with any and all rights of appeal therefrom, is the court of competent jurisdiction regarding any disputes related in any way to this Code. Nothing herein shall be construed as consent by the Nation or the Regulatory Agency to suit in any state court. Nothing in this Code shall be deemed to be a waiver of the Nation's sovereign immunity, except as provided in this Section.

(e) In the event the Nation expressly and in writing waives its sovereign immunity, or a court of competent jurisdiction, as defined herein, finds a waiver of the Nation's sovereign immunity, no action by a person may be brought against the Nation contesting the lawfulness of the Code or its application, unless commenced within one (1) year from the date that the person knows or should have known that a cause of action has accrued.

[History: Enacted by TO-2014-05, June 7, 2014.]

Section 207. Measurement

(a) The severance of all crude oil and condensate normally measured in liquid form shall be measured and reported in units of barrels of 42 U.S. gallons corrected to standard temperature, gravity and other variables established in the regulations of the United States Department of the Interior, Bureau of Land Management.

(b) The severance of all-natural gas and other vaporous hydrocarbon substances normally measured in gaseous form shall be measured and reported in units of one thousand cubic feet (MCF) saturated with water vapor corrected to the standard pressure of 14.73 psia and temperature of 60 degrees Fahrenheit. The Btu content shall be measured while the gas is saturated with water vapor at 60 degrees under a pressure equivalent to that of 30 inches of mercury at 32 degrees under standard gravitational force.

(c) Processed Natural Gas Liquids (“NGLs”) shall be measured in U.S. gallons.

(d) Reportable volumes shall be those established through measurement at the wellhead unless otherwise approved in writing by the Regulatory Agency or its authorized representative.

(e) Metering devices measuring the flow of severed substances described in Section 201 shall be accurate devices based upon prevailing industry practice and acceptable to the Bureau of Land Management in the measurement of Indian lease production. No electronic flow measurement devices shall be used in metering for purposes of this Code in the absence of express prior written permission from the Regulatory Agency or its authorized representative. Such permission is hereby conditioned upon the operator of such metering devices maintaining a record, subject to the record retention requirements of Section 206, of all raw data acceptable to the Nation obtained or obtainable from the electronic flow measurement device. Any request for permission to use electronic flow measurement devices shall specify the location for intended use, and permission for such use as to one location shall not constitute permission for any other location. Any violation of the requirements of this subsection shall subject the violator to the penalty provisions set forth in Section 211(d) of this Code.

Additionally, a person shall be required to provide any additional reports or information that the Regulatory Agency deems necessary for the proper administration of this Code.

(b) The operator shall submit a monthly return to the Regulatory Agency upon a form prescribed by the Regulatory Agency.

(c) Payment of the fee shown on the monthly return shall be made at the time such return is filed.

(d) All monthly returns and corresponding fee payments shall be due on or before the last day of the second month following the month of severance (for example, fees associated with January production are due on the last day of March). If the due date falls on a weekend, a federally recognized holiday, or a tribally recognized holiday, then the monthly reports and payments shall be due on the working day immediately following. For purposes of this section, a return and payment shall be deemed as filed on the date postmarked.

Section 210. Refunds

(a) Except as provided in subsection (b) of this Section, any person paying any fee erroneously may apply to the Regulatory Agency for a refund within two years of the date of severance. The Regulatory Agency shall refund such fee if found to have been erroneously paid. All amounts refunded under this subsection shall bear interest at the lesser of: (i) the rate described in IRC §6621(a)(2), or (ii) the rate of return received by the Nation on the refundable amounts while said amounts have been in the Nation's possession. In computing amounts of erroneous overpayment, the Regulatory Agency may examine oil and gas severance fee payment records to determine if any offsets exist resulting from erroneous underpayment.

(b) With respect to refunds resulting from a successful protest submitted under Section 212 of this Code or under other authority recognized by the Nation, should protested payments be escrowed or separately held by the Nation during the period of the protest, then the refund of protested fee payments shall bear interest at the rate earned during the period of escrow; provided that such refunded interest amount shall not exceed the rate described in IRC §6621(a)(2). This subsection shall, to the maximum extent permitted by law, apply to any protests pending as of the date of enactment of this Code.

Section 211. Interest on Late Payment and Penalties for Noncompliance

(a) If an operator fails to pay the entire oil and gas severance fee by the time proscribed for payment, such amount shall be considered delinquent and shall bear interest on the unpaid amount at the underpayment rate established under IRC §6621 shall be paid for the period from such last date to the date paid. Any person required to pay the oil and gas severance fee under this Code who fails to comply with a written order issued by the Regulatory Agency or by such other representative designated by the Nation to pay any delinquent amount shall be required to pay additional interest at a rate of one percent (1%) per day on those delinquent amounts.

(b) If an operator fails to pay the entire oil and gas severance fee by the time proscribed for payment, there shall be added to the oil and gas severance fee ten percent (10%) of the unpaid amount if the failure is for not more than one (1) month, with an additional ten percent (10%) for each additional month or fraction thereof during which such failure continues.

(c) Any person who consistently engages in a practice of erroneous reporting, as determined by the Regulatory Agency or such other representative designated by the Nation, including but not limited to incorrect reporting of royalty exemption rates, incorrect tribal acreage factors or incorrect API numbers or lease numbers, shall be subject to a civil penalty of up to Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) for the first occurrence, and then One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) for the second occurrence, and then an amount equal to the greater of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) or triple (3x) the amount of underpayment to the Regulatory Agency caused by and/or related to such erroneous reporting for each subsequent occurrence. Such amount of underpayment shall be determined solely by the Regulatory Agency.

A written request for extension of time within which to comply with a written order to provide reports or information other than monthly payments or monthly returns of producers or operators, if filed within the time period for compliance with said written order, may be granted by the Regulatory Agency for a period of up to thirty (30) days. Subsequent requests for extension may be granted by the Regulatory Agency only upon a clear showing of good cause as determine solely by the Regulatory Agency.

(e) In addition to such other interest or penalties provided by the foregoing Subsections, any person who employs electronic flow measurement devices in compliance with the provisions in Section 207(e) but who fails to establish and maintain an auditable record of raw flow measurement data shall be subject to a civil penalty on a per meter basis up to One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) per day for each day that such information is lacking. Any person who fails to repair or correct an electronic flow measurement device malfunction in a timely manner, as solely determined by the Regulatory Agency, shall be subject to a civil penalty on a per meter basis up to Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) per day for each day that the metering device is not timely repaired or corrected, as determined solely by the Regulatory Agency, and One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) per day for each day after receiving written notice from the Regulatory Agency of the need for repair or correction of such electronic flow measurement device malfunction.

(f) Any person required by this Code to file any return, report, or provide information to the Nation, who knowingly falsifies a report or who knowingly provides incorrect information shall be subject to a civil penalty for each occurrence in an amount equal to the greater of One Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($1,500.00) or triple (3x) the amount of underpayment to the Regulatory Agency caused by and/or related to such false report and/or incorrect information. Such amount of underpayment shall be determined solely by the Regulatory Agency. Furthermore, such person(s) may be subject to exclusion, banishment and/or removal from within the territorial limits of the Nation in accordance with the laws of the Nation, as amended or supplemented.

(g) All assessments of interest or penalties provided for in this Section may be in addition to such further remedies available to the Nation under Section 217 of this Code.

[History: Enacted by TO-2014-05, June 7, 2014.]

- (1) A Notice of Protest shall be accompanied by timely payment of the protested fee. A Notice of Protest shall contain: a statement of reasons, a request for a refund of the protested amounts, and a request for a conference with the Regulatory Agency.
- (2) In the event that the basis for the protest is continuing in nature and the person desires to protest subsequent payments made during consideration of the pending protest, subsequent Notices of Protest may incorporate the original Notice of Protest by reference, except for the request for refund of protested amounts, which shall be set forth in each Notice of Protest. All such Notices of Protest incorporating an original Notice of Protest shall be resolved simultaneously under the procedures described in this Subsection.
- (3) The protest conference shall be held within ninety (90) days of the filing of the original Notice of Protest. Should the person fail to appear on the date appointed for the conference, the protest may, in the absence of a showing of unforeseeable circumstances, be summarily dismissed and the request for refund of the protested amounts shall be denied.

CHAPTER FIVE

ENFORCEMENT, APPEALS AND EFFECTIVE DATE

The Regulatory Agency may withhold the name(s) of the complaining party if, in the sole opinion of the Regulatory Agency, such party could be subject to retaliation. The Regulatory Agency may seek to achieve an informal settlement or correction of the alleged violation, if such violation is a first-time occurrence or a lesser offense as solely determined by the Regulatory Agency. If the Regulatory Agency determines that an informal settlement or correction is not applicable, the Regulatory Agency shall issue a formal written notice of non-compliance to said person, which shall also advise the person of the violation, the civil penalty the Regulatory Agency is assessing, the deadline for compliance and/or payment of the civil penalty, and the person's right to request a hearing as provided herein.

Such notice shall provide the person with a reasonable time to comply, determined solely by the Regulatory Agency, which in no event shall be less than five (5) days from the date of receipt of such notice, unless the Regulatory Agency has reason to believe irreparable harm will occur during that period, in which case the Regulatory Agency may require that compliance occur within fewer than five days.

If the person fails or refuses to comply and does not request a hearing, the Regulatory Agency may proceed pursuant to Section 501(f).

(d) Bond during Pendency of Proceedings. If the entity requests a hearing pursuant to Section 501(c) herein, and the Regulatory Agency has good cause to believe that there is a danger that the person requesting the hearing will remove itself or its property from the jurisdiction of the Nation prior to the hearing, the Regulatory Agency may, in its sole discretion, require the person to post a bond with the Regulatory Agency in an amount sufficient to cover possible monetary damages that may be assessed against the person at the hearing. If the person fails or refuses to post said bond, the Regulatory Agency may proceed pursuant to Section 501(f). The Regulatory Agency may also petition the Nation's District Court for such interim and injunctive relief as is appropriate to protect the rights of the Regulatory Agency and other parties during the pendency of the complaint and hearing proceedings.

(e) Conduct of Hearings. Any hearing held pursuant to Section 501 herein shall be conducted by the Regulatory Agency. Hearings shall be governed by the following rules or procedure:

- (1) All parties may present testimony of witnesses and other evidence and be represented by counsel at their expense.

- (9) The Regulatory Agency shall notify all parties within thirty (30) days after the date of the last hearing of its decision in the matter.
- (10) No stenographic record of the proceedings and testimony shall be required except upon arrangement by, and at the cost of the person requesting the hearing, but subject to prior approval by the Regulatory Agency.

(f) Remedies upon Determination of Violation. If, after the hearing, the Regulatory Agency determines that the alleged violation occurred and that the party charged has no adequate defense in law or fact, or if no hearing is requested, the Regulatory Agency may:

- (1) Deny such party the right to commence business within the territorial jurisdiction of the Seminole Nation;

- (2) Suspend such party's operation within the territorial jurisdiction of the Seminole Nation;

(g) Regulatory Agency Decision; Protection. The Regulatory Agency's decision shall be in writing, shall be served on the charged party by registered mail or in person no later than thirty days after the close of the hearing provided in Section 501(e). Where the party's failure to comply immediately with the Regulatory Agency's orders may cause irreparable harm, the Regulatory Agency may move the Nation's District Court, and the District Court shall grant, such injunctive relief as necessary to preserve the Nation's rights, pending the party's appeal or expiration of the time for appeal.

[History: Enacted by TO-2014-05, June 7, 2014.]

(c) Standard of Review. The Nation's District Court shall uphold the decision of the Regulatory Agency unless it is demonstrated that the decision of the Regulatory Agency is arbitrary, capricious or in excess of the authority of the Regulatory Agency.

(d) Reversal on Appeal. If the order of the Regulatory Agency is reversed or modified, the Court shall by its mandate specifically direct the Regulatory Agency as to further action in the matter, including making and entering any order or orders in connection therewith and the limitations, or conditions to be contained therein.

(e) Enforcement of Regulatory Agency Order. If the Regulatory Agency's order is upheld on appeal, or if no appeal is sought within twenty (20) days from the date of the party's receipt of the Regulatory Agency's order, the Regulatory Agency shall petition the Nation's District Court and such Court shall grant such orders as are necessary and appropriate to enforce the orders of the Regulatory Agency and the civil penalties and/or sanctions imposed by it.

TITLE 35
SEMINOLE HEMP CULTIVATION REGULATORY CODE

CHAPTER ONE
GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 101. Findings

As provided in Section 297(B)(a)(1) of the Agriculture Improvement Act of 2018 (the “Farm Bill”), an “Indian tribe desiring to have primary regulatory authority over the production of hemp in the... territory of the Indian tribe shall submit to the Secretary [of Agriculture], through the... Tribal government... a plan under which the... Indian tribe monitors and regulates that production as described in paragraph (2). In that regard, the General Council of the Seminole Nation of Oklahoma, a federally-recognized Indian Tribe, the primary governing body of the Nation, finds:

- (a) the Nation desires to exercise primary regulatory authority over Hemp Cultivation within the Nation’s jurisdiction pursuant to Tribal law and applicable federal law;
- (b) the Nation desires to expedite the development of the Nation’s economy in order to improve the Nation’s economic self-sufficiency by enabling the Nation to better serve the social, economic, educational, and health and safety needs of its members and visitors;
- (c) Hemp Cultivation is a legitimate means of generating revenue to pursue the Nation’s goals of self-sufficiency and self-determination;
- (d) the Nation has the legal authority to license and regulate Hemp Cultivation within its jurisdiction; and
- (e) regulation and control of Hemp Cultivation within the jurisdiction of the Nation is essential for the protection of the public welfare.

[HISTORY: Enacted by TO 20-11, September 5, 2020.]

Section 102. Intent

The General Council, on behalf of the Nation, declares the intent of Title 35 is to:

- (a) diversify and expedite the development of the economy of the Nation for the purposes described above; and
- (b) define general regulatory powers to be exercised by the Seminole Hemp Commission in relation to the regulation, control, and oversight of Hemp Cultivation.

Section 103. Definitions

“Acceptable Hemp THC Level” means when a laboratory tests a sample, it must report the delta-9 tetrahydrocannabinol content concentration level on a dry weight basis and the measurement of uncertainty. The Acceptable Hemp THC Level for the purpose of compliance with the requirements of this hemp plan is when the application of the measurement of uncertainty to the reported delta-9 tetrahydrocannabinol content concentration level on a dry weight basis produces a distribution or range that includes 0.3% or less. For example, if the reported delta-9 tetrahydrocannabinol content concentration level on a dry weight basis is 0.45% and the measurement of uncertainty is +/-0.06%, the measured delta-9 tetrahydrocannabinol content concentration level on a dry weight basis for this sample ranges from 0.29% to 0.41%. Because 0.3% is within the distribution or range, the sample is within the Acceptable Hemp THC Level for the purpose of compliance. This definition of Acceptable Hemp THC Level affects neither the statutory definition of hemp, 7 U.S.C. 1639o(1), in the 2018 Farm Bill nor the definition of “marihuana,” 21 U.S.C. 802(16), in the Controlled Substances Act.

“AMS” means the United States Department of Agriculture Agricultural Marketing Service.

“Applicant” means any person who has applied for a License under the provisions of this Code.

“Chief” means the Chief of the Seminole Nation of Oklahoma.

“Commission” means the Seminole Hemp Commission, created and established by the General Council and charged with the implementation and enforcement of Title 35.

“DEA” means the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration.

“Dry Weight Basis” means the ratio of the amount of moisture in a sample to the amount of dry solid in a sample. A basis for expressing the percentage of a chemical in a substance after removing the moisture from the substance.

“FSA” means the United States Department of Agriculture Farm Service Agency.

“General Council” means the General Council of the Seminole Nation of Oklahoma.

“Hemp” means the plant Cannabis sativa L. and any part of that plant, whether growing or not, including the seeds thereof and all derivatives, extracts, cannabinoids, isomers, acids, salts, and salts of isomers, whether growing or not, with a delta-9 tetrahydrocannabinol concentration of not more than three-tenths of one percent (0.3%) on a dry weight basis.

“Key Participant” is a person who have a direct or indirect financial interest in the entity producing Hemp, such as an owner or partner in a partnership. A Key Participant also includes persons in a corporate entity at executive levels including chief executive officer, chief operating officer and chief financial officer. This does not include management as farm, field or shift managers.

“License” means the official and legal privilege and authority, granted by the Commission to a Licensee to conduct Hemp Cultivation.

“Lot” means a contiguous area in a field, greenhouse, or indoor growing structure containing the same variety or strain of cannabis throughout. In addition, “Lot” is a common term in agriculture that refers to the batch or contiguous, homogeneous whole of a product being sold to a single buyer at a single time. Under the terms of this plan, “Lot” is to be defined by the Licensee in terms of farm location, field acreage, and variety (i.e., cultivar) and to be reported as such to the FSA.

“Plant” means all parts of the plant Cannabis Sativa L., whether growing or not; the seeds thereof; the resin extracted from any part of such plant; and every compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, mixture, or preparation of such plant, its seeds or resin. Such term does not include the mature stalks of such plant, fiber produced from such stalks, oil or cake made from the seeds of such plant, any other compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, mixture, or preparation of such mature stalks (except the resin extracted therefrom), fiber, oil, or cake, or the sterilized seed of such plant which is incapable of germination.
